Foreword

As year follows year, Sixth Forms mature and depart, and a new volume of the DIAL commemorates them. But each DIAL is different in a way that characterizes the graduating class. This DIAL, then, attempts to preserve the presence of the Class of 1961, and yet represent the school for the rest of its members.

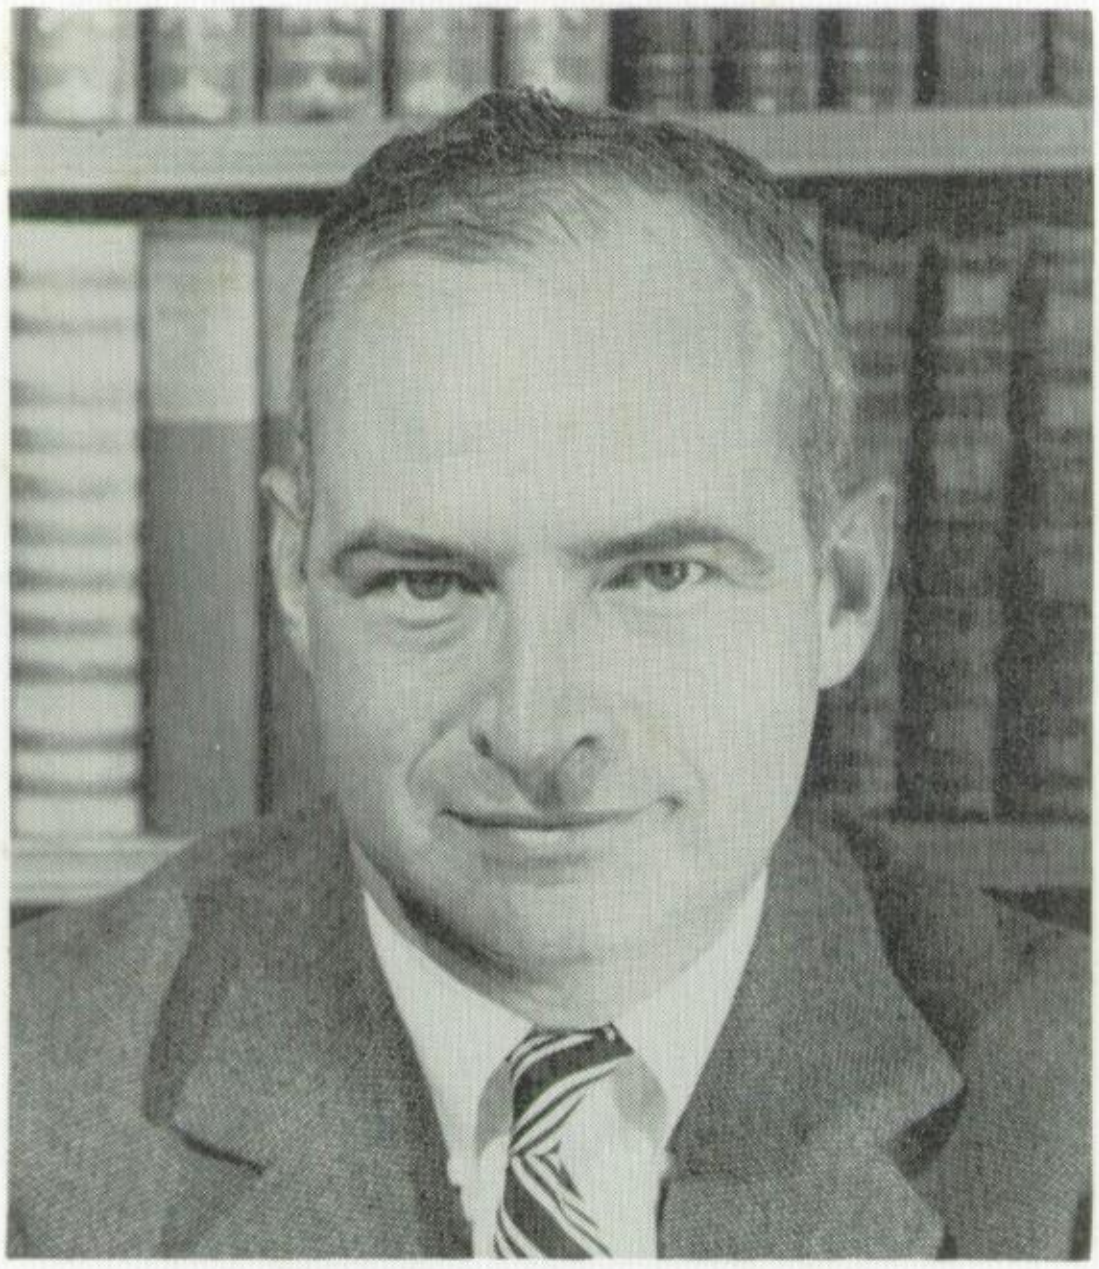
In honoring a guide and good friend of the Class of 1961, one name became quite clear to us. Actually it was obvious, and we dedicate the 1961 DIAL to

ROBERT H. MORGAN



Mr. Edward T. Hall, A.B., M.A.
Headmaster of The Hill

To the Class of 1961:

I can hardly hope that anything I might say on this page will be new to the Class of 1961, which has listened to me patiently and quite tolerantly for several years. You have been warned, cajoled, and counselled as you may never have been before and probably never will be again. And this is as it should be, because you will be called upon more and more in the future for independent and unsupervised action.

But let us not make the mistake of pretending that you have not already had experience of independence. You have been making your own decisions for some time now. The only difference between life at school and in college is that from now on the decisions you make will receive fewer comments and criticisms from your elders. What we hope you will take with you, apart from your diplomas and a strong secondary education, is the ability to make these decisions with courage, objectivity, judgment, and insight.

We who have worked with you are confident of your future. The word "success" has received harsh treatment at the hands of social critics; so instead of "success" I shall merely wish you all possible happiness. And I hope that each of you knows that we who remain at The Hill are deeply interested in you and hopeful that our relationships will continue and ripen in the years ahead.

THE HILL SCHOOL

Sixth Form History

IT WAS dim and still except for the regular creaking of the stairs which echoed down the hall. He was coming down again, coming down to go beyond that heavy oak door into the other world. The footsteps halted in front of the door; the key clicked in the lock. A low groan broke the silence as the door swung open. Here they were once again, the treasures of the past, confiscated and stored in this room, now brought to the dim present. The Dean walked in, satisfied, gloating, looking to the left at the rows of filing cabinets which held records of all that had happened to the class of 1961 at The Hill. To the right were piles of confiscated contraband and accumulations of forbidden articles which also told the story of this class.

There was the bucket in which Ayer carried water to wash out the gutters of Hillside in his Second Form year. The gutters were popular that year; Benkwith and Grantham made nightly sorties in them to steal food from Whitehead and Vest. Gabel, Bollman, and "Okie" Stowell were amusing themselves with the squirrels and initiating "after lights" fights with Beard, Warnock, and Snowden. That stack of scissors and clippers were from Whitehead's free haircut in the Day Boy Room (a precedent which was to be repeated in the next five years). The Cottage sheltered Vermilye, MacGregor, and Doerr, who was always complaining about something (that year it was Third Formers writing to his girl). Bo Day and Meagher existed unaware of their eventual fate.

Those firecrackers and skyrockets in the corner were taken from Stowell in his Third Form year. He used to produce fireworks displays over High Street to entertain the other Old Boys on Main. Grantham, Vest, Benkwith, and Ayer limbered up their throwing arms for those long shots down to High Street. Gabel and Bollman stopped up the drain on the balcony, giving some people a swim. Whitehead, soon to be known as the "45 Bullet," was busy keeping the boys out of his room.

Mr. George D. Senter, Advisor

In the more sophisticated Cottage, the New-boy socialites of the third floor, David McKown and Gillespie, made frequent calls on T. A. Bliss christened a master with a can of water from the second floor. Tim Wilson and Bob Yoder, another happy pair, proved their compatibility as one tried to study and the other wanted to see how long he could wear the same clothes. Lewis and McClave kept the carpenters busy fixing holes in the wall. Bruton disappeared for several hours one evening when his room was smoke-bombed, only to turn up in the closet. On the first floor, Salena provided weekly entertainment on Mr. Tyrer's night out. Trying to start a radio station, T. H. Gale borrowed his prefect's radio and connected speakers to all the rooms on the first floor.

While Baker and Ripple gave "Red-Neck" Sam a hard time in Founders, Jerome, Stolz, Vermilye, and Meagher cringed under the iron rule of Mr. Hecker.

Beard and Snowden ruled Hillrise for the first two weeks but were soon overthrown by the prefects. Besides provoking daily fights with Puritan Al Rivera, "Lolly" Tice unwillingly gave up his Mexican postcard to the Dean and Mr. Brown. Meek Geof Hewitt, in a bid to replace brains and physique with mouth, soon talked his way out of Hillrise. On the second floor, "Tex" Gibbons, small in body but big in heart, went after Mr. Brown after flattening prefect Leckonby. Kuehn kept cool with his "hair tonic." Cast-off Dan Davisson soon made a hit with his banjo-playing; Marr of Olde Rolfe began his four-year search for friends. The climax of their fighting career came at the end of the year, when the class of '61 took on the Fourth Form on a sunny afternoon at the Dell.

SIXTH FORM COMMITTEE

At the beginning of the Fourth Form year, another wave of Newboys descended on The Hill. At a Pep Rally in the fall, Fred Roberts and the Piston Riders almost made a run in the Dell. Tice and Harkness began their battle with Mr. Dewey on 3 West. On 2 West, new-boy Charters demonstrated his literary talents by producing his own Playboy magazine. Bliss, Davisson, Sylvester, and Rivera found Dr. Groten's hall feeds a little too scarce, and the "Light Bulbs" on the hall were constantly shorted out by tears. The boys showed their appreciation by giving a 24-door salute; the Doctor reciprocated by handing out ten demerits to every boy on the hall. Doctor Groten next found a "mouse" on the hall and ordered its removal. Hamilton brought it back to the hall in his underpants. The calm of 3 East was shattered as Gibbons failed in a dart attempt on Mr. Eddy's life. Pore and McKown used glasses to tune in on the night show on WDEWS. The day boy room saw its second haircut as Gibbons, McClave, McIlvain, Harkness, and Gale trimmed Seto. "Boogie" Hall followed Kuehn's lead and tricked Forbes and Gale into joining the I. D. card racket. An annex to the Pipe Club was set up on 3 West by Baker and Escobado, and it kept Mr. Dewey awake at nights. In the final swimming meet of the year, J. P. Smith made a fine showing, "butt" was unable to help The Hill relay team win. At the end of this most frantic year this form experienced, paragon of virtue, Thomas B. S. Godfrey, Jr., lay aside his bow and arrows to join the rest of the boys leaving The Hill. None, however, was quick enough to catch the fleeing Ralston, who left to preserve his health.

Forbes, determined to make a name for himself around the school, after he returned, found that he was not enrolled and enlisted the aid of Harkness in testing the efficiency and alertness of the night watchman, who never could find the elusive burglar of 5 U.S. The third floor bulletin board began taking on more than the usual notices and by the end of the year, it was obvious to everyone that even a CAB couldn't get into trouble if it didn't blow its horn. Guild and Freiden began the intercom craze which eventually spread through the entire flats. Johnson began to lose rugs from his fifth floor storage room. Mr. Caslon gave a short answer quiz which Jerome foiled despite the brevity of his answer. Charters and Scott deserted Wendell Dormitory to take in the late, late show in Kuehn's fifth floor television room. Hall and Roberts faked sickness to stretch their spring vacations a week. Stowell, the Davy Crockett of the second floor, soon solved the pigeon nuisance with his air pistol. Zigi and Whitehead seemed to enjoy their hard cider, even after Benkwith, Charters, and Baker spiked it.

PREFECTS

FIVE YEAR CLUB

"Glynne," who later turned out to be Baker, was interrupted in the midst of a midnight repair job on the Upper School bell system by the night watchman. During the spring term dance, the form had a water party on the fifth floor, but the party soon moved to the Sixth Form side where Van Noppen received a bath, and Vineburg paid with his mattress.

In Wendell, Zuegner and Hewitt bombed the help's house, and their efforts were soon rewarded when it disappeared from the campus. On Mr. Mercer's hall, the boys gave their hallmaster a piranha to clean out his fish bowl. As the terms went by, it looked like this was going to be the dullest year yet for the class of 1961. On the last night of the school year, however, everything from light bulbs to fire extinguishers rained down on the road behind Upper School, in a fitting farewell to The Hill.

The dean pushed up his eye glasses, thought about this form, and decided that it was the most trouble-causing in his career. He opened the heavy door, took one last glance at the pile of contraband, then slammed it, and returned to his office.

Fifth Form

THIS year's Fifth Form contributed much to the various activities of The Hill. The class of '62 has showed itself to be a well-rounded group, both academically and athletically. Its members who consistently achieved 2.0's or better were Francis Conway, Chalmers Ensminger, Randy Folks, Randy Howe, John Mason, Cliff Shedd, and Jim Kobak.

The fall term elections placed Caleb Loring as president of the Form, Cliff Shedd as vice-president, and Pres Layton as secretary-treasurer. In the winter term, the form elected Pres Layton as president, Caleb Loring as vice-president, and Cliff Shedd became secretary-treasurer. These officers represented the class in the Student Council.

The class of '62 proved its ability in the field of sports. On the Dell football field, captain-elect Jonathan Colby, Pete Bassett, Fred Bingham, Mike Dawes, Pat Tone, Chris Wick, Ray Ellars, John Groener, Chalmers Ensminger, Ed Fenstermacher, and Roger Olesen earned the Major "H" award, composing a formidable nucleus for next year's team. Meanwhile, on the soccer field, the Fifth Form was strongly represented by Dan Boyer, Gerry Frank, Randy Howe, and next year's captain, Bob Abbott. Receiving J.V. awards were Randy Folks, Cliff Gunst, Bob Harper, Dave Hinshaw, George Klints, Jack Marr, Tom Mather, George Petersen, John Potter, and Tony Wolbarst. Earning a varsity letter on Mr. Little's cross-country team were Richard Haggott, Caleb Loring, Frank Baker, and captain-elect Pres Layton; while Bill Hauser and Art Haigh received J.V. awards.

Mr. Philip Mylecraine, Advisor

As the Fall Term drew to a close, and the Winter Term and the cold weather set in, Fifth Form participation in athletics increased. On the ice Pat Tone, Robert Zolto, Gerry Frank, Caleb Loring, Chris Brown, and Robin Cooke represented the form. Aiding the varsity wrestling team were Bob Harper, Jim Patterson, Dave Castor, Roger Olesen, and Chris Wick. Helping to maintain the excellent record of the J.V. team were Ed Fenstermacher, Fred Bingham, Jim Daniels, and John Lotz. The varsity swimming team was ably supported by Bill Fryberger, Sandy Van Kennen, Sid Furst, Ray Ellars, Tony Doll, Richard Haggott, Yank Brame, and Gibbs, while Pharr, Huyck, O'Brien, and Coughlin were active for the J.V. Brame, in the first meet of the season, bettered the old school butterfly record by four tenths of a second with a 1:00.6 clocking. The class contributed much to the squash team, as five Fifth Formers won starting positions. These and others were Donald Booth, Haydn Silleck, Ed Moffett, Tuck Amory, Bob Dryfoos, and Dana Lee. Lewis Thompson, Frank Baker, Peter Lawler, and Pres Layton competed for the winter track team, while Bill Mellick, Hamilton Leach, Chalmers Ensminger, Cliff Shedd, Dan Boyer, Jeff Willis, Steve Kizer, and Kent Titus helped the basketball team through a successful season.

Besides participation on the athletic fields and high academic success, the class was active in many extra-curricular organizations. Regular actors for the Dramatic Club were Jacques Vroom, Dick Coughlin, Pres Layton, George Petersen, and Pat Tone. Prominent debaters included Randy Howe, Ralph Angulo, Charlie Eldredge, John Townley, and Baron Holmes. Participation in the Glee Club was high, and Bruce Cameron, Bert Harbison, and Gerry Frank sang for the Hilltones. Cliff Shedd held a position on the Dial Board, while James Mitchell, Wally Pharr, and Jim Weiskopf held board positions on the News. Many other Fifth Formers also worked on these publications.

This year's Fifth Form Committee was elected from last year's entire Fourth Form, and, consisting of Peter Bassett, Bob Abbott, Fred Bingham, Charlie Gibbs, Chris Wick, Frank Orban, Tom O'Brien, Pres Layton, Caleb Loring, Tony Doll, and Cliff Shedd, met often to discuss disciplinary problems and such affairs as the dances and the Co-op. The Committeemen relieve much of the burden carried by the hallmasters, and on the halls perform duties such as the bed check and "lights-out." Mr. Mylecraine worked closely with the Committee since replacing Mr. Mercer as the form advisor.

Fourth Form

WELL, the fourth form this year was not too terrific or sensational, but it is some compensation to know that next year's will be worse. Although they did not appear on the honor roll in great numbers, the members of the class were active in numerous exciting school functions. In the fall term, Steve Griffith, George Rollins, Nick Roggeveen, Jack Harris, and Phil Miller received varsity letters at no extra cost, and the far fields and J. V. teams prophetically contained many enthusiastic fourth formers, and some who were not so enthusiastic, and some who were just lousy, etc. Alan Rose returned to the varsity swimming team and broke the school record in the 200 yard individual medley. J. Henry Scatterwell and Terry Clough, both of whom are in Charlie Powers' biology lab, also swam for the varsity this year, and Mickey Amick was a member of the varsity hockey team. In the spring, Trip O'Donnel was again on the varsity golf team. The fourth form had great representatives, as usual, in the glee club, the debating club, and the gun club. Moreover, many fourth formers made successful and active showings in the OUTING CLUB with Mr. Hopkins, who has Russ Drowne in one of his English classes, at various meals, at the movies, and in the dean's office. After the first great snowfall, Kelly English managed to make a hit with Bucky although he was a pain in the neck.

The fourth form is proud of its heritage: many prominent alumni were once members of it. This year's class was inspired in the fall term by its officers, Miller, who is on the same hall as Hess Carroll, Titus, and Mersereau, and in the winter term by Griffith, who was a teammate of Jimmy Bingham on winter track, Miller, and Wayne B. Titus.

Although we don't have cap guns, yo-yos, or kites yet, one of the year's highlights, with some exceptions, was the privilege of phonographs. However, Sherman Farnham, a new member of the form, didn't enjoy his phonograph as much as some of the others. Furthermore, Middle School was sufficiently brightened by the radiant presence of Mrs. D. on 3 East and Gladys on 2 East. Gladys had a certain dignity approached by no other maid, and, especially, she had good manners; she said hello and good-bye, and when she found dead things lying around, she buried them. Furthermore, the prefects in the dorms were all wonderful, weren't they? With three or seven exceptions, they were tolerable and only mildly abominable.

Second and Third Forms

THE Second and Third Forms began the Fall and Winter Terms with a fine showing in both athletic and scholastic work; a showing which indicates great promise for the forms' future years at The Hill. In the Fall Term, twelve boys made the Third Form First Honor Roll: Tom Evans, Tim Howell, Bill Harris, Sam Gray, Manuel Galdo, Bob Hamilton, Bob Kennedy, Charlie Milner, Steve Toth, Sandy Warner, Bill Stone, and Harry Shaw. There were four boys in the Second Form who made the First Honor Roll. These were Lindsay Holland, Dan Pettigrew, Bob Morgan, and Tim Vachon. In sports, Bob Williams led the Third Form by receiving a J. V. letter for his excellent running on the cross-country team. In the Far Field sports there were many who showed ability and potential, making them likely choices for varsity teams in the ensuing years. In football, the Third Form was represented especially well by Stod Melhado, Eric Spahr, Bill Vogel, Stew Baker, Milt Dillon, Sandy Warner, John Gardner, Mal Berman, Bob Ruggiero, and Charlie Sellon. In soccer, Brad Oliver, Steve Herasimchuk, John Robinson, Jack Niethammer, and Manuel Galdo were among the outstanding players.

The Winter Term began with two Third Formers making a J.V. team. Ollie Transue and Steve Rowles made the J. V. swimming team, and they promise to be excellent contenders for the varsity in coming years. Though Bert Kozloff and Charlie Milner failed to qualify for the J. V., they were both prominent junior swimmers. Mike Wick made great strides on the wrestling team, and Bill MacMillan made the J. V. squash team. Both of these boys were and will be valuable assets to their respective teams.

Mr. Ralph R. Richard, Advisor.

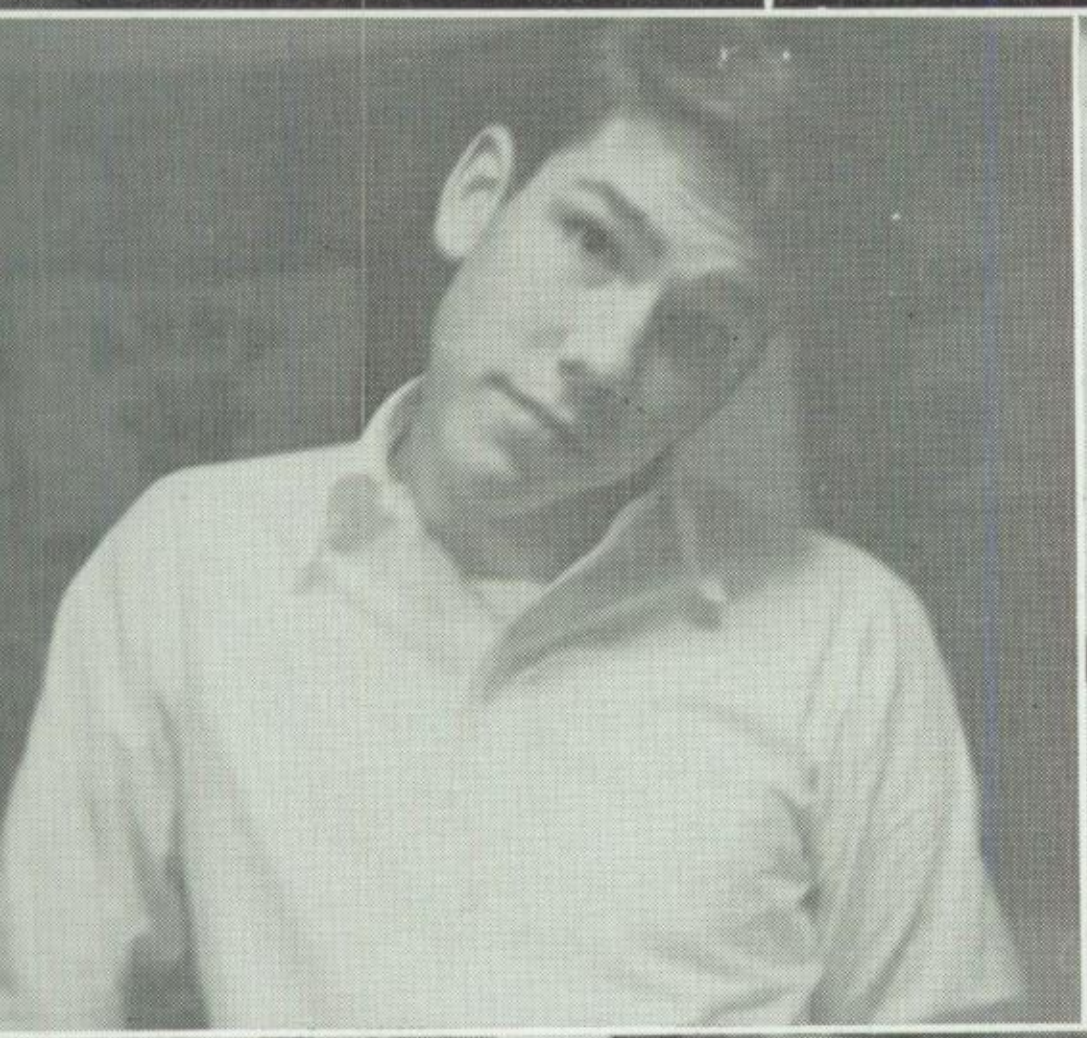
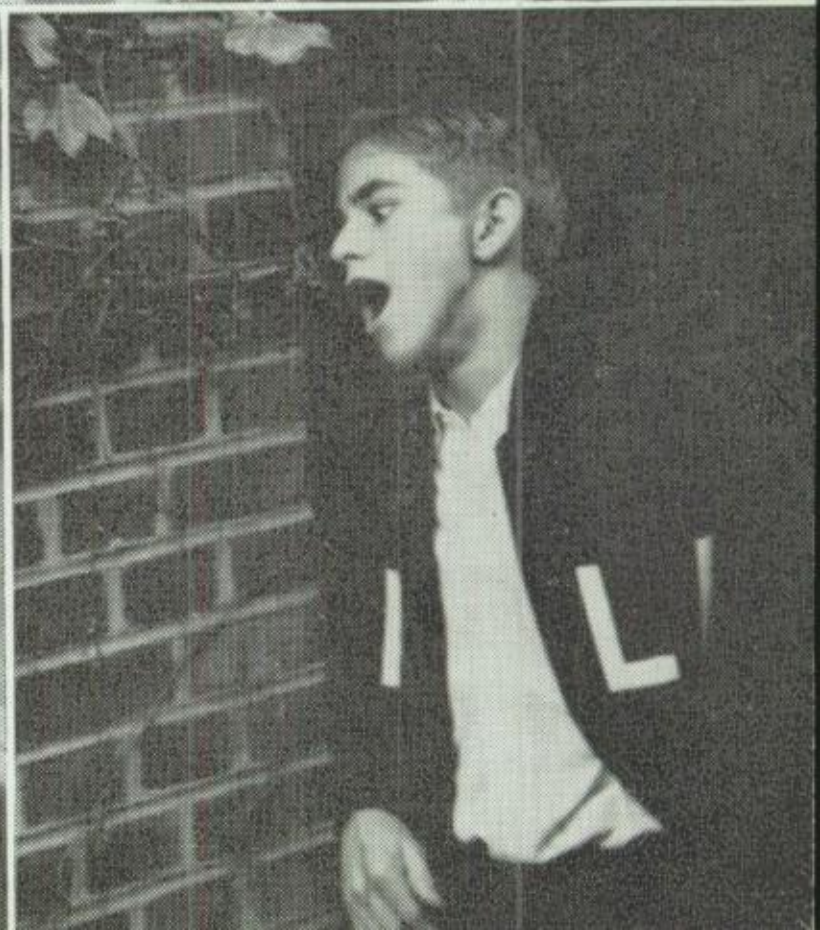
Extra-curricular activities brought to light many Second and Third Formers' names. Form elections saw Lindsay Holland appointed President of the Second Form for the Fall Term, and Toni Balis in the Winter Term. Wayne Ewing represented the Third Form in the Student Council.

The Third Form made many additions to the numerous clubs and organizations. Bill Musser and Jim Tyrrel joined the Debating Clubs, while Charlie Milner helped out as a stage hand for the Dramatics Club. Dave Leng, Bill Stone, Harry Shaw, and Tim Howell became writers for The News, and Bill Cosford became a prominent writer for the feature page of that organization. Harry Shaw, Jack Niethammer, Mike Wick, and Jeff Hill sang for the Glee Club. Many others, too numerous to mention, joined a wide range of organizations.

ETION





Student Council

THE 1960-61 school year saw the Student Council in its ninth year of existence. During its bi-weekly meetings in the Headmaster's Study, the sixteen-member committee tried to give the student body a voice in school affairs by having present elected representatives, either class officers or committemen, from each of the forms. Various campus problems and affairs, as usual, were brought up for discussion and solution this year. Presiding over each of the meetings was Sixth Form President, Dick Sylvester who filled the position of president. Bob McIlvain, Vice-President of the Sixth Form, served along with Caleb Loring to hold the offices of vice-president and secretary respectively. Mr. Hall and Mr. Senter, who is the Sixth Form advisor, were also present at all meetings and provided representation for the faculty when matters involving the faculty were discussed.

During the fall term, the Student Council faced many of its annual problems concerning campus appearance, preparations for the Lawrenceville contests, and several minor subjects. In connection with the Lawrenceville Weekend, after a vote of the Council, it was decided to reciprocate the gesture of post-game doughnuts and milk, which The Lawrenceville School had made last year to The Hill student body traveling there. Although the topic of making the Dell somewhat more scenic had come to the attention of the Council in previous years, the first actual step in bringing this about was begun during this fall. A water-and-grounds expert, after making a series of observations, advised the Council in a rather humorous letter, suiting its subject, that the Dell's appearance was not hopeless and that his firm would have the lake cleaned by the Spring Term. School attitude found itself as the topic of several meetings early in the year. The mind of the Council concluded that a healthy attitude toward team support and general School life should be set by the upper formers, who serve as examples to the rest of the student body. The possibility of special varsity weekends and other problems connected with varsity athletics also gained the attention of the Council's members. After a discussion, the special weekend idea was dropped, and it was decided that playing on a varsity team was in itself a privilege.

Toward the end of the Fall Term, when most of the Council's matters were complete, Mr. Hall took time to outline some of The Hill's background and to comment on the School's non-academic side and financial history. Following the last Trustees meeting of the term, Mr. Hall also unveiled to the Council the plans and drafts of the projected 1961-62 extension to the dining room. Before the Student Government closed its books and left for Christmas vacation, it saw that the suggestion of last year's Council to decorate Donner Hall and other parts of the campus was again carried out for the holidays.

At the first meeting of the Winter Term, the first problem to meet the sixteen Winter Term members was the practice of gift-giving to hallmasters at Christmas. Since this tradition had always been part of the School, but had, at times, gone to an extreme, the Council decided to set a three-dollar maximum per student for these presents. Looking back at the Lawrenceville Weekend, the officers suggested that the many visitors over future Lawrenceville Weekends should be better informed of the post-game refreshments in the gymnasium and Donner Hall. Another minor topic reached the floor at the Council's early Winter Term meetings, that of placing vending machines in the Co-op. Since the old way of running the Co-op was outmoded, the Council felt that the vending machines might be successful.

Probably, the greatest problems the Council attacked were the possibility of changing the grading system and of limiting the number of extra-curricular activities that a student could have. The grading system served as a topic of discussion carrying into the Spring Term, during which time the advantages and disadvantages of the present system were weighed and several substitute systems were reviewed. The various form representatives felt out the general opinion on the problem in their respective forms. The results of the discussions and inquiries then were available to be included in a report to the faculty. The suggestion of limiting extra-curricular activities among the students, which was prompted by a faculty survey showing that some students were overloaded with clubs, gained equal attention from the members of the Council. A plan for classifying organizations into "A" and "B" categories according to the time which they require came out of the meetings. Students would be permitted to join so many of the "A" and a maximum number of "B" clubs. Because the Council did not fully agree that such a plan should be begun, the problem was carried into the Spring Term, when it received further consideration.

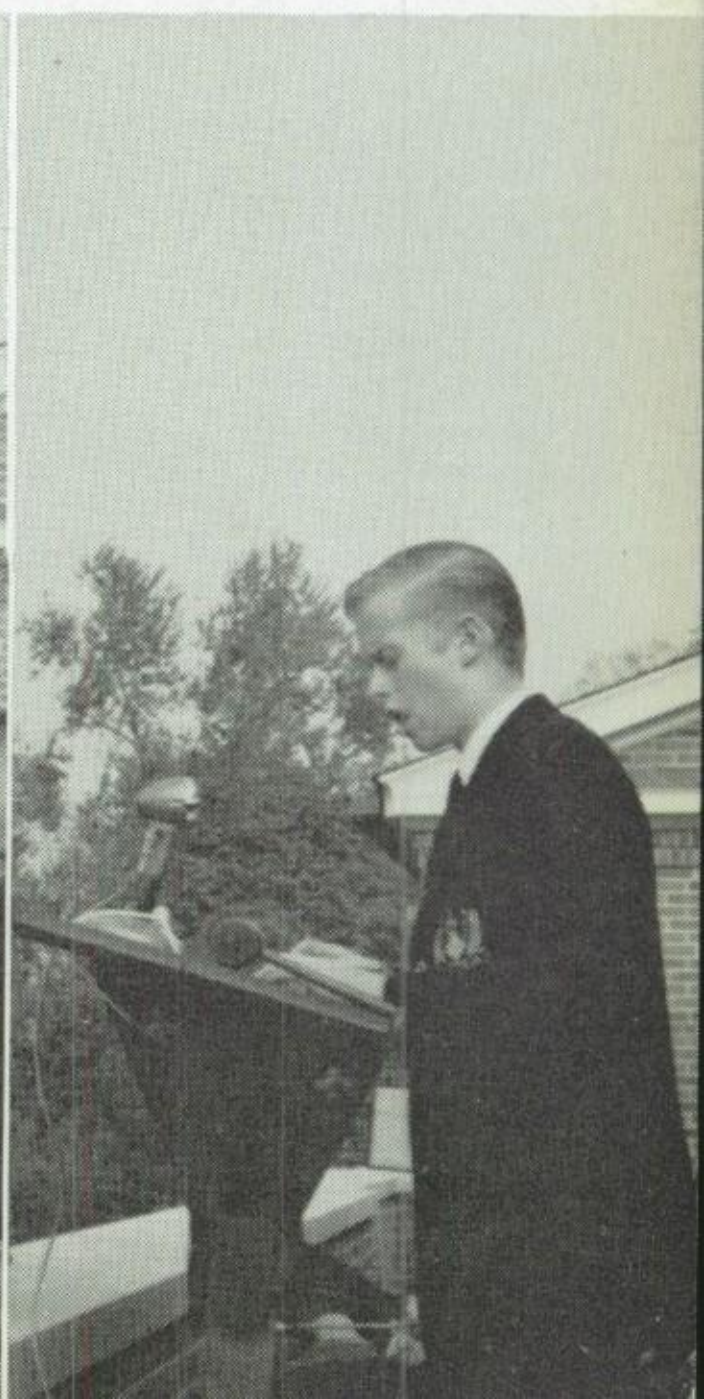
MOCK ELECTION

THE Mock Election of 1961, suggested and directed by Mr. Robert W. Herbert, became one of the most unusual and exciting features of the school year. Much of the enthusiasm devoted to it derived from the heat of the national campaign, but the local contest was not lacking in a certain unique color of its own. Ask the Donner Hall work job supervisor.

The Mock Election began officially at Morning Ex on Saturday, Oct. 8. Baird Tipson and Phil Wardwell, campaign monitors, explained the registration and voting procedure, and introduced Andy Rowles and Pete Harkness, campaign directors for the Democratic and Republican Parties. Both party leaders aroused considerable enthusiasm, although Harkness' special interpretation of the Republican "success" slogan gave the G.O.P. the initial advantage.

Rowles countered with a "mass" meeting in Mem Hall the next day, chose Mr. Whatley as advisor, Pat Robinson as treasurer, Chris Stowell as publicity director, and Geof Hewitt as rally chairman and general instigator. The Democrats, although an admitted minority, boldly aimed a propaganda broadside at the whole school to camouflage their real assault on the 100-odd registered Independents.



Harkness and Mr. Greene, the Republican advisor, organized a picked corps of 75 Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge on a hall basis. Carl Guild became publicity chairman. Larry Peterson, Bill Gibbons, and John Parlin served on an Executive Board which organized separate "action committees" on defense, labor, and foreign policy.

Posters, buttons, stickers, and hats appeared; the campaign in general and mailbox-stuffing in particular began. A letter from "Jackie" Kennedy provoked an answering telegram from Nixon. Republicans attended a youth rally in Pottstown, then held a rally of their own Oct. 16 on the soccer field, to the tune of campaign oratory and the Nixon-Lodge Band. Vehement political exhortations appeared in the NEWS and on WZAP; the two party leaders held a "great debate" over the school radio network, probing the issues of national economy, foreign policy, the U-2 incident, and the Quemoy-Matsu situation.

At length the day of reckoning arrived. From the Donner Hall polling booth, from the Infirmary, the ballots poured in. On Nov. 5, the next day, Dave Brownall and Zig Plater announced the results in Morning Ex. Despite last minute defections among the faculty wives, and a few write-in votes for Mr. Hall, the spirit of independent school conservatism prevailed, and the Republicans swept the election by a margin of 3 to 1.

A. A. COMMITTEE

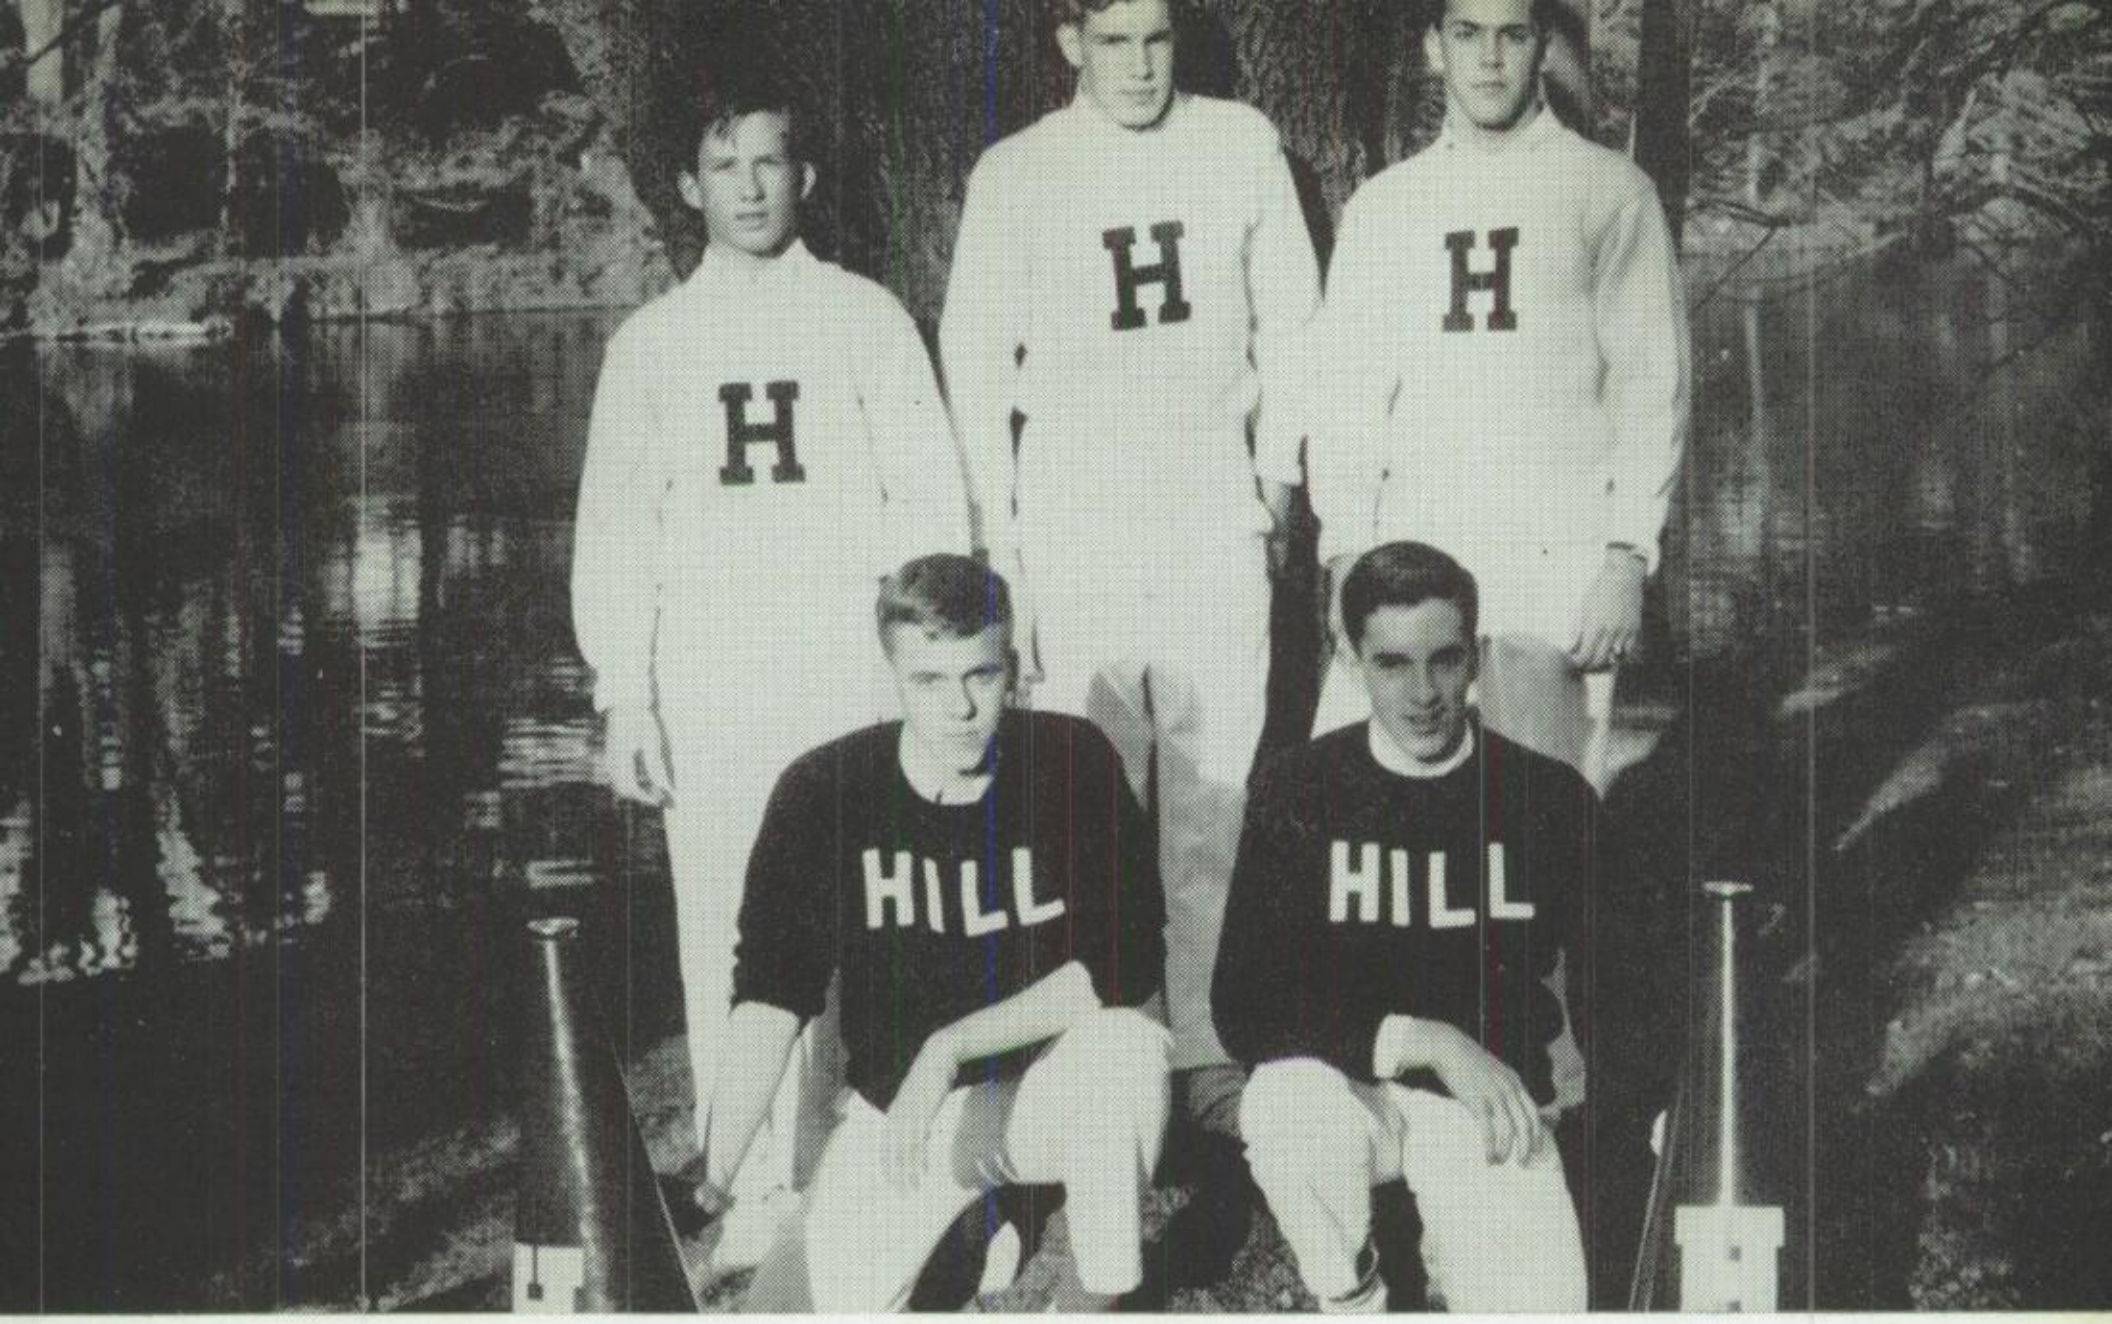
A. A. Committee

THIS year Mr. David Mercer replaced Mr. Stanley Ward, the retired Director of Athletics at The Hill, as head of the Athletic Association. Captains of varsity athletic squads are members of the Association, with this year's group including Bob McIlvain, cross country and track; Dick Sylvester, soccer and baseball; Steve Schaff, football; Larry Zuegner, hockey; Steve Bliss, swimming; Bruce Baker, basketball; Jamie Moffatt, wrestling; Marshall Wallach, tennis; Dave Mann, golf; and Ed Moffett, squash. The officers were McIlvain as president; Sylvester as vice-president; and Wallach as Secretary.

The most notable achievement of the 1961 Association was its revision of the athletic award system. First, it voted to abolish the "underform" varsity award. The varsity award is still a blue six inch blocked "H", but the junior varsity award has been changed to a blue four inch blocked "H", formerly the underform award. The Far Fields and junior letter became a white three inch blocked "H".

Another major issue was whether or not to establish squash as a varsity sport. After much consideration the Association decided that squash would remain a minor sport in its fourth year at The Hill.

The Athletic Association, with the Sixth Form Committee and the cheerleaders, also helped in the arrangements for the feeding and entertainment of the Lawrenceville student body in the Sweeny Gymnasium, following the fall term games. It was also responsible for the organization of the Lawrenceville pep rally.



CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders

THE cheerleaders, co-captained by Sam Gillespie and Jamie Moffatt, did much to heighten school spirit this year. Their enthusiastic support at the football and soccer games kept up the morale of the student body during discouraging moments, and they performed a valuable service to the school by ushering at swimming and wrestling meets during the Winter Term.

The group organized the major rallies in the fall. At the first one the coaches were introduced to the students en masse, and the cheerleaders generated a strong backing for the largely untried varsity teams. On the eve of the climactic Lawrenceville contests they rode all over the campus in the school truck, followed by the rest of the boys, klaxons, banners, and other extra-curricular noisemakers. The entire squad, consisting of the co-captains, Bob Yeager, John Hamilton, Geoff Hewitt, Tuck Amory, and Dana Lee, also journeyed to Peddie with forty members of the Sixth Form to cheer the teams on.

At the fall Lawrenceville games the cheerleaders were joined by a fuzzy white bear and a disreputable-looking L'ville cheerleader. The bear turned out to be Brian Jerome, while the misplaced cheerleader closely resembled Dan Davisson. With the Sixth Form, the squad introduced a unique cheer—"Repel them, repel them, make them relinquish the ball"! At the close of the football game the cheerleaders were instrumental in keeping order between the two schools for the "goodwill" entertainment and refreshments.

Football

THE 1960 varsity football team ended its season with two consecutive losses and an unimpressive record of three wins and four defeats. Although the record was mediocre, the team had consistently good spirit; it never stopped, and every week produced a sizable improvement.

The team played its first official game against the Haverford School. The contest was probably The Hill's worst effort of the season. After a fine first quarter during which Larry Tice scored the game's initial touchdown, the offense and defense disintegrated. Haverford tallied two touchdowns in the remainder of the first half and added another in the second to defeat The Hill, 18-6.

On the Friday following its loss to Haverford, the team travelled to Orange, Virginia to play Woodberry Forest School. The Hill started off in high spirits as Tice, Bixler, and Griffith took large chunks of Tiger territory. But the Blue and Grey got few breaks in contrast to the many for Woodberry, who scored twice in the first half. In the second half the Tigers again capitalized on Hill mistakes and tallied another pair of touchdowns. Unable to sustain a scoring thrust, The Hill lost 28-0; the game, however, was closer than the score indicated. The Hill defensive interior, composed of Colby, Captain Schaff, Roggeveen, Grantham, and T. H. Gale, shone in defeat.

Despite the two straight losses, The Hill kept its good morale and began a string of three victories with its win over Williamson Trade School the following week. The Williamson contest was a game of offensive lightning strokes and poor defense for the Blue and Grey. Bixler and Griffith provided the score in the first half, with Williamson tallying a single touchdown. The second half of the game showed very little action as neither team succeeded in launching a powerful attack. The following Saturday, in the Mercersburg contest, The Hill broke a 6-6 tie to win, 14-6. In the first quarter, Tice ripped through the line for a touchdown to put the Blue and Grey ahead, 6-0. But before the end of the half the visitors came back and scored, tieing the game. The Hill played poorly in the third quarter until the defense tightened and gave the team the incentive to come back with a fourth quarter touchdown for a 14-6 victory. Playing for the first time in three weeks, Peter Bassett, who had been out with a bad shoulder, excelled on offense and defense, scoring the winning touchdown and making some key tackles. The Hill's last victory saw the Blue and Grey come from a 6-0 first half deficit to a 26-6 triumph over Blair. The first half was poor, and only the playing of a few linemen kept The Hill in the contest. But, after a stirring half time talk by Coach Bissell, the team came back to wallop their Blairstown opponents. The second half, which saw tallies by Tice, Bixler, Bingham, and Griffith, featured the fine tackling of Stowell, Waasdorp, and Rollins and the excellent blocking of Groener, all of which netted twenty six points and the victory. Tice and Gale helped immeasurably, inspiring the team throughout the last half of the game.

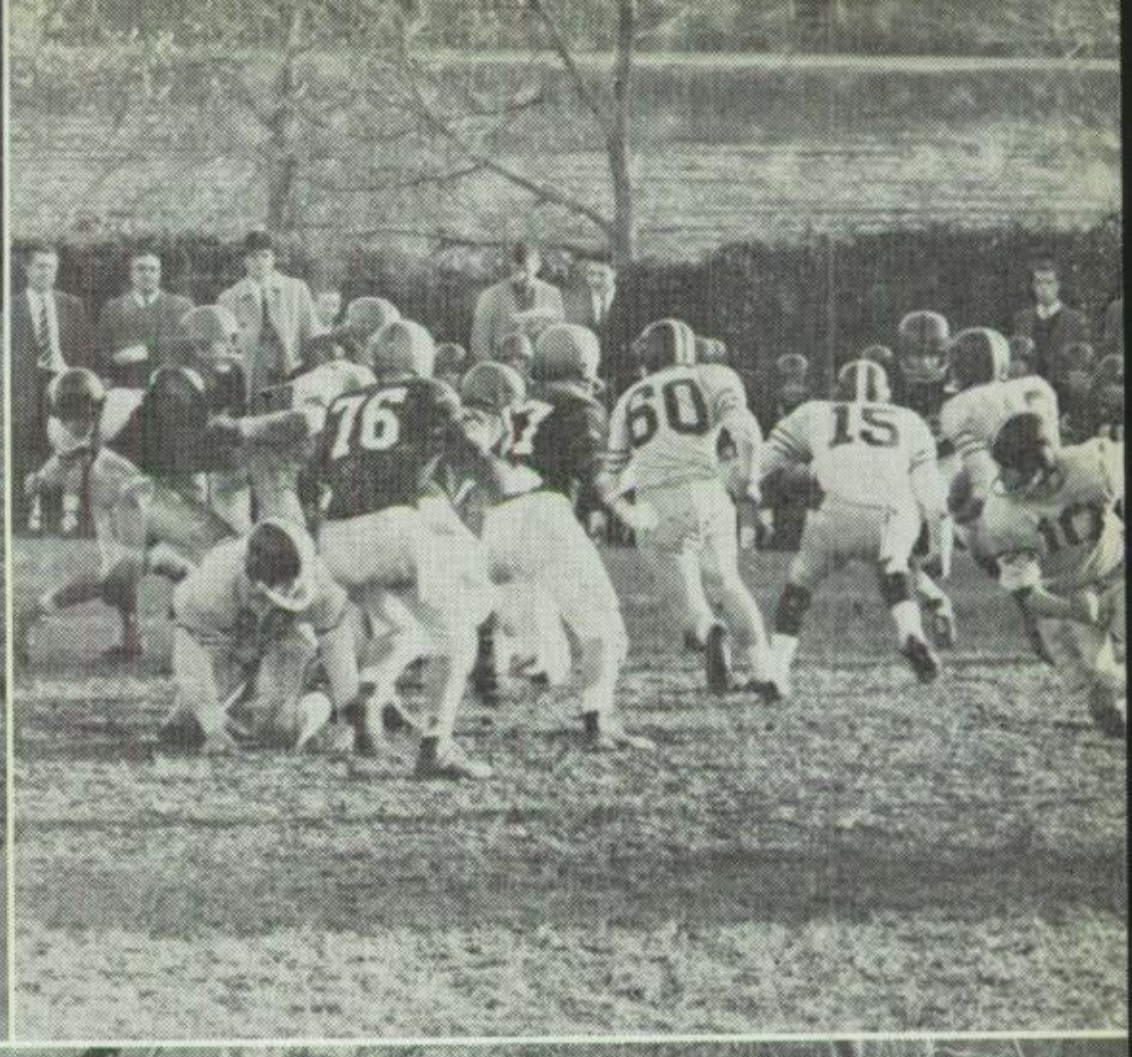
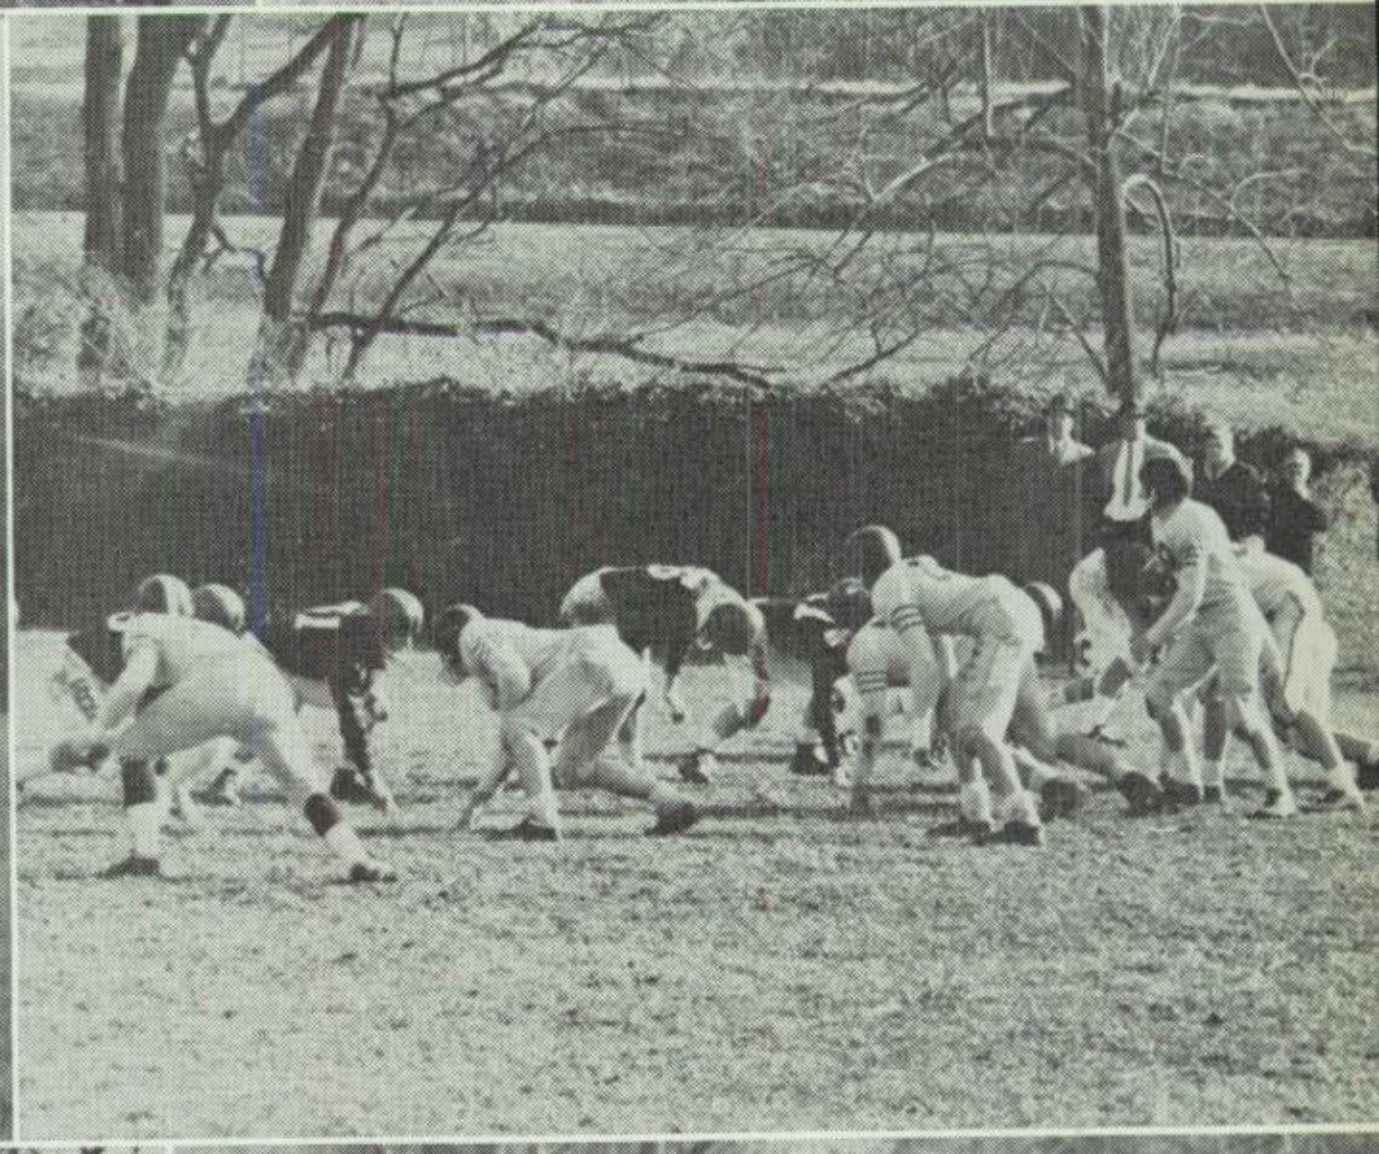
On the crest of the three game streak, The Hill met Peddie School and was defeated. In one of their finest team efforts of the season, the Blue and Grey actually outplayed the larger Peddie unit but could not stop a last period drive which gave Peddie a 13-6 victory. The fine tackling of Tice, the defensive play of Roggeveen, Ellars, and Purdy and Griffith's running led the generally good playing of the enthusiastic Hill team.

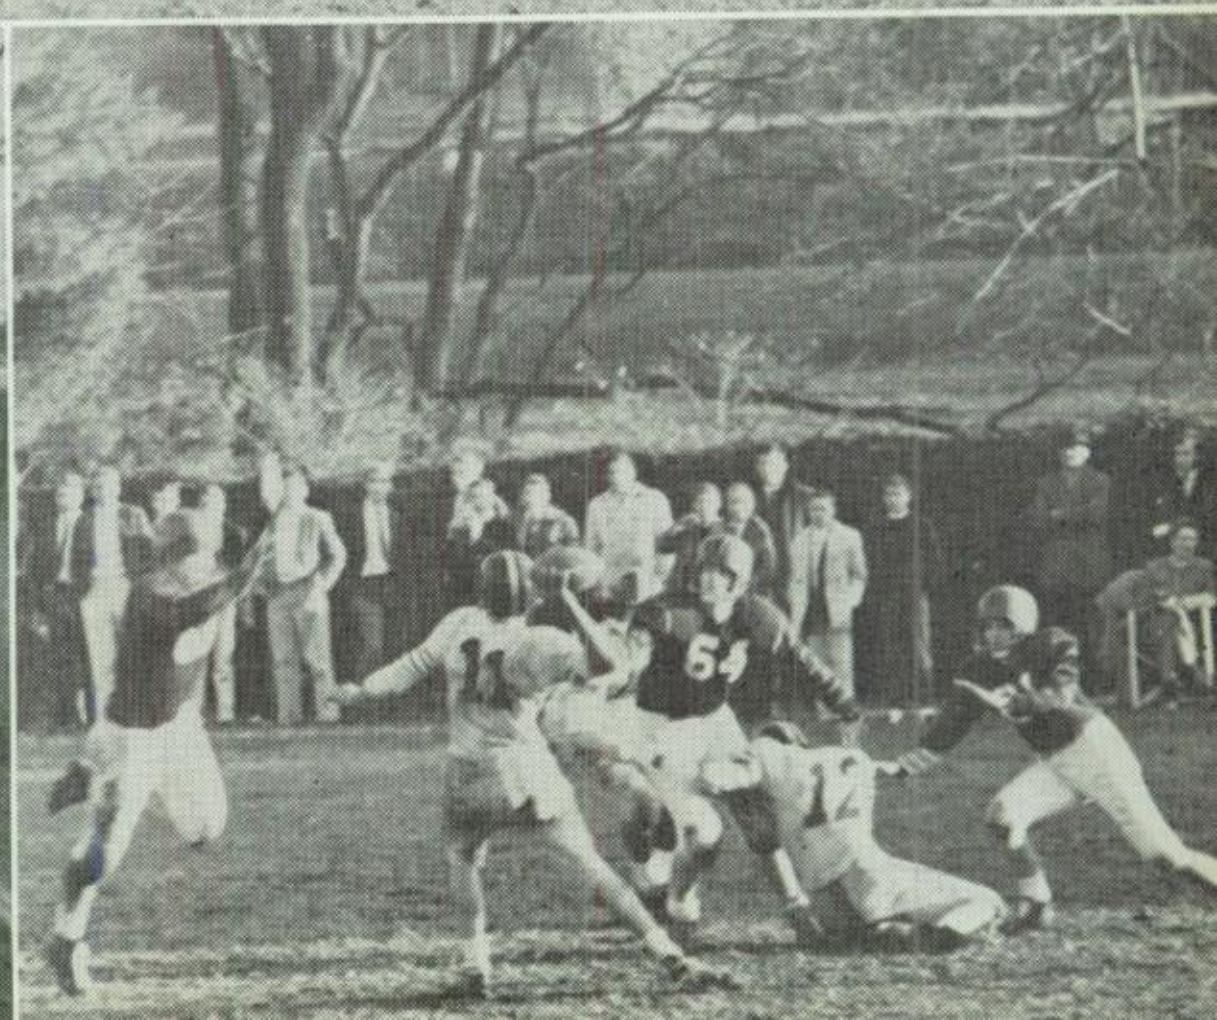
Playing at home, the Blue and Grey lost to a fine Lawrenceville unit, 36-6, as Lawrenceville's captain Frank Bunch figured in five touchdowns. The only score for the Hill came in the fourth quarter on a ten yard pass from Stowell.

Throughout the season, The Hill had the advantage of the fine coaching and inspiring leadership of Frank S. Bissell. Aided by assistant coaches, Brown and O'Shaughnessy, he molded the squad, which had only two returning lettermen from the team of 1959, into an aggressive and closely knit unit.

Of the twenty three lettermen, fourteen will return for the 1961 season. The 1961 squad will be headed by captain-elect Jonathan Colby, center and right guard for this year's team.







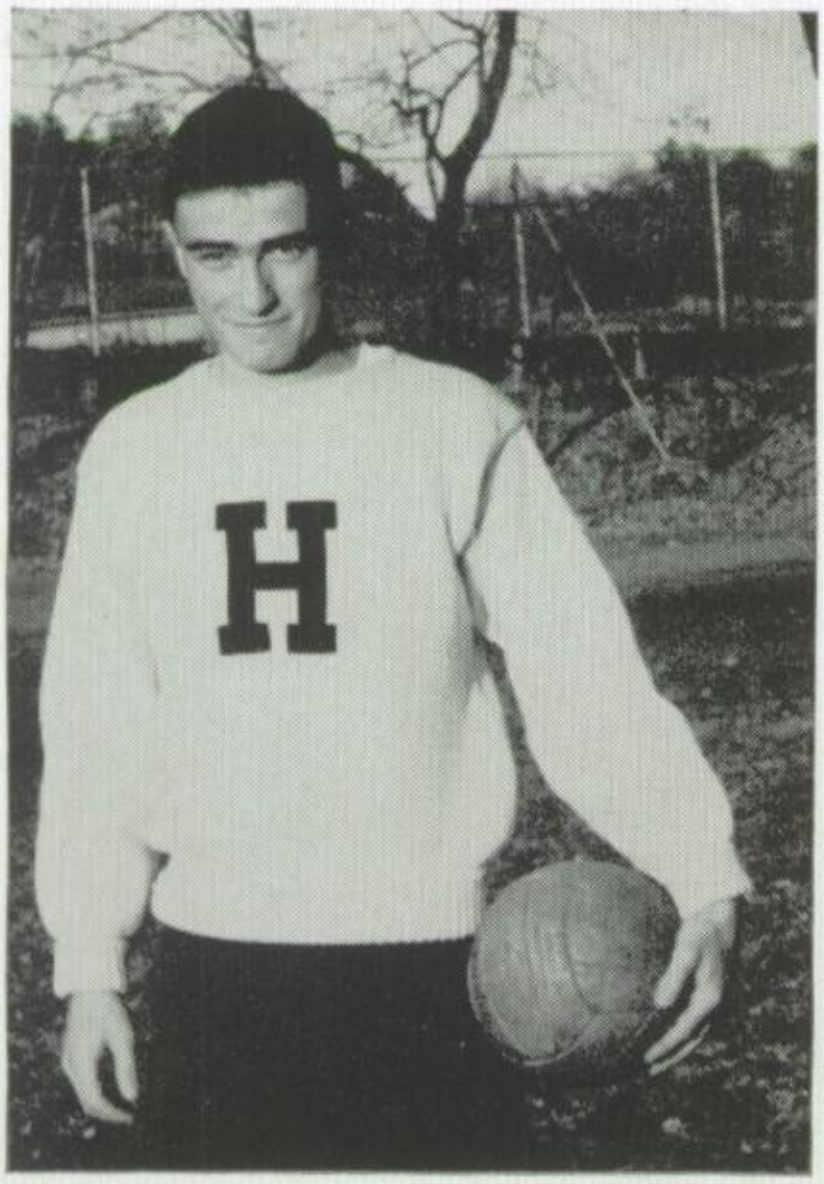
Soccer

LED by Captain Dick Sylvester and under the fine coaching of Mr. Morgan, The Hill School Soccer Team compiled a mediocre season record of seven wins, seven losses, and one tie. Having a difficult schedule which includes five college teams, the team cannot be judged entirely by its unimpressive record. Built around the nucleus of returning lettermen J. P. Smith, Chan Lewis, Bill Kuehn, Jerry Frank, and Dick Sylvester, it must be considered one of the best teams in the School's history.

Sylvester played excellent soccer throughout the season, and his inspiring defense in the center halfback position ranks him among the best of Hill's defensive soccermen. Center forward Charlie Lee established a new school record, scoring a total of twenty-two goals. Responsible for much of the team's success was Chan Lewis, whose dribbling and passing set up many goals. Jerry Frank, playing left wing, was second in scoring with six goals.

In their opening game The Hill defeated Episcopal Academy for the first time in eight years, 5-1. Lee scored three times, and Frank and Bill McClave each added a goal. The following Wednesday the team gained its second victory over Southern Lehigh, 3-0, behind the scoring of Frank and Lewis. As a result of a fine defensive effort by fullbacks J. P. Smith and Pete Vogt, Norristown fell by the score of 3-1. Frank and Bill Kuehn tallied for The Hill, Kuehn scoring twice.

Perkiomen gained a 1-0 lead, but Lee booted in five straight goals to beat them 5-2. In their best game of the year the team defeated the Princeton Freshmen for the first time in twenty-seven years. A thoroughly tested defense held them scoreless, as Frank and Lee scored a total of three goals. In the contest with the Penn Freshmen the booters led 3-2 after the first half, but two quick goals in the third period handed The Hill its first loss of the season, 4-3. In the next game a fired-up Westtown School team beat its visitors 3-1. Lee scored the lone goal on an assist from Chan Lewis. The team then suffered its third straight loss to the superior West Chester College Freshmen, 6-2. Two goals by Lee and Frank could not offset the opponent's powerful attack.



On October 22 the squad traveled to Mercersburg Academy where they narrowly gained a 2-2 tie to break a three game losing streak. The game was characterized by an erratic defense and a lack of drive in the line. Lee again scored twice, on passes from John Olds and McClave. In their next contest The Hill dominated the play as they defeated George School 2-1 behind the scoring of Charlie Lee.

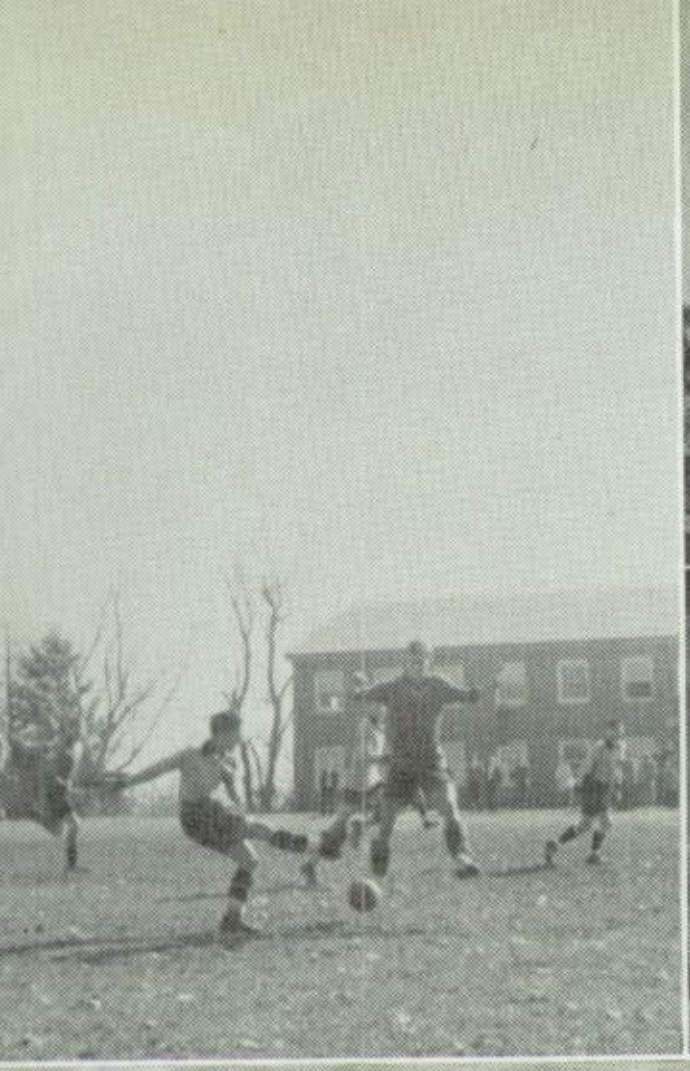
On the following Saturday The Hill played host to Blair Academy. The lone score of the game came during a scramble in front of the home team's goal and resulted in a 1-0 victory for the visitors. Hill defensive play was excellent, but there was again a lack of hustle in the line. The team then lost to a very strong West Chester College J.V. by a score of 5-1. Lee again prevented a shutout. Weakened by injuries and illnesses, the booters then fell to the Peddie School 5-2. Earlier in the year Peddie had been defeated by the Princeton Freshmen 6-0. McClave received credit for the assists as Lee scored twice.

Although not yet at full strength, The Hill defeated the Haverford College J.V. Frank and Lee overcame the opponent's early lead, scoring twice in the second half to secure a 2-1 victory. The final game of the season was against the once defeated team of Lawrenceville. In a contest marred by a wet field, the two teams battled to a scoreless first half. Early in the third period Jack Harris gave The Hill a 1-0 lead. The soggy field, however, permitted L'ville's center forward Bob Junguito to score the tieing goal. A fourth period scramble in front of Hill's goal then gave the visitors a hard earned 2-1 victory.

With a growing enthusiasm toward soccer at The Hill, hopes for a better season next year lie in five returning lettermen: Captain-elect Bob Abbott, Jerry Frank, Jack Harris, Dan Boyer, and Randy Howe.



GET

Cross Country

UNDER the leadership of Coach Clifford C. Little and Captain Bob McIlvain, The Hill School Cross Country Team finished its season with an even record of three wins and three losses. Though this record is perhaps a little disappointing after 1959's seven and one record, the team was stronger than in previous years if times are compared. During the year five runners broke the thirteen minute mark. Improvement was gratifying and is an indication of the teams that are to come.

In their first contest The Hill defeated a weaker Church Farm School 22-33 on the Aggies' course. The team did exceptionally well as they placed three runners ahead of Church Farm's first man, Brackney. Captain McIlvain won the race for The Hill covering the grueling 2.5 mile course in the time of 13:10. Pres Layton finished second; and Phil Miller, Caleb Loring, and Sam Morris completed The Hill scoring, capturing the third, sixth, and tenth places respectively.

The second meet was run on the home course, and the thinclads were defeated by a very strong University of Pennsylvania Freshman team, 19 to 36. Lou Schairo of Penn finished first for the visitors, covering The Hill's course in 11:54.5. Harrigan of Penn was second, followed by McIlvain of The Hill and Redman of the Quakers. Layton was next for The Hill in 12:35, while Arch Mackenzie placed ninth between Reynard and Day in the time of 12:45. Craig Ward and Frank Baker finished The Hill's scoring.

Perhaps one of the reasons that the team was unable to compile a better record was due to illness on the squad for extended weeks. This certainly affected the harriers as they lost to a strong Mercersburg contingent, 25-30. McIlvain ran his fastest race of the year as he took first in the time of 11:56, four seconds above the School record of 11:52 set by last year's captain Major White. Mercersburg's Thompson and Danahar finished second and third, two hundred yards behind The Hill captain. Miller began to show signs of his hard work as he crossed the finish line in 12:37. Next came the visitor's Weir, closely followed by Mackenzie. Morris and Layton finished the scoring for The Hill team.

The following Saturday the harriers were ready for victory, and they gained it at the expense of Blair Academy. The score was 24-31, but more important, the victory renewed confidence in the team. McIlvain again took first place, finishing in the best time run on the Blair course this year. Everett and Bostwick of the home team captured second and third. However, for the first time this season, the team was able to achieve the grouping that is necessary for a good team to have. Miller, Layton, Mackenzie, and Dick Haggott finished seventeen seconds apart, taking the next four places and insuring victory for The Hill.

Peddie School was The Hill's fifth opponent, and the meet resulted in a virtual rout as The Hill won by a near perfect score of 16-39, taking five of the first six places. McIlvain won in 11:21, six seconds off the Peddie course record. He was closely followed by Miller, Mackenzie, and Baker. The loser's Mueller took fifth place ahead of Ward and Baird Tipson of The Hill. The entire team of twelve men was ahead of Peddie's second man.

Both Lawrenceville and The Hill went into their final dual meet with approximately similar records; however, Lawrenceville had a slight edge as their grouping was closer between the first and fifth men than was Hill's. This grouping proved the deciding factor as The Hill lost to the Red and Black from New Jersey 24-31. In a close and exciting race, McIlvain ran the home course in 11:59 to edge Lawrenceville's Bower and take first. Miller was Hill's second man, running his best time of the year, 12:24. Then came four Larries ahead of Layton and Haggott. Mackenzie, Ward, and Morris finished the scoring for The Hill.

With a growing enthusiasm toward cross-country evident, Mr. Little's hopes for a better season next year lies in a strong nucleus of five returning lettermen: Captain-elect Pres Layton, Phil Miller, Dick Haggott, Frank Baker, and Caleb Loring.

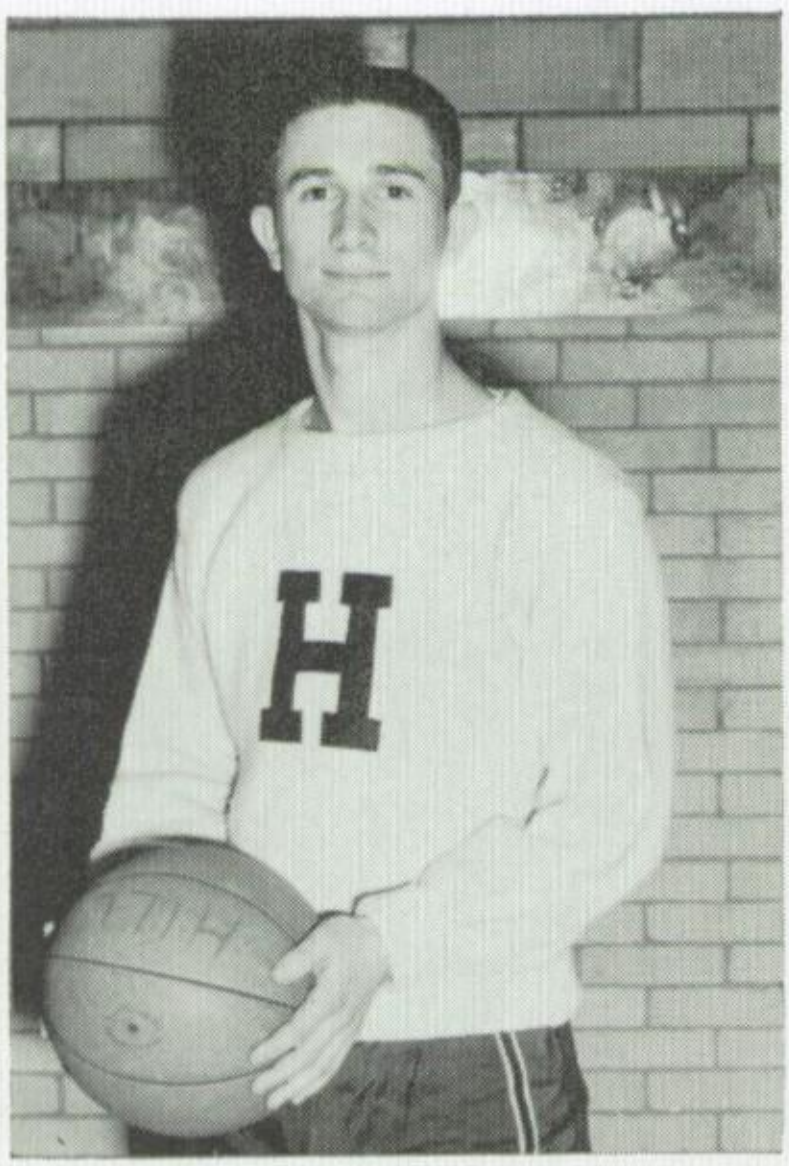
Basketball

THE basketball team this year was one of the best The Hill has seen in a long while. Its record of eleven victories and six losses is impressive, but not entirely representative of the fine club that more than earned it.

The first game of the season was, however, discouraging. Under the handicap of a long trip after three hours of College Board exams the team suffered a 70-41 loss in an away game with Episcopal Academy. The first game to be played on the home court looked more prospective, but Valley Forge M. A. managed to come back after the half to beat the Blue and Gray by a 52-43 margin, while The Hill's Bruce Baker was high scorer with 25 points. In the next game with Blair, the netmen showed their prowess on the home court as they started a streak that lead to a new court record of ten consecutive wins on Gillison Court. Duane, Baker, and Ensminger, all in double figures, sparked the team to the 59-53 romp over the foes from the north. The Penn State Ogontz Freshmen game which followed was the first of a three-game streak in which the winning scores exceeded seventy points. In this game, Baker ran up a total of 29 points. Numerous steals by Duane, Bassett, and Baker drove the team to its 71-47 triumph.

The game with Church Farm added the third win of the season to the record as The Hill men scored a 74-19 victory. Peddie, who had just previous to the game defeated Lawrenceville, worried the team a little, but The Hill's strength overcame their opponent's, 72-54. The scoring was led by Bruce Baker and Bill Duane with thirty-two and twelve points, respectively. The following game was played with Boyertown High School, the only high school played during the season. After two periods of close play, The Hill took the lead and fought off a Boyertown rally in the fourth quarter to win, 57-56. Scoring in double figures were Baker, Shedd, and Boyer. The team played outstanding basketball as it won the Admiral Farragut game, 43-39. This now brought the record to six and two. The next victory was the only game to be won on the road, and Chestnut Hill Academy was easily defeated, 35-25. Back on the home court, Williamson Trade School was the next team to feel the strength of the Hill courtmen and succumb 60-50, as Baker and Boyer led the scoring.



The winning streak broke when The Hill tried to take its ninth victory on a foreign court. By the time the court was figured out, the game was over, and it had been lost, 61-54. In spite of the poor showing of the team, two players stood out: Captain Duane and Cliff Shedd who scored 14 and 16 points respectively. The following game was with Lawrenceville. The height problem was similar to that of Episcopal, and from lack of rebound strength, The Hill was soundly defeated, 76-44, by a better ball club. Back on the home court again, the team out-hustled their next opponents, Germantown Academy. The Hill was never behind and the game ended in a 53-48 victory. Southern Lehigh was no more fortunate than Germantown, as the Blue and Gray, led by Pete Bassett and Dan Boyer, streaked to a 50-42 victory. A re-secheduled game with Haverford followed, and the jinx of a foreign court held true as The Hill was beaten, 63-52.

The last two games of the season were fortunately on the home court, the first being with Kutztown State College Freshmen. It was anybody's game up to the fourth quarter, and at the end of regulation time, the score stood 46-46. In the overtime, The Hill quintet outplayed the Kutztown unit 6-5, bringing the final score to 52-51. The last game of the season with Gettysburg Freshmen proved to be one of the hardest and fastest games played all year. Although no man scored above twelve points, the Freshmen won easily, 61-29.

Probably the key to the fine play of this team was its defensive strength found in the back-court men of Pete Bassett and Captain Duane. The scoring was strong this year, not because of one man, but because any one of the first six men was able to shoot in double figures. Off the boards, considering their height, they did an excellent job.

Wrestling

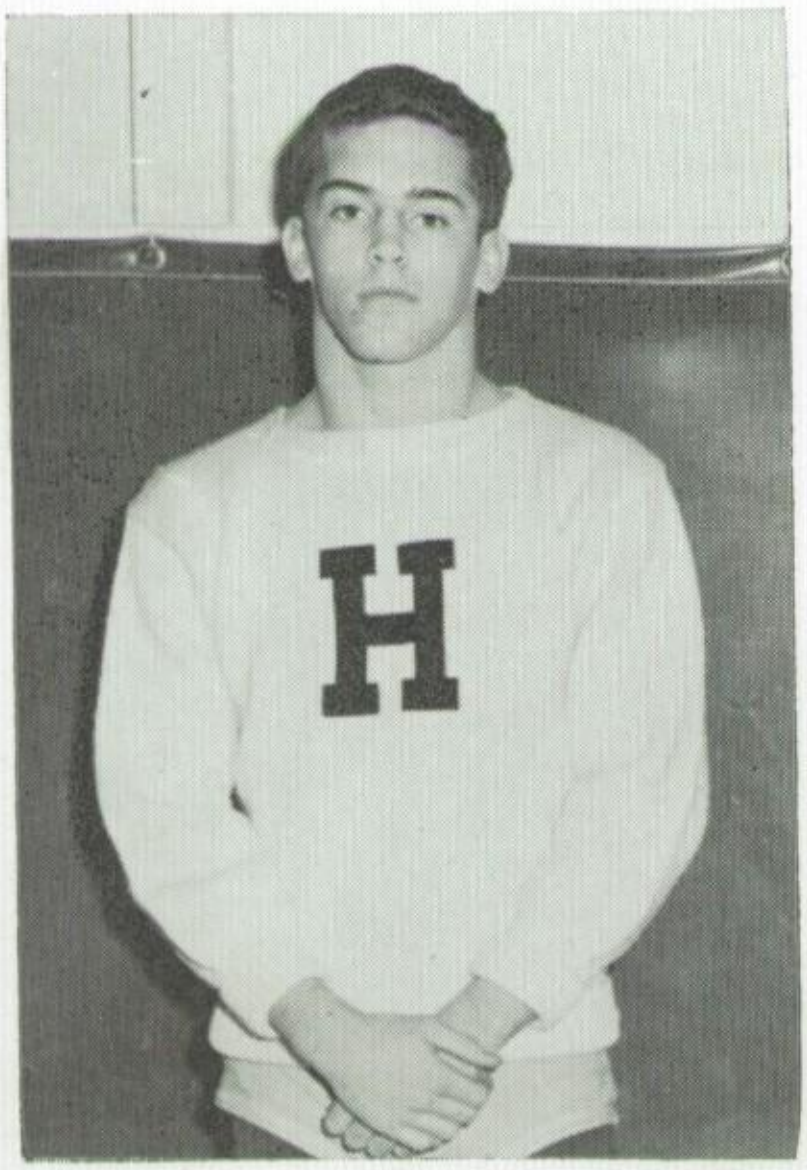
THE wrestling team posted a 10-2-1 record and won the team championship at the Lehigh Interscholastics. The wrestlers had a fine start. After returning from Thanksgiving vacation, they ripped into a strong Solanco team and downed them 31-11, winning in nine of the twelve weight classes. Chris Stowell and Roger Olesen gained the year's first pins.

In the first match of the new year, the wrestlers met and defeated Harriton High School, 35-14. In the lower weights, The Hill dropped three out of five contests, but following Captain Moffatt's win, the team rallied from an 11-8 deficit and lost only one other match. Chris Wick, Olesen, and Rich Armentrout recorded the only pins.

The next match, against West Chester State College Freshmen, was the closest of the year. After the first eight bouts, The Hill and West Chester had split victories, each with four wins, and going into the last bout, the score stood 14-9 in favor of the opponents. The Hill needed a pin in order to tie the match. Then Armentrout met a reluctant opponent who was disqualified on four stalling penalties, thus giving the team the tying points.

Four days later, the team met its first defeat, 21-9, at the hands of a strong Stevens Trade unit. Three bouts in ten is not indicative of the meet, however, as all the matches were close, and neither team registered a single fall. Frank Lukus, Stowell, and Armentrout were The Hill victors.

The Hill got back in stride, however, as it beat Wyoming Seminary, 27-14. In a discouraging start, the lower weights dropped the first three bouts, but after a win by Tom Christy at 123, only one Bisselman fell. Fader, Olesen, and Armentrout posted first period wins.



The next Wednesday afternoon, the team defeated Valley Forge. That Saturday, a tough North Hampton team fell 30-17, as the upper six weights rolled over their opposition. Tom Gale, Olesen, and Armentrout accounted for the meet's three pins.

Then, for the first time, the wrestlers met a preparatory team, mauling them 37-3. In this match against Blair, Harper, Clarke, O'Donnell, Stowell, and Olesen all registered falls in a match sprinkled with new talent.

On February 11, Lawrenceville came out on the losing end of a 33-2 score. A crowd of Lawrenceville spectators watched in amazement as The Hill took nine successive wins, broken only by a tie in the 148 pound class. The following Saturday, the team had a close victory over Springfield High School, winning 27-21. Christy, Moffatt, and Lukus won on points, Fader tied, and Stowell, Olesen, and Armentrout gained pins.

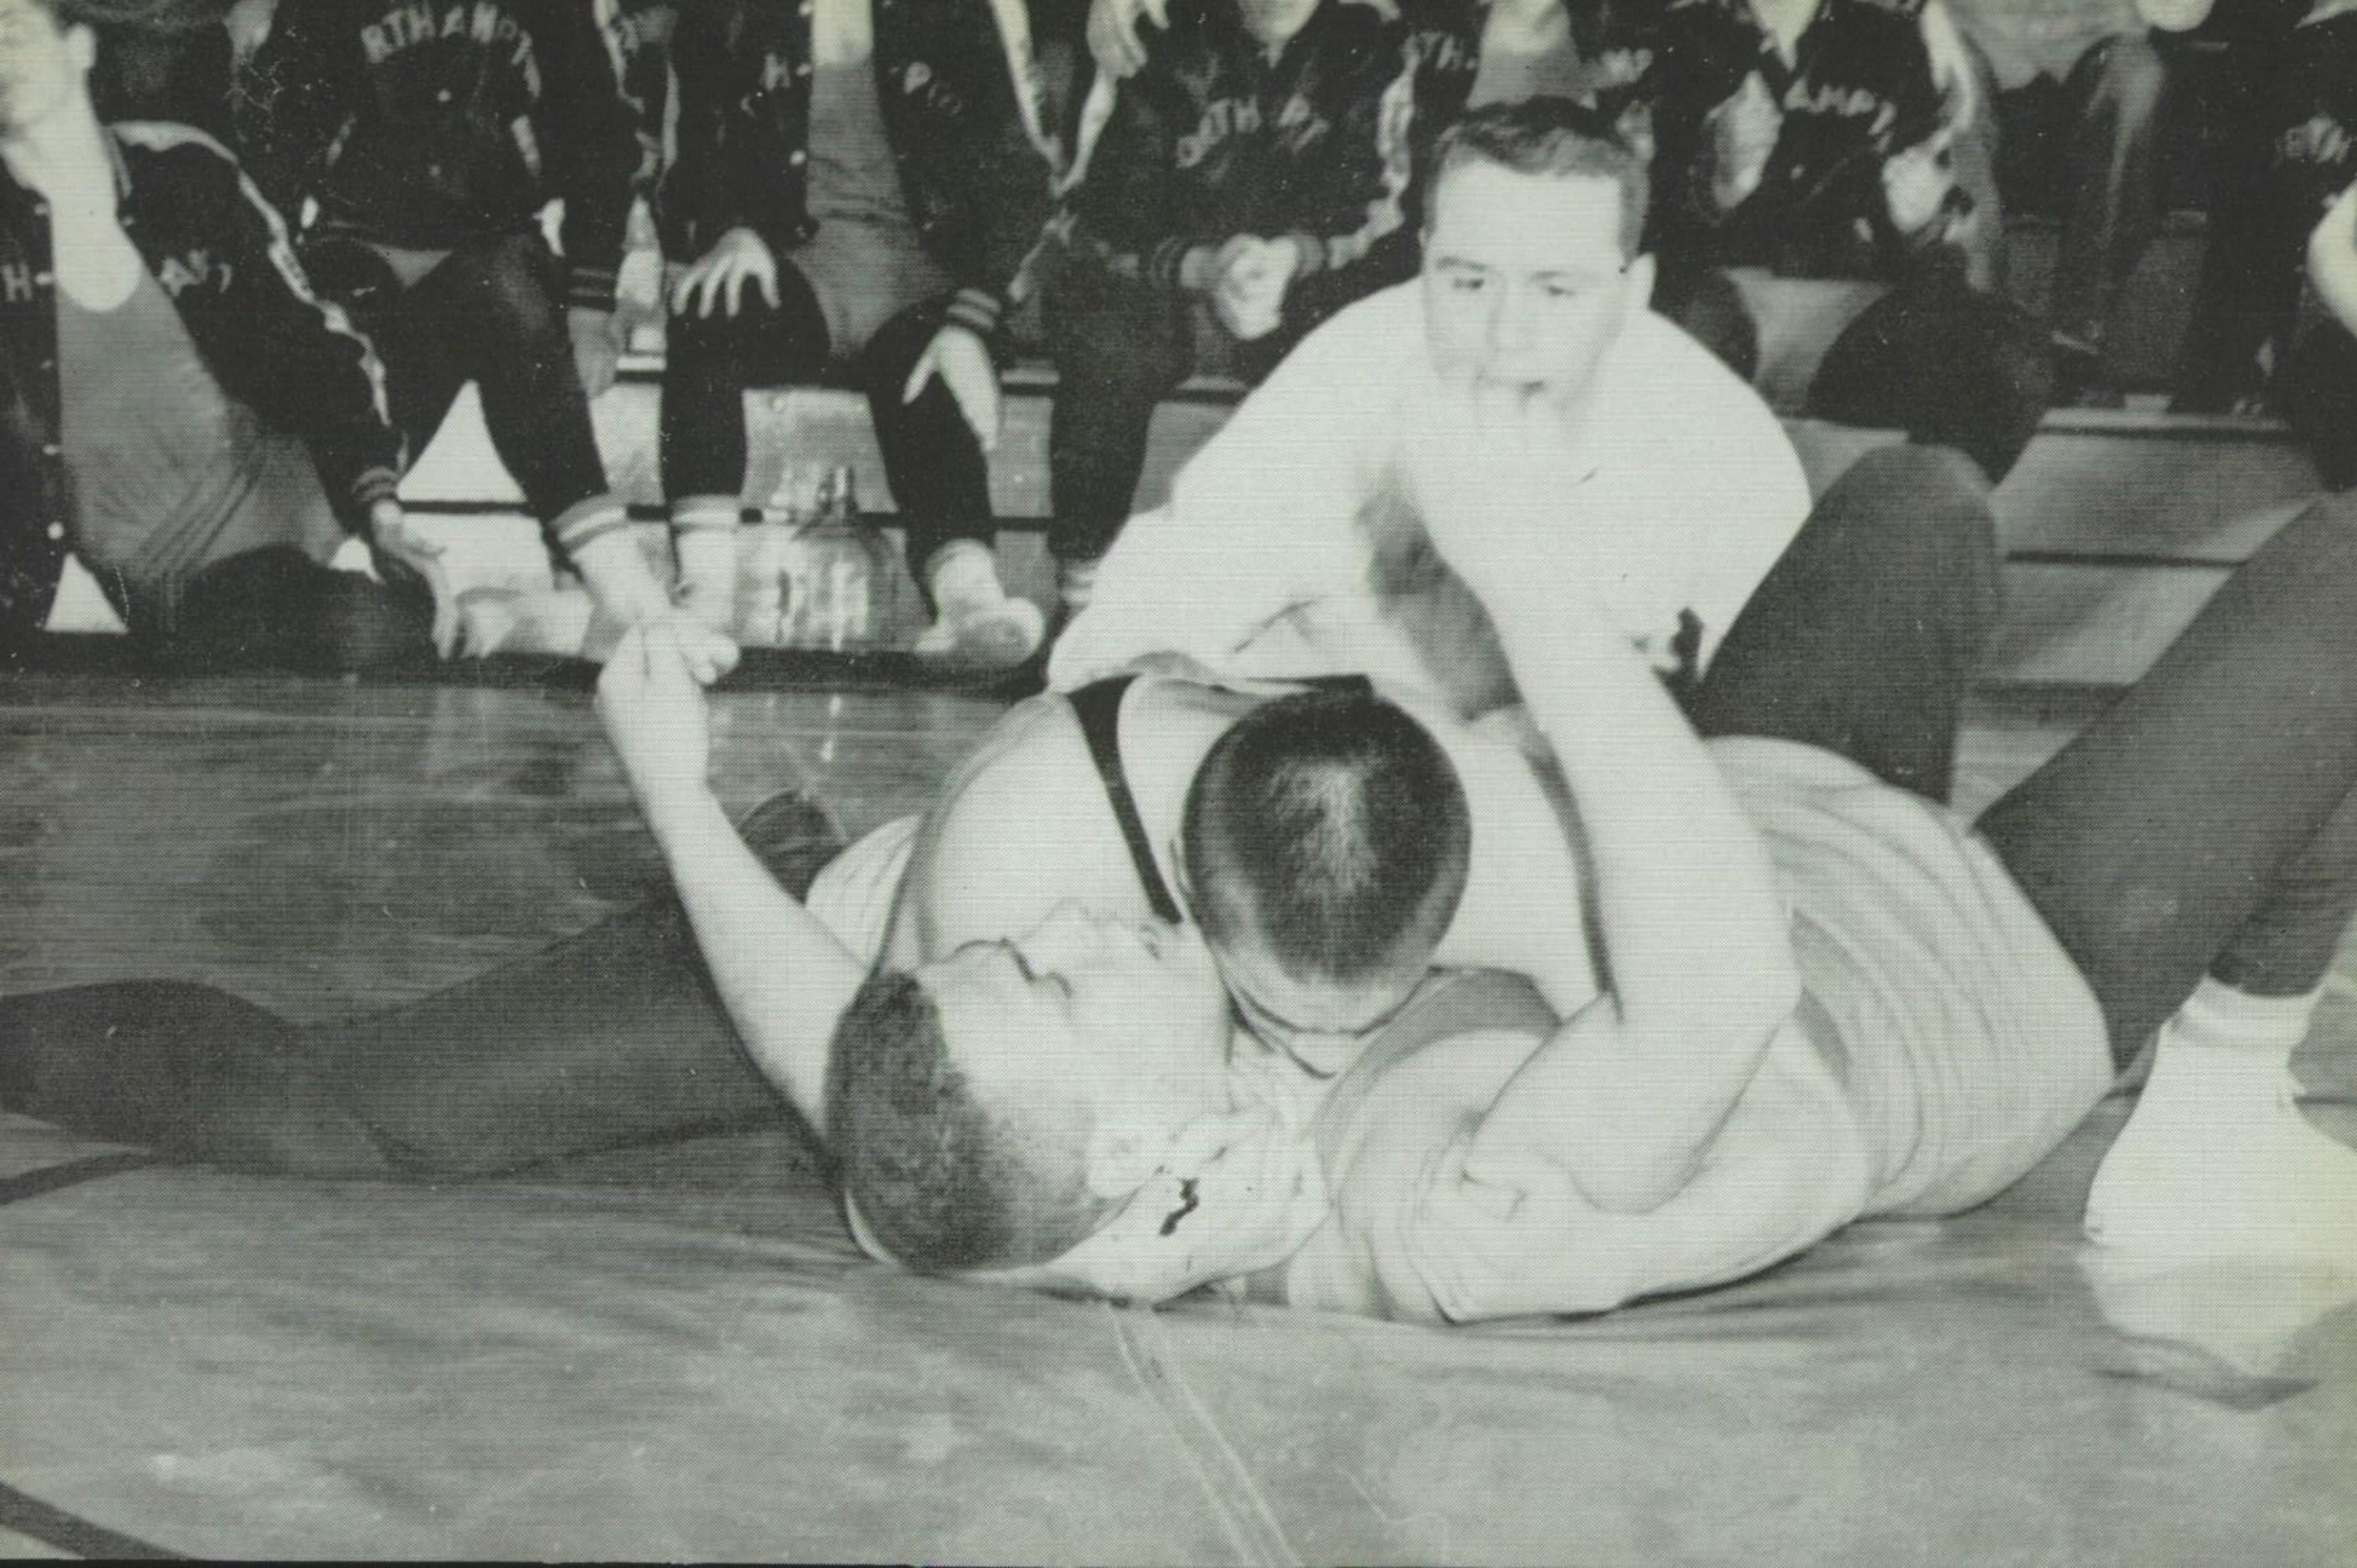
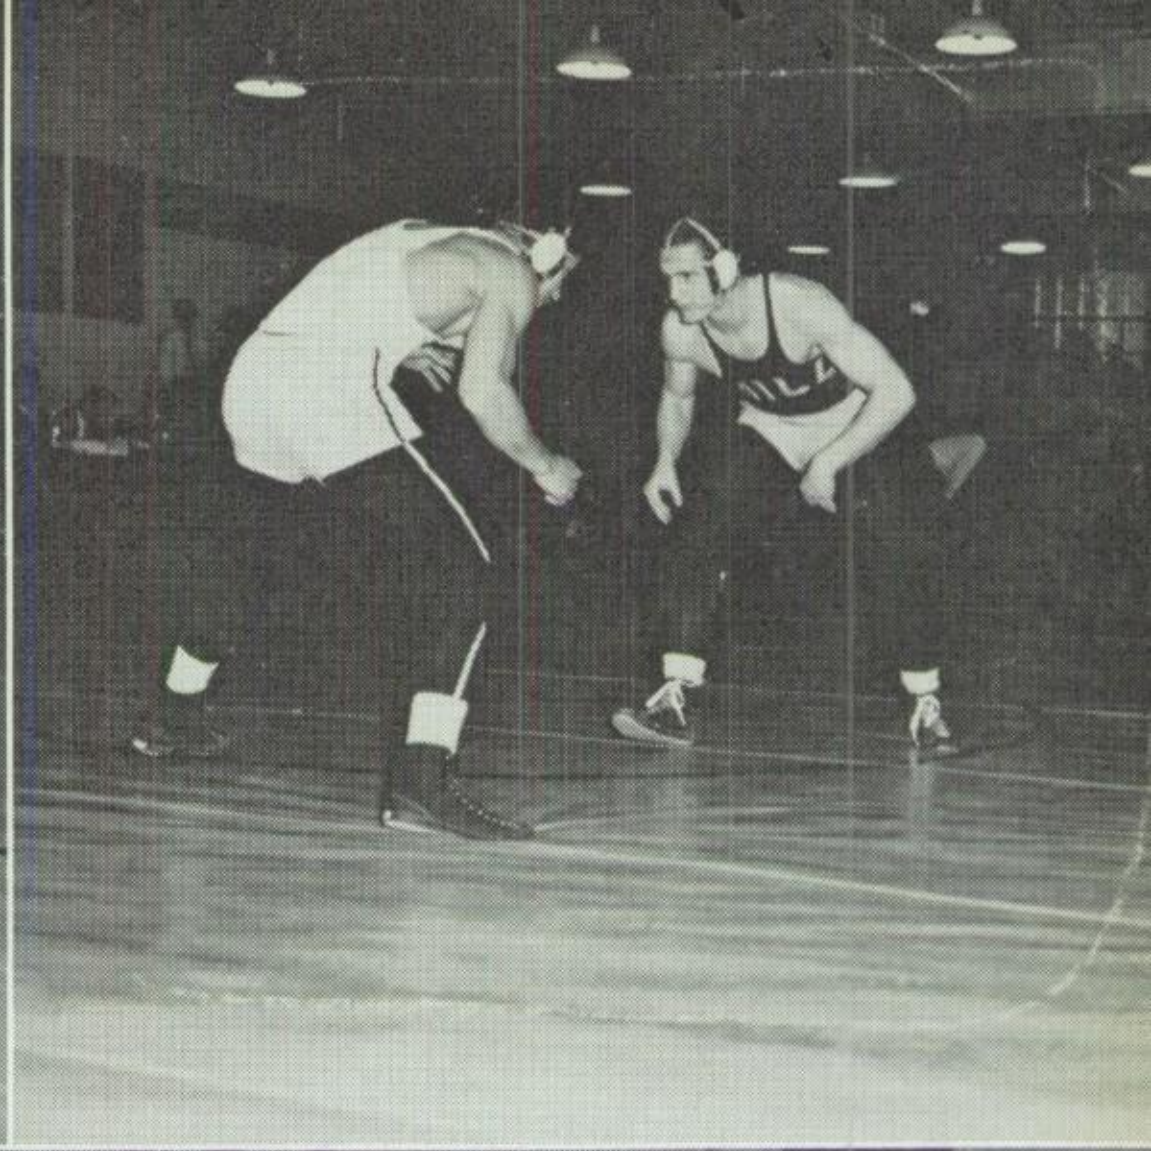
For the second year in a row, Liberty High School upset The Hill wrestlers, winning with a 29-15 victory. Patterson, Lukus, Stowell, and Olesen were the sole winners for The Hill.

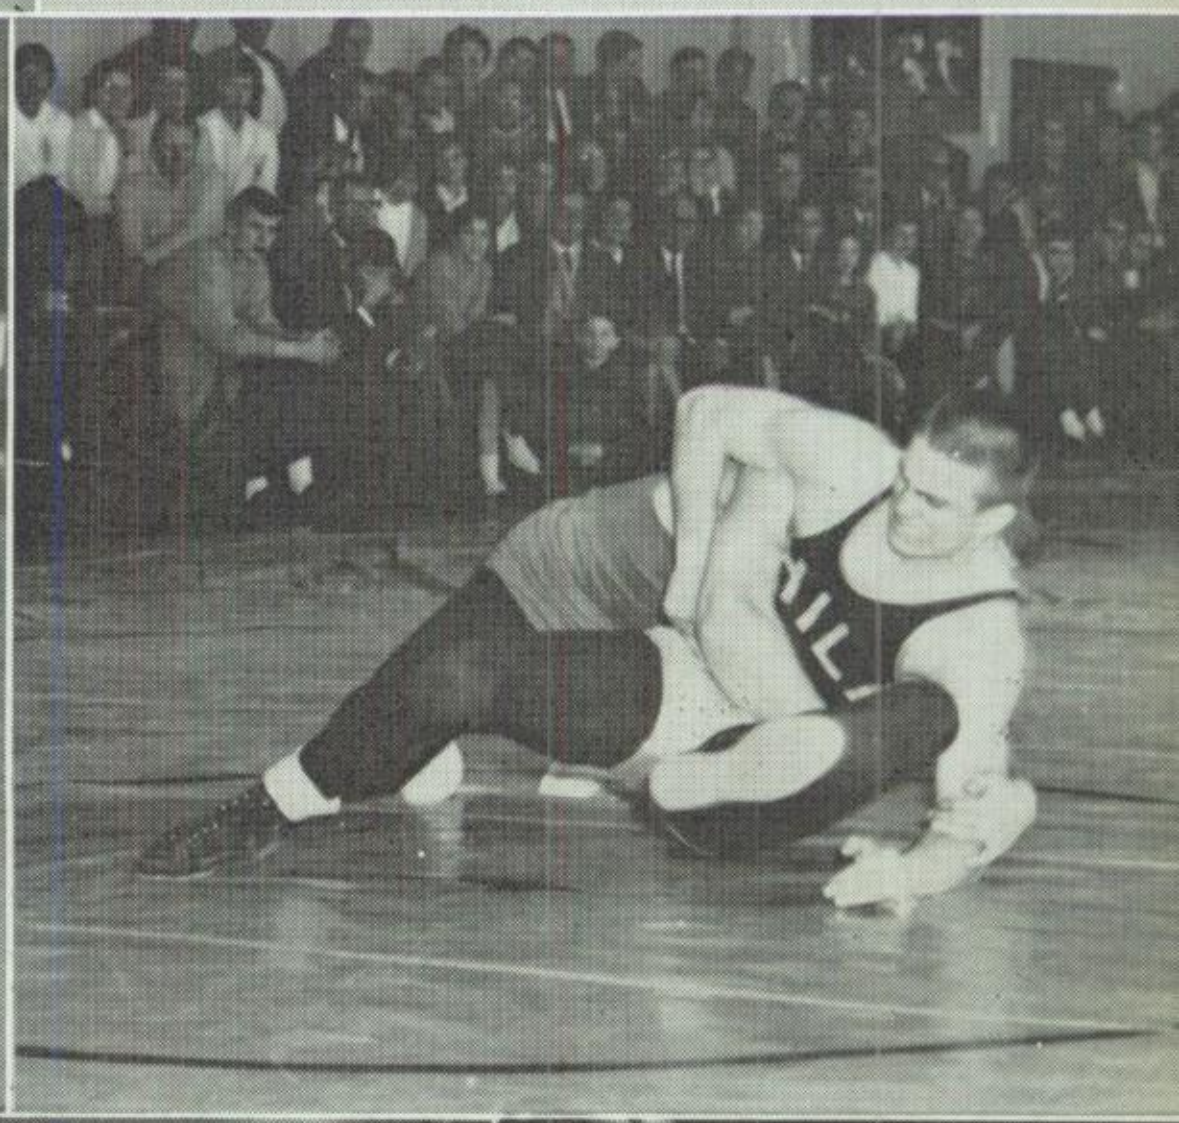
On Feb. 25, Girard College fell to the wrestlers by a decisive 45-2 score. Only a tie in the 106 pound class marred the eleven bouts. During the next week, the matmen prepared for the coming Lehigh Interscholastics Wrestling Tournament. After a poor showing in 1960, the Blue and Gray regained control of the meet, as it compiled 103 points to outdistance second place Milton Hershey by 40 points. Of the seven men that The Hill placed in the semi-finals, only one lost. In the final round, five of these six men emerged victorious. These five champions were Harper, Hartenstein, Stowell, Olesen, and Armentrout. With three pins in the Tournament, Olesen was voted the outstanding wrestler.

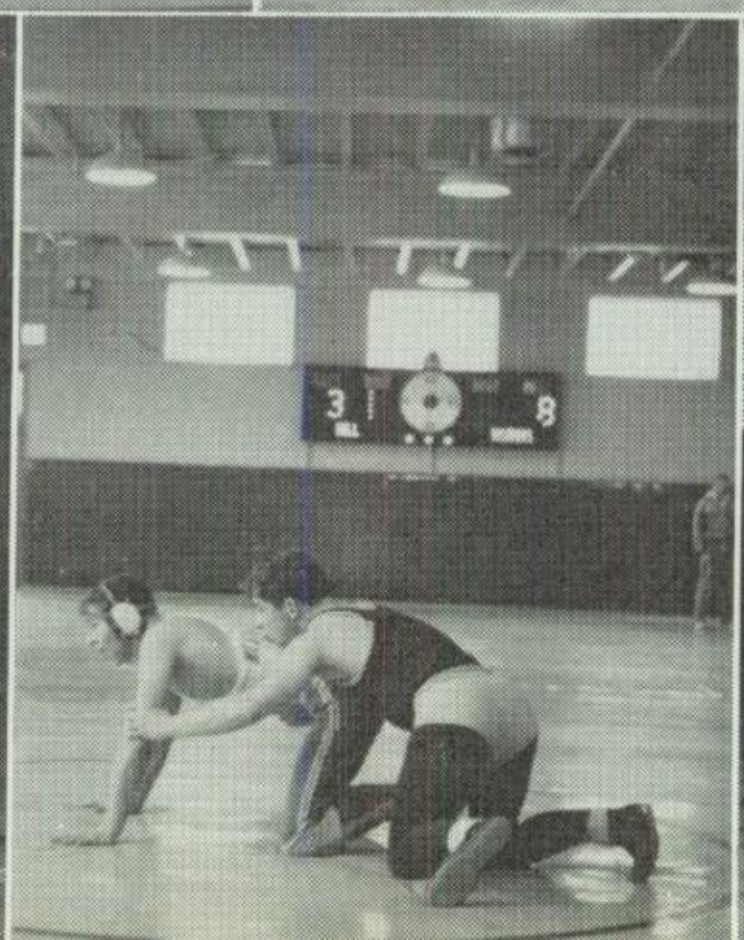
Because of the long winter term, a thirteenth meet was scheduled. On March 14, Franklin and Marshall Freshmen presented some tough competition, but fell 17-11.

The results of the season were very impressive. Frank Lukus was undefeated, while Stowell, Armentrout, and Captain-elect Olesen lost one bout each. Olesen compiled a duel meet point total of 58 points.









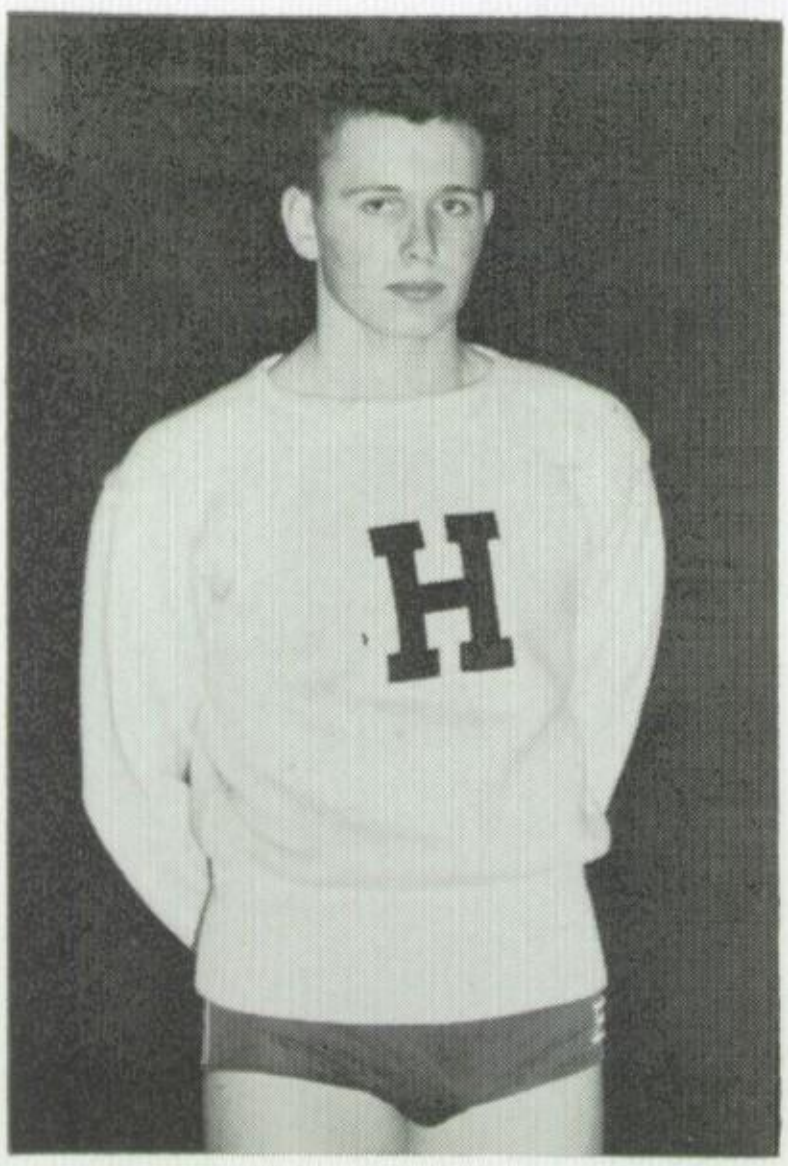
Swimming

THE Hill emerged as one of the swimming powers in the East, compiling an 8-2 dual meet record and gaining first place in the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming Championship for the first time since 1957. Not since the days of Bob Kaufmann and Don 'Colonel' Griffin has a Hill team been so successful. Under the fine coaching of Mr. Whatley, the swimmers set new records in nearly every meet.

Opening at home, the team had little trouble with Malvern, winning the meet 67-19. Yank Brame set a school record in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 60.6. Malvern's Ron Wirth was the meet's only double winner, taking the backstroke, and then the individual medley in a record time of 2:16.1.

Back from Christmas vacation, Al Rose led the swimmers to a 64-22-rout over Lehigh, setting a school record of 2:25.1 in the individual. T. B. Gale, Brame, Bliss, Fryberger, J. P. Smith, and D. C. Lewis also won, allowing Lehigh only one first. The Princeton Freshmen dealt The Hill the first of two successive defeats. The Tigers saw record performances by David Kennedy (2:15.2 in the individual) and Jed Graef (58.5 in the backstroke), and won the meet 45-41 after taking the medley relay. The Hill won only the 50 free (Gale), the 100 free (Bliss), the dive (Lewis), and the freestyle relay.

Powerhouse William Penn of York won eight of ten events and, paced by two blistering sprints by Bill Groft (22.6; 51.0), defeated The Hill for the second year in a row, 48-38. Al Rose was the lone winner for the team. He won the individual in a record time of 2:24.8.



After these two defeats, the swimmers rebounded, starting their drive to the E.I.S.C. championship. Haverford was the first team to be defeated. Captain Bliss won the 50, and the whole team contributed toward a 47-39 victory. Though Haverford won more individual events, their victories were offset by event winners Rose, Van Kennen, and the freestyle relay.

Mercersburg became the next victim, the team winning but two events, setting three records, and winning 57-29. Brame bettered his own mark in the fly with a 59.8. Rose went 2:22.6 in the individual, and Bliss swam 23.0 in the 50. Van Kennen became the first Hill swimmer in eight years to break two minutes in the 200, as his time was 1:59.1.

After defeating Dieruff 55-30 and missing the meet with the Yale Frosh because of snow, the swimmers took on the National Catholic Champion, Bonner High, defeating them 50-36 on dance weekend.

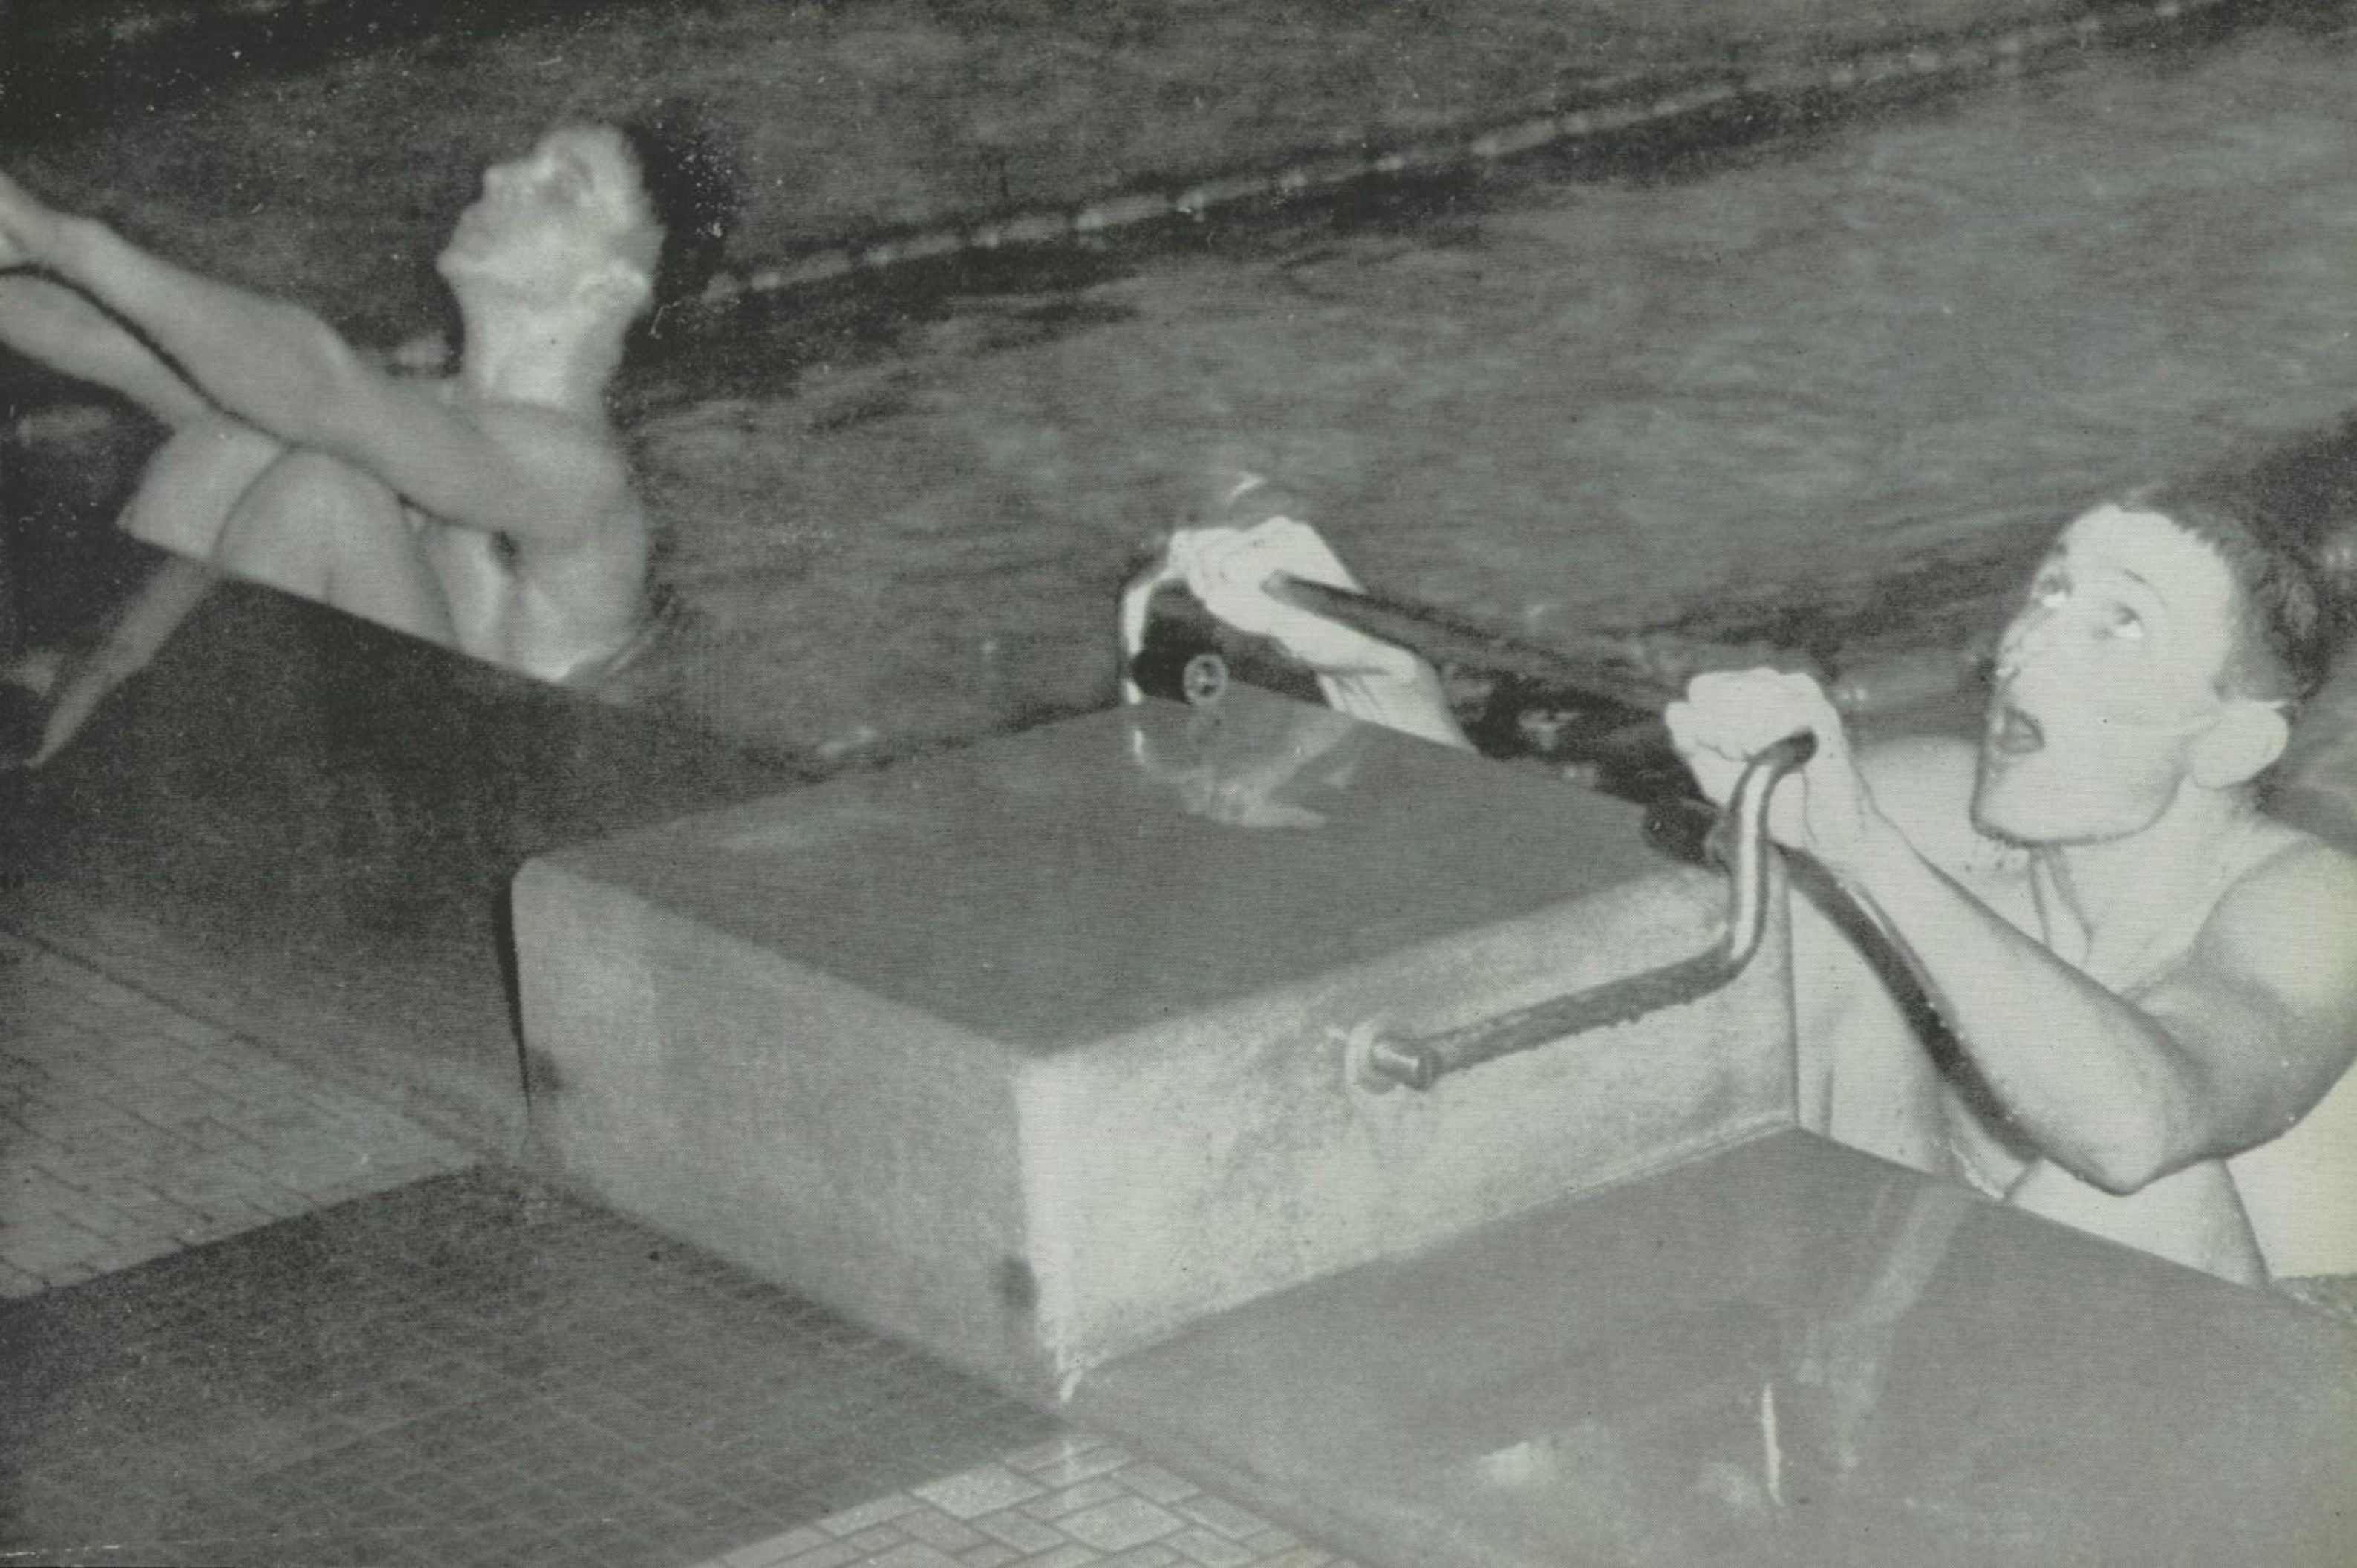
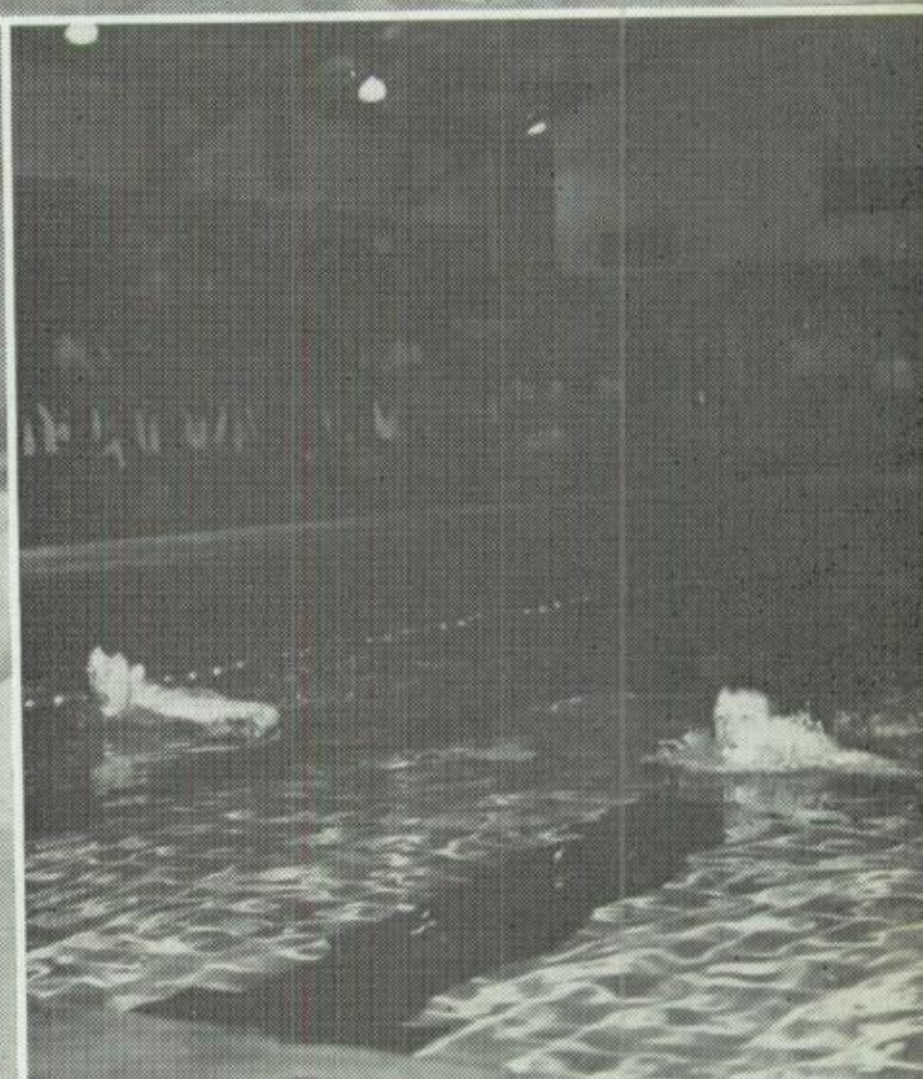
Traditional rival Lawrenceville fell 50-36. Van Kennen started the meet by tieing the 50 free record of 23.0 The key victory was taken by Tony Doll, who teamed with Ellars to take one-two in the 200. Rose won the backstroke in 1:01.7, and Bliss the 100 in 51.1. Lewis took second in the dive, but The Hill came back to sweep the individual, as Van Kennen won in a school record time of 2:17. Villanova brought record-breaking Dick McDonough, but little else, as The Hill won 57-29. Sandy Van Kennen swam an amazing 1:55 in the 200 to break the school and pool record. Gale, Bliss, Rose, and both relays also won.

The Hill became the Interscholastic champions in a meet full of record-breaking performances. Van Kennen won the 100 in a record-breaking time of 50.9, then teamed up with Gale, Hall, and Smith to set another in the 200 yard free relay (1:33.9). Other point winners were Bliss in the 50 free and 100 back, Rose in the 100 back, Gale in the 50 free, Marr in the 100 fly, Smith in the 100 free, Lewis in the dive, and the medley relay team of Doll, Scattergood, Brame, and Clough.

The following Wednesday, a team of Van Kennen, Smith, Gale and Bliss set a meet record of 1:35 in the free style relay at the Trenton Times meet. A week later the relay team consisting of Bliss, Gale, Smith, and Van Kennen bettered their National recording with a 1:30.7. Bliss, who led off the relay, established a new pool and school record of 22.7 in the 50 free.

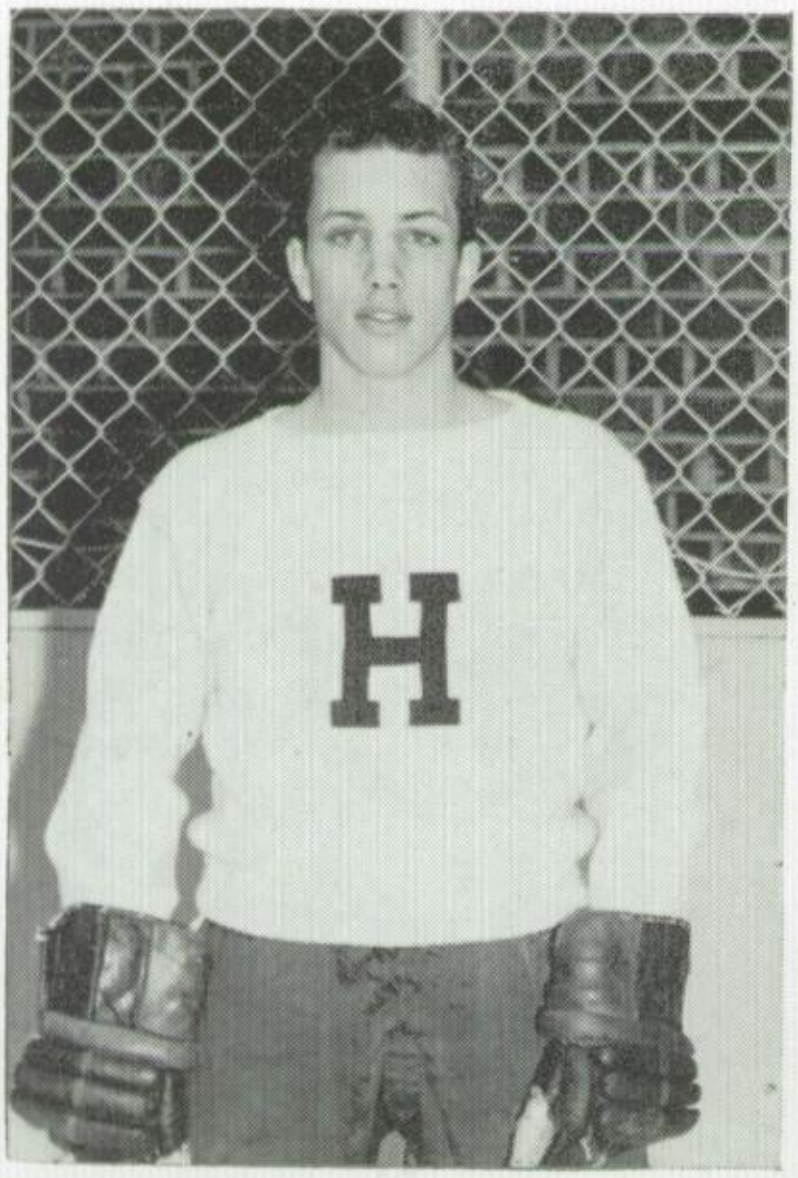




Hockey

THE 1960-61 varsity hockey team, led by quick-skating Captain Larry Zeugner, finished with an impressive 8-4-1 record. The team distinguished itself by being the heaviest scoring team in Hill hockey history with a total of 167 points, yet it also was the heaviest scored-upon team in the records. Sixth Former Charlie Lee spearheaded the team to many victories and set a new individual scoring record of 28 goals. Behind Lee in the scoring department was Fourth Former Mickey Amick, who in his first year with the varsity team aided the Blue and Gray with a total of 21 points. Former lineman Zeugner, this year's one man clearing play on defense, and Caleb Loring, who was the most improved player over the season, completed the top scoring quarter of the team with a total of 18 points apiece. Fred Harris, defenseman, and Bob Zolto in the goal were the other two players to make up the Blue and Gray's first line along with the five top scorers. Returning letterman Phil Grantham was to add his scoring to the total of the team, but was lost early in the season as a result of a shoulder injury. David Greenlee and the McKowns formed the nucleus of the second "tiger" line which backed up the Lee line and added a total of 40 points to the records. Marshal Wallach and Pat Tone filled the defensemen's positions for the tigers.

A tough but winning season was opened for the Blue and Gray before Christmas vacation with a smashing victory over Morris Hills High School, in which Captain Zeugner slipped three goals into the nets to lead the scoring.



Quickly following this game, and during the early part of Christmas vacation, The Hill sextet entered the Lawrenceville Invitational Hockey Tournament, which took the place of the annual St. Mark's game in Madison Square Garden. In a series of three tournament games, The Hill contingent ran into tough competition and dropped their games with Lawrenceville and St. Mark's by the decisive scores of 8-1 and 5-0. A third game ended in a close 4-3 loss which eliminated the squad from further tournament play.

Back in Pottstown on the fourteenth of January, the team toppled the Beacon Hill Skating Club 6-2 in their second regularly scheduled game. On the following Wednesday, the team gained their third victory at the expense of Chestnut Hill. The Blue and Gray piled up a five goal lead going into the third period in which the visitors were able to score only two goals. In their next game against Wissahickon's "B" squad, The Hill capitalized in the first period of play to build up a margin of four goals, which saved them from defeat in the third period when the opponents recovered with three quick goals. The final score stood 5-3.

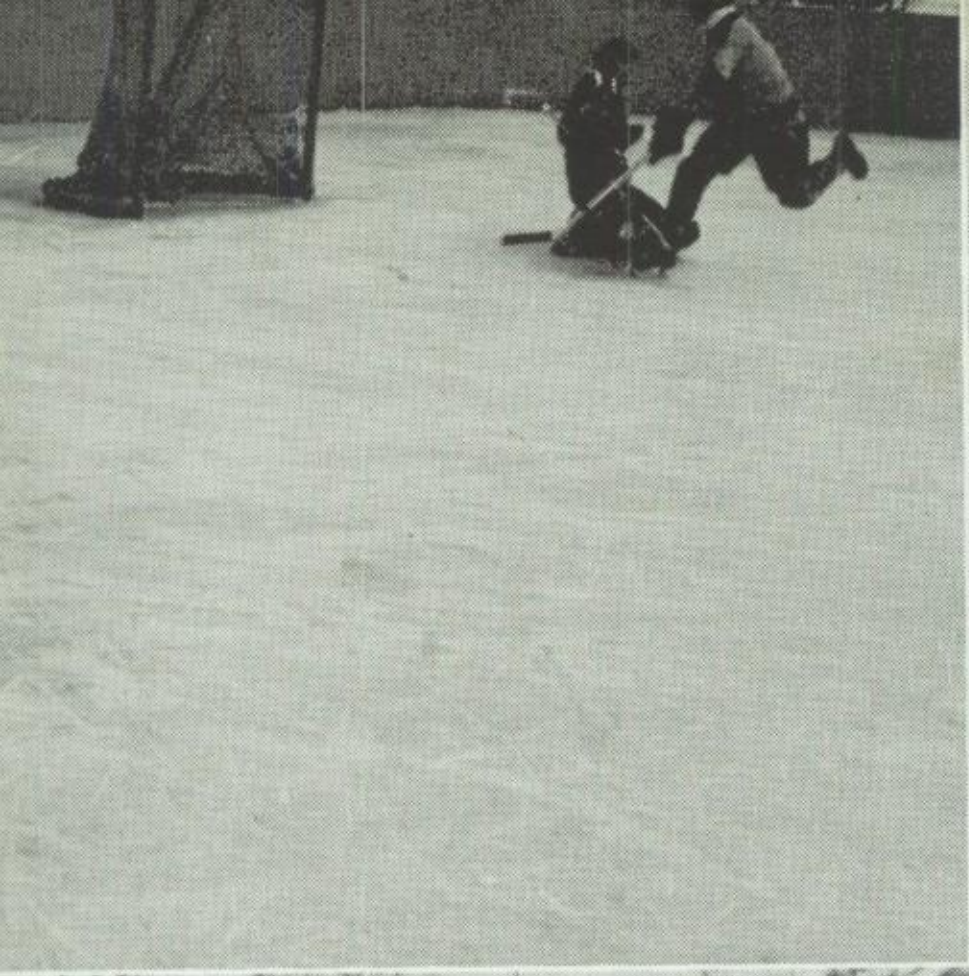
In their annual game against the Princeton Freshman, the Blue and Gray tasted their first defeat of the regular season in a very close game which went into a double overtime. The two teams in alternate scoring attacks each slammed in a set of five goals by the end of the third period. The first overtime began and ended five minutes later with the score still deadlocked; however, defeat came to The Hill skaters in the second sudden-death overtime, when a Princeton man slipped the puck into the nets. On February fifth The Hill left just in front of a blizzard for the Loomis School, where their first game was stopped because of the heavy snow, and a second game the next day ended in an unsatisfactory 3-3 tie. The Lehigh Hockey Club gave The Hill skaters another smashing 9-2 victory the following Wednesday. On February 11 a Livingstone High School team felt the sting of Charlie Lee's quick shot, which scored against them five times, and fell to the Blue and Gray by an impressive 14-1 score.

At Lawrenceville, a series of goals for the Red and Black squad gave Lawrenceville the game by a score of 7-1. The only other team to defeat The Hill was Franklin-Marshall in a late season game on bad ice. In their final two games with Morristown High School and the Paoli Falcons, the squad ended a long season by registering two high scoring victories, 10-0 and 14-1, respectively.



Winter Track

ALTHOUGH the Winter Track Team was only able to compile a three and two mark for the season, they were not without marked success. Captain Bob McIlvain broke Major White's mile record with a 4:29.2 clocking, and The Hill's mile relay team won the Prep School Mile Relay Championships at the Philadelphia Inquirer Games. The team of Sam Morris, John Potter, Pres Layton, and McIlvain ran a 3:39.1, the best time a Hill relay team has ever done on the boards.

The first meet, to be run against Peddie, was cancelled because of snow. The following Saturday, January 28, The Hill met Blair Academy at home and defeated them 38-30. The visitors, however, were able to take the half-mile, the quarter mile, the 60 yard dash, and the low hurdles. McIlvain won the mile for The Hill, Pete Lawler won the shotput, and Bill Johnson, the high hurdles. A team of Dick Sylvester, Carl Raether, Potter, and McIlvain gained a five yard victory in the eight lap relay.

The next dual meet was held at Lawrenceville's Lavino Field House against the Red and Black from New Jersey. The Hill lost to a team of much greater depth, 49-28. Fourth Former Steve Griffith took the broad jump, Bill Johnson took third, and Bill McClave tied for second in the high jump. These events were followed by two L'ville sweeps in the 60 yard dash and shotput. The Red and Black also placed one-two in the 60 yard dash, Carl Raether taking third for The Hill. McIlvain then won the mile in the record-breaking time of 4:29.2, and Sam Morris took the quarter-mile in 0:54.1. Lawrenceville then won the half-mile, while Layton took second for The Hill. The eight lap relay was won by The Hill.

Abington High was The Hill's next victim. The Hill lost the sprints and hurdles. Layton and Tipson took first and second, respectively, in the mile run, and Morris won the quarter-mile. McIlvain took the half-mile, with Frank Baker placing third. Griffith won the broad-jump with an effort of 19′8″, and McClave and Layton tied for first in the high jump, as Tex Thompson placed third. In the shot put Dick Vreeland and Lawler took first and second place.

The Hill's third victory was against Malvern Prep by a score of 47-21. In the 60 yard dash Malvern scored one of its few wins, as The Hill's Pete Harkness and Raether took second and third. Griffith easily won the 60 yard high hurdles. Layton was beaten at the finish in the mile. McIlvain and Morris countered by winning the half-mile and the quarter-mile. Johnson and Griffith gained first and second in the low hurdles, and The Hill relay team of Potter, Lee Adams, Harkness, and Raether continued its streak. The shot put was won by Malvern, Lawler and Vreeland taking the next two.

The final meet was a defeat at the hands of a strong Penn Freshmen team. The Hill was unable to win any of the running events, as Penn Frosh had two double winners in the sprints and the distances. Griffith won the broad jump on his final leap, and Lawler's toss of 43′ 2″ was the only other Hill first of the afternoon. Harkness' time of 6.6 in the dash gained only a third place.

Squash

THE Varsity Squash Team, hoping to make this fourth season their last as a minor sport, compiled a 4-6 record—its best to date.

At the Penn Freshman courts, The Hill racketmen lost 4-3. Bob Yeager and Ed Moffett won decisive 3-1 victories, while Bob Dryfoos won an exciting 3-2 match in overtime. Tuck Amory, Bob Ralston, Haydn Silleck, and Rennie Booth recorded the four losses for The Hill.

The next match, against Penn Charter, brought about the second defeat for the Squash Team, as John Thring was the lone Hill winner. Bob Yeager, Tuck Amory, Ed Moffett, and Dana Lee all lost their matches. Rennie Booth played better than he had in the previous match, but he was still an easy victim for Ron Pritchett, who the month before had advanced to the quarter finals at the National Junior Squash Tournament held at The Hill.

Haverford set back The Hill racketmen in a 7-0 victory at the Butcher Courts. As Interacademic Champions, Haverford had very little trouble in the match. National quarter finalist Renwick McIver beat Booth 3-2 in a close match. With the exceptions of Amory, Dryfoos, and Thring, all other members of the home team were shut out in their matches. The following week, the Squash Team travelled to Princeton, New Jersey, where they fell 7-0 to a more experienced college freshman team. Booth and Marr were the only Hill men to win any games in this match. The team now had a 0-4 record.

The first victory for The Hill came at the hands of Episcopal Academy. The top three men—Booth, Silleck, and Yeager—all lost in straight games, but the team came back to take the next four matches. Moffett, Thring, Marr, and Lee all won, 3-0. Rennie Booth fell victim to Morris of Episcopal, a National Squash Champion. The racketmen won their next match, 7-0, against St. Andrews. Not one man on the home team lost a game, as The Hill tromped their adversary in 21 straight games.

The second match with Episcopal Academy resulted in the same 4-3 victory for The Hill, increasing their winning streak to three straight matches. As in the first match with Episcopal, the top three men lost, while the next four men won.

Penn Charter recorded its second victory against the racketmen, as they beat the home team on the Butcher Courts. The three Hill winners were Jack Marr, Bob Yeager, and Rennie Booth, who won his match by default. Silleck, Moffett, and Amory fell easily to their stronger opponents. In the last and deciding match against Penn Charter, John Thring lost by only one point, thus giving the adversary their 4-3 victory, and stopping the three-game winning streak of The Hill.

With two matches left, The Hill now had a 3-4 record. Haverford again trounced the racketmen, as Marr, Booth, and Lee won the only games for The Hill. In its final match of the season, the Squash Team again beat St. Andrews, 7-0. Booth and Marr fought close matches, while the other five men won in straight games.

Next year's team will have considerable strength, as only two members of the team will graduate this year, and there will be five returning lettermen.

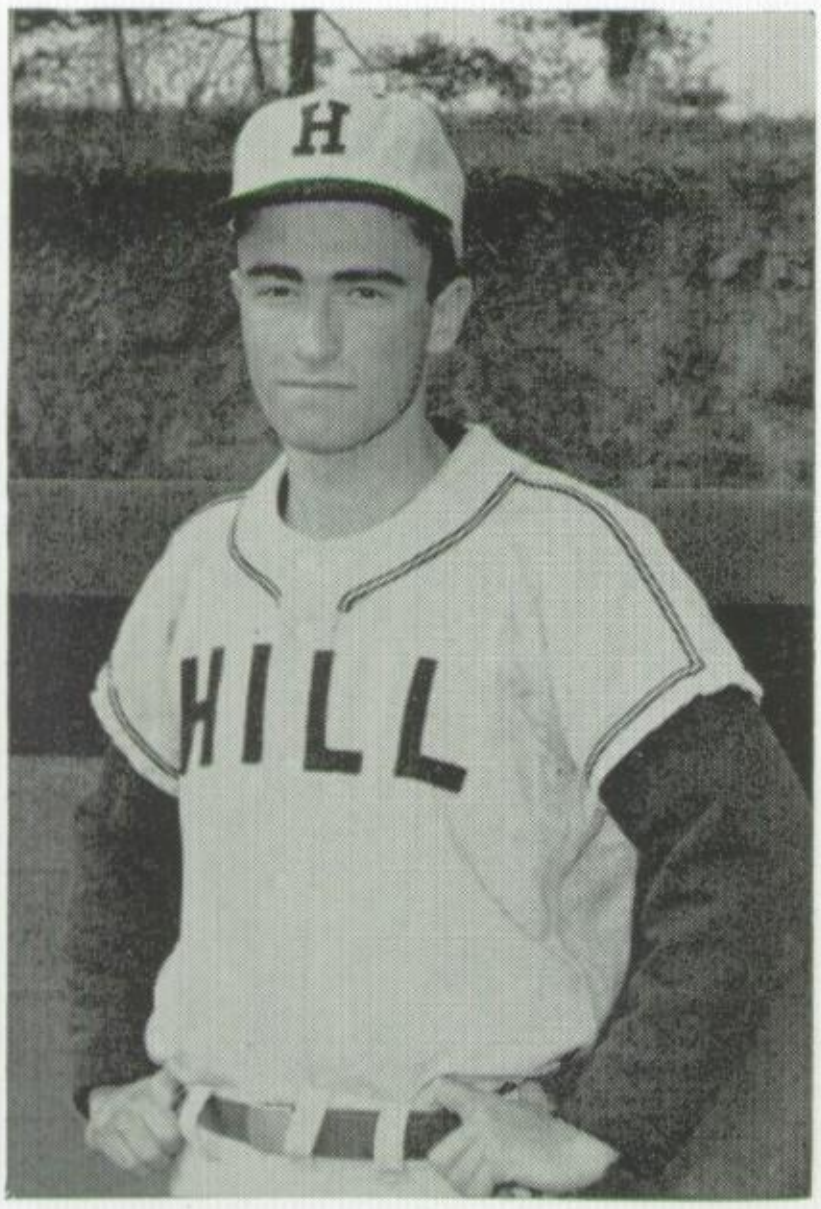
Baseball

THE HILL SCHOOL baseball team, under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Brown and assistant coach Mr. Revell, is looking forward to an excellent season this year. The nucleus of the team is made up of returning lettermen Dick Sylvester, Steven Schaff, Bill Duane, Bill Melleck, and Cliff Shedd; and several players from last year's JV and Junior teams should give these repeaters valuable support.

In the outfield, Schaff is the only returning letterman. Steve, playing his third year of Varsity baseball, is a solid hitter and reliable fielder, and should hold down the right field berth. In centerfield, Jack Koury is the leading contender. He has good speed, is a fine fielder, and a fair hitter. Pete Bassett has also had experience in centerfield and should give Koury a good fight for his position. Left field is wide open but possible starters at this spot are Bassett, who may be transferred from center, and Chandler Lewis. Both are good hitters but Lewis holds a definite edge in the fielding department. Other contenders for the right field position are John Maggenheimer and Mike Dawes, both starters on the '60 JV squad.

The first base department is solid with returning letterman Cliff Shedd leading the list. Shedd is very capable in the field and also bats well. Chris Brown, a regular on last year's J.V., should also see some action at first as well as in left field. Another returning letterman, Bill Duane, will handle the second base chores. Bill is a flashy fielder and a fair hitter. Fifth-former Strother Randolph has no Varsity experience, but should see some limited action as Duane's understudy. Team Captain Dick Sylvester, playing his third year on the Varsity will be at shortstop. Dick ended last season with a fine .406 batting average and is also a steady fielder. Jeff Willis, who had a bit of Varsity experience last year, will be a strong replacement for Sylvester. Two Fourth-Formers, Micky Amick and Chuck Thompson, are the prime contenders for the third base spot. Both are fair fielders, but new-boy Amick has a definite edge at the plate.



Behind the plate there are no returning lettermen but there are many contenders. Jim Kuhe, of last year's J.V., has had some Varsity experience, and should be able to take over the starting berth. Mike Hazard and Todd Willson will also see action. Pitching is the department where the team promises to be strongest. Bill Melleck, Dan Boyer, and Cliff Gunst are all returning from last year's squad, while Tim Kirton and Jan Owen should be able to move up from the '60 Junior squad to aid the team. Melleck, playing his third year on the Varsity, had the lowest earned run average on the staff last year, and Boyer has the ability to develop into another strikeout artist. Gunst, though he saw only limited action last season, should be valuable as a reliever this year. Kirton and Owen, though lacking experience, should develop into valuable additions to the pitching staff.

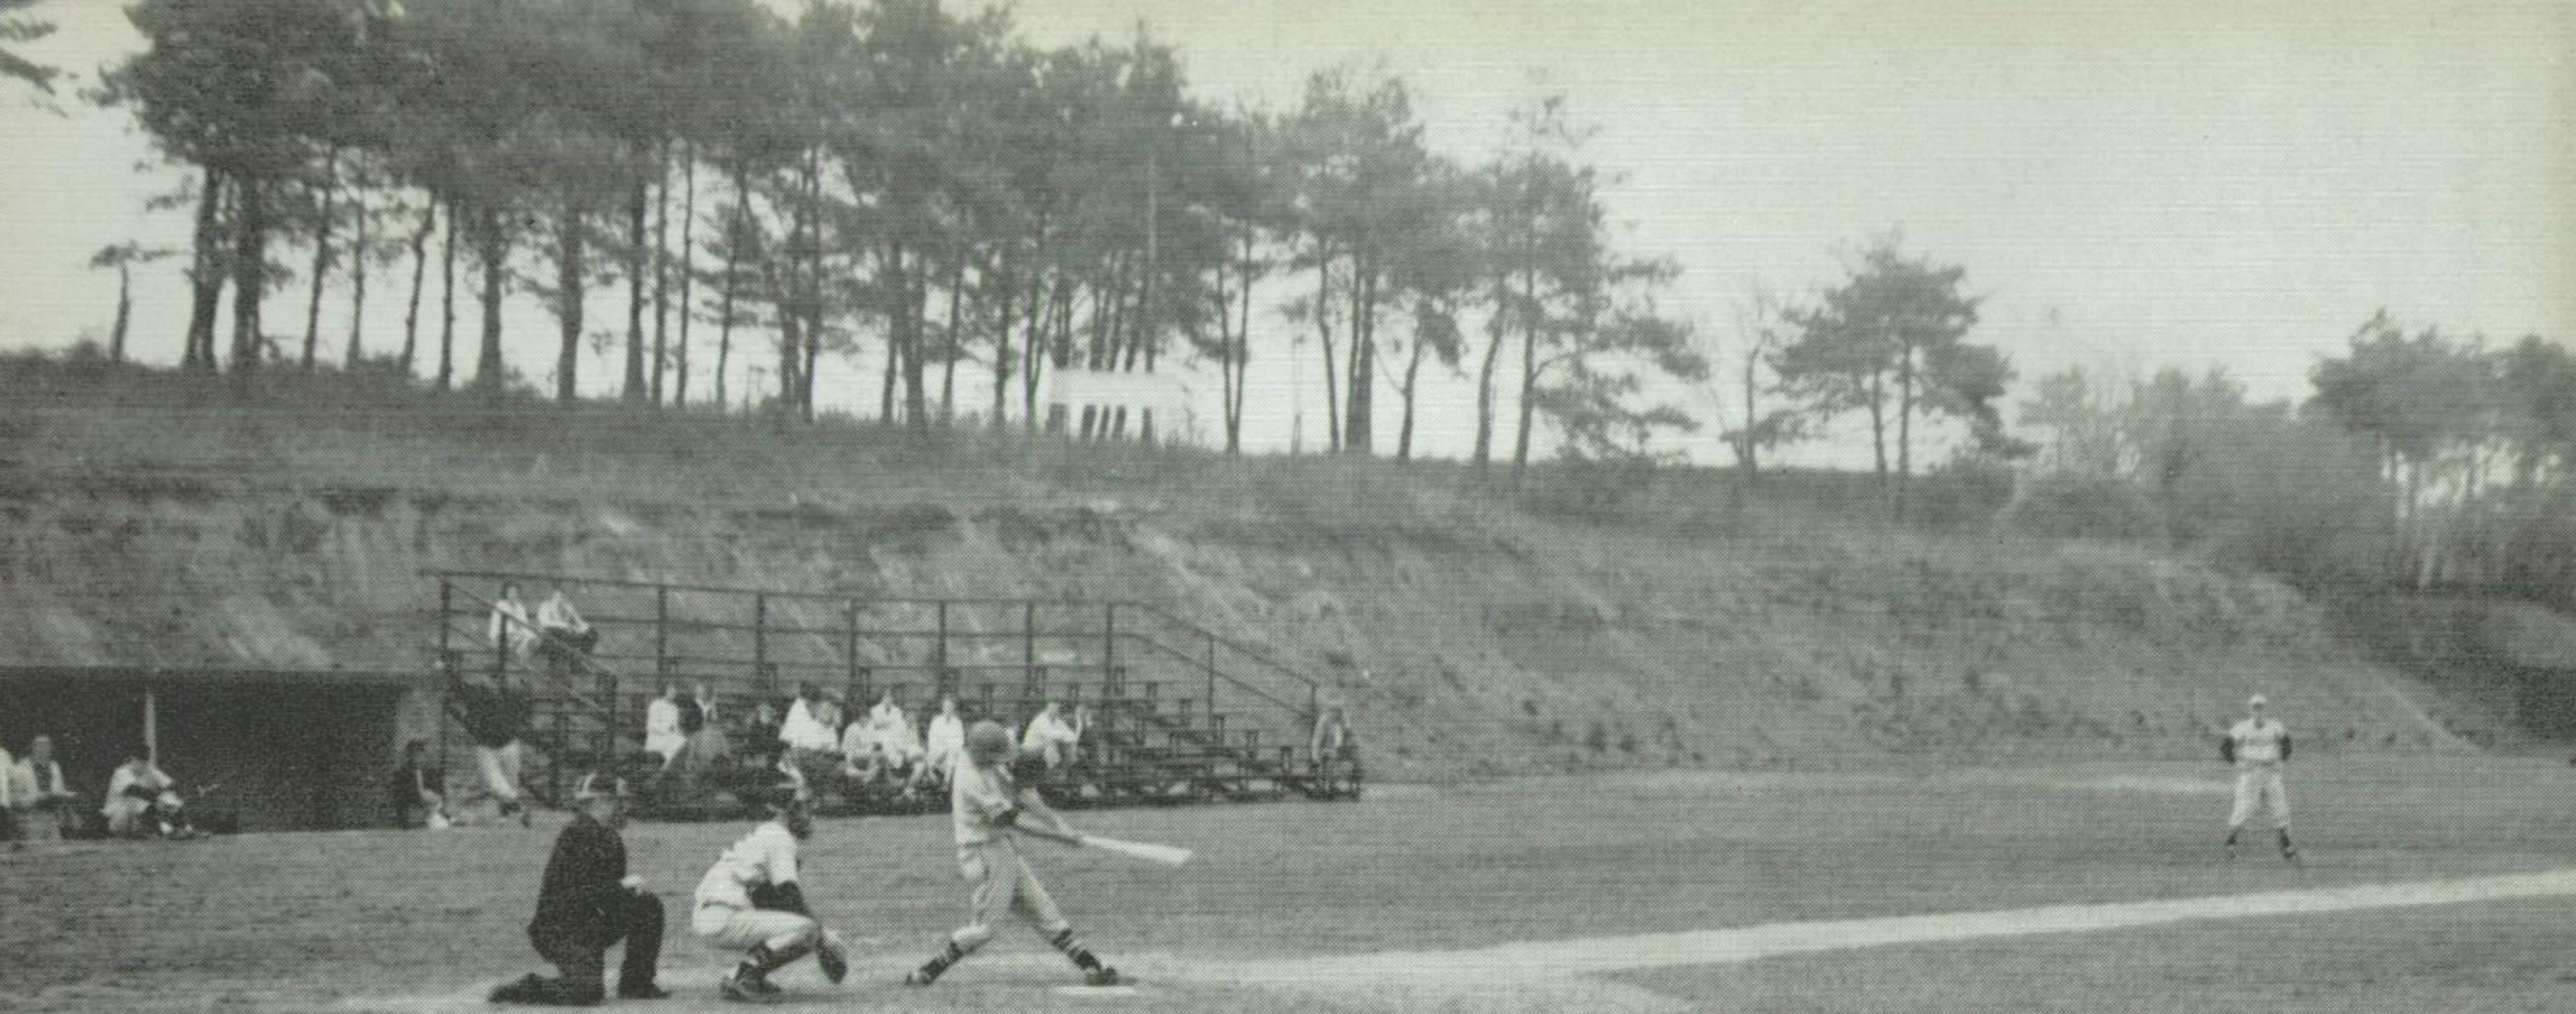
Again this year the schedule is a tough one. It opens at Haverford on Saturday, April 8th. Last year The Hill ran away with the game, but this year it should be closer. The next Wednesday Norristown High School comes to Hill. On Saturday the 15th Mercersburg Academy tries to set back the Brown men. The following week The Hill batsmen meet two college Freshmen teams, Penn on Wednesday and Princeton on Saturday. The next three games will be against Blair, Governor Mifflin High School, and Perkiomen Prep. On May 6th The Hill takes its second trip when it travels to Peddie, but returns home for a game with the Pottstown Varsity nine on Wednesday May 10th. The following day The Hillers again play away when they meet Girard College. On Saturday, May 13th, Lawrenceville invades The Hill for the first game of the traditional Hill-Lawrenceville rivalry. On the following Wednesday the Blue and Gray have their final home game of the season against Valley Forge Military Academy. Monday, May 22, sees the second meeting with Lawrenceville on their diamond. After this game the Alumni of both schools jointly present the Alumni trophy to the winning team.



Track

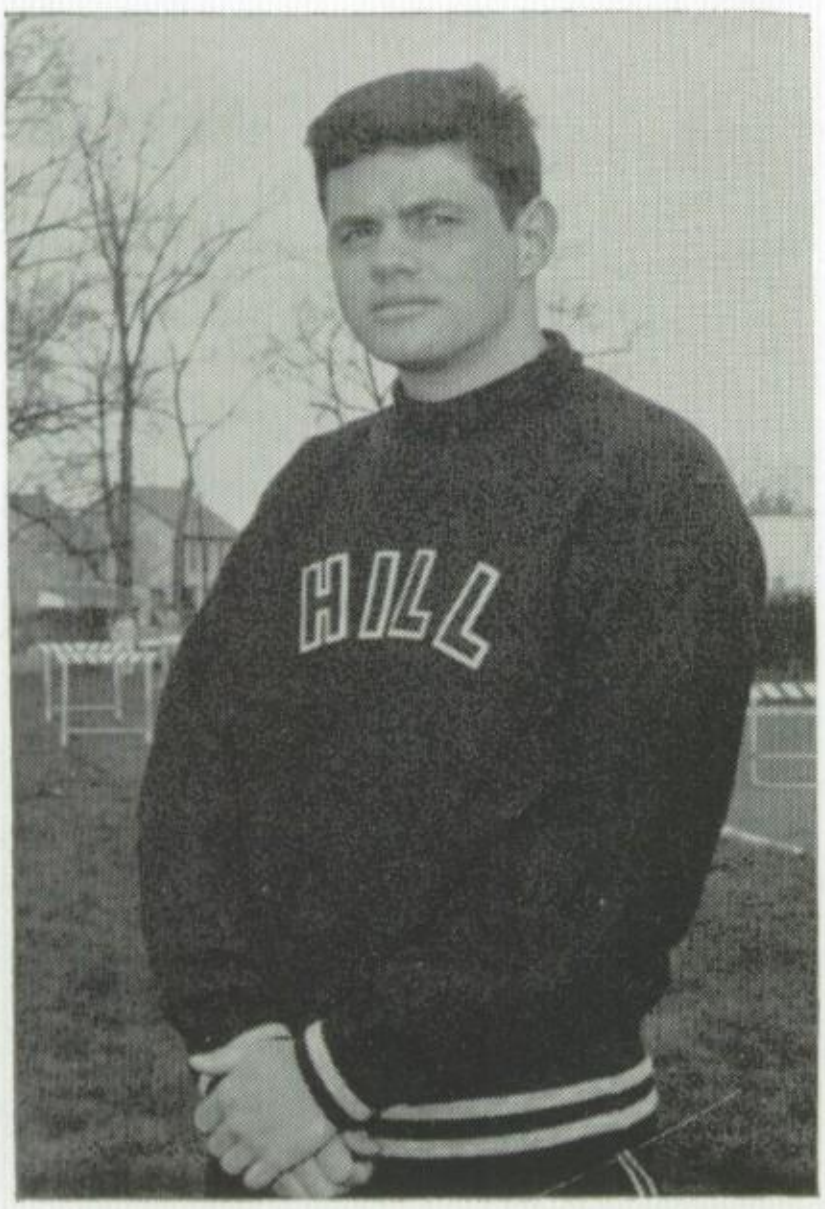
AFTER a promising Winter Track season, this year's track team looked forward to the prospect of a good season. Of course this is true every year; but if things go well, this year's record could be outstanding. Leading the list of returning lettermen is The Hill's excellent distance runner Bob McIlvain. The other lettermen are: Sixth Formers Pete Harkness, Arch MacKenzie, Sam Morris, Chris Stowell, and Fifth Former Pres Layton.

The sprints are well balanced with talent and depth. Harkness, Carl Raether, Larry Tice, Larry Zeugner, and Pete Lawler seem to be the leading contenders for the Varsity berths. Each of these runners shows potential for being a consistent place winner.

Judging from the excellent times run during the winter, the quarter-mile, half-mile, and mile seem to be The Hill's strongest events. Morris, the leading quartermiler, is ably backed by Tom Godfrey, Tex Thompson, and John Potter. Layton and Frank Baker will be The Hill's point-winners in the half-mile; while McIlvain, in view of his record-breaking 4:29.2 performance on the Lawrenceville boards, will concentrate on the mile. MacKenzie, Phil Miller, and Baird Tipson will add depth to both the half and the mile.

The hurdles appear to be one of The Hill's weaker events, but both Bill Johnson and Fourth Former Steve Griffith should be able to improve. Several members of last year's Junior Varsity team also show promise in the low hurdles.

The weight events are also weak for The Hill, but there are several potential performers and competition is strong in these events. The leading shot putters are Steve Bliss, Pete Lawler, Dick Vreeland, and Brewer Woods. Milt Wilson, Mike Glynne, and Dick Vreeland show promise in the discus throw; while Pat Tone and Wilson are the leading men in the javelin throw.



With the possible exception of the high jump, the field events are comparatively strong. The three main contenders for the broad jump are Bob Abbott and Tom O'Brien from last year's Junior Varsity, and Steve Griffith. The pole vault will be covered by returning lettermen Chris Stowell who will be aided by Jim Patterson, Durfee Day, and other newcomers. Griffith and Thompson will compete in the high jump.

This year's schedule includes one practice meet, eight dual meets, and one triangular meet. The strongest competition, as usual, will come from Lawrenceville and the University of Pennsylvania Freshmen. The first meet will be a practice meet with Norristown High. Then the team will face seven schools in dual competition. These will be Westchester Freshmen, Mercersburg Academy, Penn. Freshmen, Perkiomen School, Peddie, Stevens Trade, and Lawrenceville. The Hill will look forward to the Lawrenceville meet, not only for its traditional rivalry, but also to seek revenge for their Winter Track defeat. As has been custom for many years, The Hill team will travel to Alexandria, Virginia, to meet Woodberry Forest and Episcopal High in the annual triangular meet. The Hill was a consistent winner in this meet for many years, but the opposition has risen to a point in which the track team is no longer the defending champion.

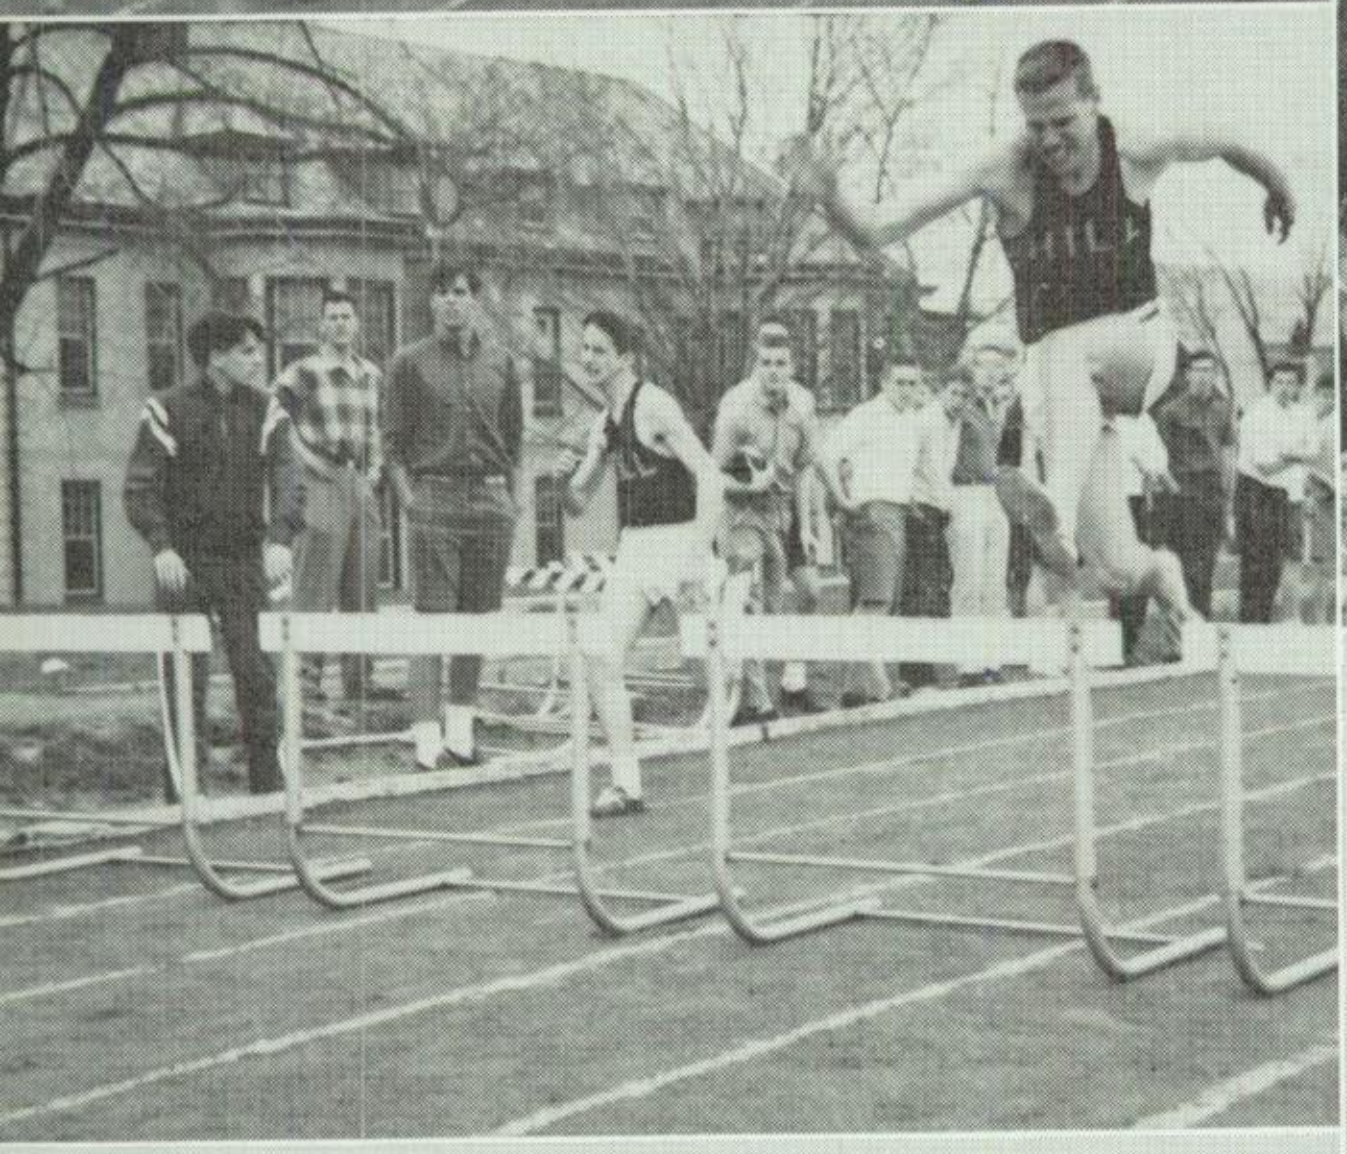
Besides the scheduled meets, The Hill will also be represented in the Penn Relays. The mile relay team will hope to duplicate the indoor victory that they set in this meet during the winter. The mile relay team will probably consist of McIlvain, Morris, Harkness, and Layton; however, John Potter, and several others have a very good chance to replace one of these men. Of The Hill's 440 yard relay team sent to the Penn Relays last year, three men are returning to the team. These three: Harkness, Zuegner, and Tice, along with Raether or Lawler, will compose a very strong 440 relay team.

Because of the excellent showings from Winter Track, and the outstanding performances of several Hill men, track coach Mr. Jackson, along with assistant coaches Little, Mercer, O'Shaughnessy, and Foster, is looking forward to a very successful season.



Tennis

WITH four returning lettermen and a new coach, the 1961 Varsity tennis team seems to be headed for a fruitful season. The new coach, Mr. Gifford Hopkins, is far from a newcomer to the tennis world. He has come to the Hill after four years of tennis at Yale University and has been an instructor at several country clubs during the summer over the last few years. The four returning lettermen are led by Captain Marshall Wallach who played in the number two position last year. The other three returning lettermen, Tuck Amory, Bob Yeager, and Sam Gillespie all held positions in last year's starting six. These four men who have had considerable previous experience will probably fill the first four single positions as well as the first two double teams.

This year the varsity is carrying only six positions instead of the usual eight. The reason for dropping the last two positions is to give more time and attention to the starting six. The removal of positions seven and eight make the competition for numbers five and six that much closer. Mr. Hopkins also intends to have the connection between the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads very close so that the top players on the J.V. will exert continuous pressure on the bottom players of the Varsity.

There are several boys who seem to be in contention for the final two positions on the team. The foremost contender is Fifth Former Rennie Booth who played the number one position on the J.V. last year. Some of the other promising players trying out for the well contested last positions are Ed Moffett, a Fifth Former who played on the J.V. last year; Rusty Drowne, a Fourth Former with J.V. experience; Fourth Former new boy Dudley Henckles; and two other Fifth Formers, Haydn Silleck and Jim Idema.

The tennis season at The Hill has never had such an early beginning as this year. Even before the winter term sports were through, there was a net across the basketball court on Sunday afternoons. It seemed as if the team would be practicing between some snow flurries on Beech Street before the start of spring vacation. A group of four players came back several days early in order to take advantage of the clay courts which had been made ready for use at an exceptionally early date.

This year the squad is scheduled to meet ten opponents of which the first four will be played on foreign ground. The two most formidable opponents, Princeton Freshmen and Lawrenceville are the first and last matches, respectively. The team will also be looking for revenge on the Pennsylvania Freshmen and the Haverford School, both of whom handed the 1960 squad close defeats. The other five teams on the schedule are Blair Academy, Valley Forge Military Academy, West Chester State Teachers College J.V., Haverford College J.V., and the Lehigh Freshmen.

Such an ambitious squad with four returning lettermen and the able leadership of a new coach seems to be headed for a victorious season and a successful showing in the Eastern Interscholastics.

Golf

UNDER the able coaching of Mr Armstrong, the golf team aimed at another successful season. Despite the fact that there were only two returning lettermen, a host of seasoned Junior Varsity players contended for the remaining five places. The seven home meets are played on the links of the Brookside Country Club, adjacent to the far fields. Brookside is a difficult eighteen hole course. Throughout the season the well-kept fairways and greens offer to the members of the team a challenge that prepares them for the courses that they play in the three away matches. Fortunately, as Brookside is an open course, there is little wind to hamper the precision needed to make difficult shots. As in previous years, Steve Grady (the Brookside Professional) instructed the players in the fine points of the game. Also, motor scooters were provided for the team during practice sessions.

Last season's contingent accounted for a 5-5-1 record in the nine dual meets and one triangular match that they played. The team won most of the games at home, but lost the traditional Woodberry Forest match, played at Woodberry Forest, Virginia, and two annual meets with Lawrenceville. This season, by winning the two matches from Lawrenceville, the team hopes to recapture the "crooked stick," symbolic of superiority in the long standing rivalry.

This year the linksters have ten matches. There is a triangular meet between The Hill, Princeton Freshmen and Haverford, plus the two meets with Lawrenceville and one match with Woodberry Forest. The other matches are with Valley Forge Military Academy, Blair School, Peddie, Mercersburg Academy, and Episcopal Academy.

David Mann captained this year's team and vied for the first slot position with Fourth Former Trip O'Donnell. Fighting for the third position were number from last year's junior varsity: Larry Jones, Bill Fryberger, Fred Miller, Baron Holmes, and Dick Ripple. Others in contention are Lance Nesbitt and Charlie Eldridge. The first two positions were strongly held, as Mann has been a letterman for two years and held the number one position last year. O'Donnell began playing last year and rose from the bottom of the ladder to a challenging position. He also won the school golf tournament, played during the last few weeks of the season. Coming up from the Junior Varsity, where they alternated as first man, Jones and Fryberger filled in the intermediate positions. Although he played little in the early part of last season, Eldridge showed promise as a long-ball hitter, and was in contention. Rounding out the team and giving it added depth, were Fifth Former Holmes and seniors Miller and Ripple.

Under the expert leadership of Captain Mann, the linksters have the spark that a team needs to dominate its opponents.

Strother F. Randolph, winner of the "Cupe" Black Cup.

The "Cupe" Black Cup

"THIS cup is a tribute to the boy on the Far Fields who best exemplifies the competitive spirit of football through his improvement, fine play, and sportsmanship." With these words, Coach Ken Brown presented the "Cupe" Black Cup this fall to Strother Randolph, a defensive back and offensive end on the Fourths football team.

Something should be said of the history of the Cup. "Cupe" Black was a student at Hotchkiss who later went to Yale, where he became football captain in 1916. When his son came to The Hill, he became interested in the Far Fields system. This was not "Cupe's" first contact with the School—while at Hotchkiss, he always remembered The Hill from the then traditional Hotchkiss-Hill rivalry. His interest in both The Hill and the Far Fields prompted him to donate the Cup to stimulate the spirit of sportsmanship. Each year, "Cupe" writes to the winner of the Cup expressing his congratulations and wishing the boy good luck in the future.

The choice of the recipient of the "Cupe" Black Cup each year becomes a harder task because so many boys seem to fulfill the qualifications. For this reason, with "Cupe's" permission, the qualifications for earning the award were slighlty changed during the War. Although students from the Second to Sixth Forms and on any football team from the Sixths Lights to the Thirds are eligible for the award, each year there is one boy who is superior to all others. This year's winner, "Stump" Randolph, certainly earned this annual prize for his continued efforts on the Fourths.

The Far Fields

THE Far Fields completed another successful year with all football squads except one having winning seasons. Mr. Mercer, Director of Athletics, did a fine job seeing that everything ran smoothly as well as helping the coaches. Strother Randolph, a member of the Fourths football team, received the "Cupe" Black Cup for his outstanding spirit, sportsmanship, and fine play.

The Sixth Lights, under the fine coaching of Mr. Green and Mr. Hopkins, again compiled a winning record of six wins, no losses, and one tie for the season. Led by John Stroh, fullback; Dave Castor, quarterback; Jeff Dolman and Tom McCaslin, halfbacks; Michael Jackman and Phil Laidlow, ends; the Lights defeated Wilson Junior High School, 13-6; Pottstown Junior High School, 19-0 and 21-0; Daniel Boone Junior High School, 13-6; Pennbrook Junior High, 13-0. The lone tie came at the hands of Pottstown Boy's Club. In the last five years, the Lights have suffered only one defeat.

The Sixth Heavies, coached again this year by the Reverend Mark L. Brown and Mr. Vernon Ward, had one of their worst seasons, compiling a record of no wins, four losses, and three ties. The Heavies suffered from a lack of scoring punch and an erratic defense which was both good and bad. This was in evidence against Wilson Junior High, Harrisburg Academy, and Pennbrook Junior High School in which the Heavies lost 18-0, 25-0, and 38-0, respectively. The team's three ties were against Daniel Boone High, 6-6; and Pottstown Junior High, 0-0 and 0-0. The Heavies' starting team in the backfield was Jim Samuels, quarterback; Ken Werner and Jim Tyrell, halfbacks; and Jim Yeager, fullback. Other backs who frequently played were Reynolds Doyle and Bill Stone. The line was composed of Karl Seitz, Bruce MacMoran, Martin Schmidt, Bill Vogel, Milt Dillon, Stoddard Melhado, and Geoff Moore. Others to play in the line were Eric Spahr, Jim Bryner, and Ted Baker.

Coached by Messrs. Revell, Dunn, and Bergquist, the Fifths compiled an undefeated season of seven wins and no losses. In doing so, the Fifths scored 172 points to their opponents' 26. The teams which were defeated were Pottstown Junior High, twice; Central Catholic High freshmen; Pennridge Junior High; Valley Forge Military Academy "B" team; Saint Pius X freshmen; and Bishop Kenrick freshmen. Tom Fader was the team leader in rushing. His other backfield mates were Tom Pittman, Eric Gould, and Hayden Evans. The starting line on offense was Jack Ziegler, Tuck Amory, Kurt Olsen, Mal Berman, Mark Friedman, Eliot Amick, and Bob Warner, while the defensive line consisted of Bob Seto, Tuck Morse, John Stephenson, Brewer Woods, Bob Ruggiero, Jan Owen, and John Gardiner. The defensive backfield was Terry Clough and Charley Aberg at outside linebacking spots, and Sandy Sidar and Tom Christy as the halfbacks.

The Fourths won six and lost one this season under the excellent coaching of Messrs. K. Brown and D. S. Ronnie. The lone defeat was inflicted by Wilson High School J.V., 13-0. The victories came over Pottsgrove High School J.V., 27-6; St. Pius X High School J.V., 19-6; Bishop Kenrick J.V., 26-13; Central Catholic J.V., 27-6; Perkiomen, 19-0; and Lansdale Catholic, 27-0. The starting linemen, both offensively and defensively, were Tom Martin, Strother Randolph, Andy Lupton, Sid Furst, Toby Talbot, Bob Warriner, Frank Orban, Durfee Day, Tony Koren, Dana Lee, and Lanny Gabel. Backs to see frequent action were Bob Hartenstine, Malcolm McAlpin, Charley Gibbs, Bob Zolto, Tony Hoover, and John Brinkerhoff.

Coached by Messrs. Jackson and Tyrer, the Thirds completed one of its best seasons in many years, turning in a four and one record. The four victories came over Valley Forge Military Academy, 32-0; Stevens Trade, 34-0; Norristown High School J.V., 42-19; and Governor Mifflin High School J.V., 21-20. In the Valley Forge win, Larry Zuegner, Bob Hinck, Bill Duane, and Ray Sass scored, while Dave Mann sparked the defense with three pass interceptions. Grant Parr, Duane, and Zuegner led The Hill's ground attack against a bewildered Stevens Trade team, while Cliff Shedd caught several long passes. Shedd, Zuegner, and Frank Price were again the stars in the win over the Norristown J.V. Governor Mifflin's team provided the hardest opposition, but touchdowns by James Moffatt, Duane, and Zuegner made the difference. The Thirds featured Price, Zuegner, Mann, Duane, Bill Mellick, and Grant Parr in the backfield, while Rick Armentrout, Shedd, John Lotz, Alan Jewitt, Jim Bollman, Jamie Moffatt, Bob Jackson, Lance Nesbitt, John Hamilton, and Pete

Gaines saw action on the line.

While the spirited football teams played well on the gridiron, the soccer teams were also having successful seasons. The future varsity booters came through in style as all teams except one had either an even or winning season.

The J.V. soccer team, under the enthusiastic coaching of Mr. Foster, won three games and lost three. The J.V.'s started the season by winning a tough game against Southern Lehigh High School J.V., 1-0. The lone goal was tallied by sixth former John Olds. The squad then lost its next three games by scores of 2-0, 3-1, and 1-0 against Conestoga High School, Westtown High School J.V., and New Hope-Solebury School. The team rallied, however, by winning its last two games against Norristown High School, 12-0, and Lancaster County Day School, 2-0. The outstanding players on this year's team were Chuck Thompson, Steve Keim, George Petersen, Dave Hinshaw, Dan Boyer, Randy Howe, Tom Godfrey, and Mark Busenkell.

This year's Thirds soccer team, coached by Messrs. Jackman, Eddy, and Lea, played five games, and posted a record of two wins and two losses. In the first game, the team lost to The Phelps School, 1-0; but in their second outing, they defeated Perkiomen's J.V., 5-2. The New Hope-Solebury School outplayed the Thirds to a 3-0 victory. Playing Phelps again, the team exacted revenge by scoring five goals, and again, against Perkiomen, the score was 4-0 in favor of The Hill. Every day intrasquad games were played, with the "Road Runners" winning the championship. This team was composed of captain Larry Mead, Standouts on this year's Fourths team were Jim Bingham, left outside; Hardy Bowen, goalie; Ted Chaloner, center forward; Dick Clemmer, halfback; Bob Ferguson, right outside; Keith Harmer, forward; Jim Jacobs, halfback; John Long and Ted Mundy at the fullbacks, who helped Messrs. Walsh and Normand to have a record of two wins and one loss. The team won its opener 2-1 against the Perkiomen School Thirds, but lost their second contest with Church Farm School, 2-1. To end the season the Fourths again pressed a 2-1 victory over Perkiomen. The Fourths were a squad of interested, hard-working players who gradually improved as the season went on.

The Junior Soccer unit, coached by Mr. Webster and Mr. Whiteley, posted a record of three wins, four losses, and one tie. Victories were recorded over the Devereux School, 7-2; Perkiomen Juniors, 3-1; and over Devereux again, 6-1. The losses came at the hands of Pennbrook Junior High School twice and at the hands of Phelps School. The season's single tie was with Lancaster Country Day School, 4-4. Their record, in their coaches' estimation, did not give a true picture of the team's ability or spirit. Players were Howard Van Sciver, Clarence Balis, John Herasimchuk, and Mike Charters on the front line; Bill Leavens, Alex Grott, and Jonathan Talbot at the halfbacks; Charles Goudiss and Wayne Ewing at the fullbacks; and John Robinson in the goal.

Winter Term Sports

THE Winter Term sports again had a successful year, more so than last year, as every team but the Junior swimmers had a winning season.

For the seventh year in succession Mr. Bissell's "B" team wrestlers had a winning season. The team posted a record of 9-3. The three defeats were at the hands of Stevens Trade, 18-20; Bethlehem, 15-29; and Northampton, 25-28. The Stevens Trade defeat was the first in sixty-five contests. The team triumphed over Solanco, 42-23; Harriton, 42-5; Perkiomen, 26-16; Valley Forge Military, 43-8; West Chester, 45-14; Governor Mifflin, 31-19; Lawrenceville, 35-3; Springfield, 37-9; and Girard College, 40-17 .The individual weight classes were dominated by Mike Wick and Dave Castor at 95 lbs., Tom McCaslin at 106 lbs., Carl Pfeiffer at 112 lbs., Ted Wilson at 120 lbs., Malcolm McAlpin and Trip O'Donnell at 127 and 133; Fred Bingham and Bob Hartenstine at 138 and 145 respectively, Chris Wick at 156 lbs.; Wayne Titus, Bob Groener, Nick Roggeveen, Ed Fenstermacher, and Charlie Powers were consistent performs in the upper weights.

The Junior Varsity Basketball squad under Mr. C. A. Brown posted a record of six wins and five losses. Pete Waasdorp, Chuck Thompson, and Haydn Evans were the high scorers, with Thompson and Evans each netting 14 points in the Stevens Trade games and the South Lehigh contest respectively. These three boys were ably backed up by Brad Oliver, Charlie Atwood, and Bob Ferguson. The squad posted victories over the Shamrocks of Pottstown, 54-49; Church Farm School, 42-17; Boyertown High School, 46-43; Chestnut Hill Academy, 34-6; Southern Lehigh High School, 47-34; and the Devereux School, 46-43.

The J.V. Hockey team had an even season as they posted a record of 2-2 under the coaching of Mr. Donald C. Lea and Mr. Peter Webster. The team opened the season strongly with a 4-1 victory over the Hershey Junior Bears as Stoddard Melhado, John Magenheimer, Jim Samuels, and Forrest Smith each tallied once. The team then dropped its second game of the year to the Paoli Falcons, 4-3. The Hill played its best game of the year against Livingston High School J.V. by winning 9-0 as Smith and Harry Houston each scored three goals. The season final was dropped to Lawrenceville's J.V.'s, 3-0. The starting line consisted of Dave Loring, Tom Pittman, and Forrest Smith while the defense was John Colby and Dave Brinkerhoff. Frank Orban was in the goal.

Mr. Dunn's Junior Hockey squad had a most successful season winning four and losing only one. Lansdowne Boys Club went down, 4-3; Chestnut Hill's Juniors succumbed, 3-2; and Peck School lost 5-2. Lawrenceville was quite easily beaten even though the score was a close 3-2. The only defeat came at the hands of Princeton Country Day School, 2-0. The starting line was Stu Baker, Ken Warner, and Mike Chapman who alternated with John Talbot. On defense were Bill Harris and Bill Vogel, backed up by Eric Spahr. John Gardiner was the goalie. Behind this starting line-up Bill Bicksler, John Davis, Ted Baker, and Mike Jackman all saw considerable action. These boys show considerable promise

Junior basketball under Mr. Ronnie compiled an impressive 8-1 record. Starters were Bob Williams, Brad Oliver, Bruce McMorran, Bob Laughlin, Bob Ruggiero, and Harry Shaw. They were ably backed up by Manuel Galdo, Jeff Hill, Cap Doyle, and Joe Moyer. During the season the team defeated Bishop Kenrick Freshmen, 38-19; Pottsgrove Junior High School, 33-22; St. Pius X Freshmen, 45-20; Pottstown Junior High School three times, 36-26, 35-26, and 34-26; and Bishop Kenrick and St. Pius X again 46-42 and 35-26 respectively. The high scorers on the squad were Oliver, Williams and Laughlin.

The "C" team wrestlers had another undefeated campaign as they posted a 5-0 record with victories over Perkiomen School, 53-5; West Chester High School, 32-26; Governor Mifflin High School, 22-14; Springford High School, 40-11; and Pottsgrove High School, 46-6. Dave Castor was number one at 95 lbs.; Bill Leavens at 106; Gerolf Pike at 112 lbs.; Alex Trott and Mike Hazzard at 120 and 127 lbs. respectively; Jim Osborn and Cottrell at 138 lbs.; Bob Jackson at 145 lbs. Eric Gould, Milt Dillon, Wayne Wertz, and Charlie Powers were the Blue and Gray heavyweights.

Mr. Whatley's J.V. swimmers concluded a 5-1 season losing only to Lawrenceville, 32-54. Victories were recorded against Neshaminy High School, Mercersburg Academy, Germantown Academy, Valley Forge Military, and Germantown, Y.M.C.A. During the course of the season, nine J.V. records were broken. In the 50 yard freestyle, Terry Clough swam a 24.5 against Mercersburg. against Neshaminy High School in a time of 2:38.6. Jim Freeman set a new mark in the 100 yard backstroke with a 1:04.9 against Valley Forge. In the last meet of the year against Germantown Y.M.C.A., Dick Coughlin established a new 100 yard butterfly mark of 1:05.5; Mark Friedman, a 1:22.5 in the 100 yard breaststroke; Sandy Sidar, 56.4 for the 100 yard freestyle; Dick Haggott, 51.97 points in the dive; the 200 yard medley relay of Freeman (backstroke), Friedman (breaststroke), Tom O'Brien (butterfly), and Frank Beidler (freestyle), a 1:54.0; and the 200 yard freestyle relay of Scattergood, Barry McWilliams, Terry Clough, and Sidar went 1:40.3. Through the season Sandy Sidar was top man in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle; Friedman, in the 100 yard breaststroke; McWilliams, in the 200 yard freestyle; Freeman, in the 100 yard backstroke; and Coughlin and O'Brien, in the 100 yard butterfly. Haggott, Charlie Gibbs, and Burt Harbison were the divers.

Mr. Hopkins' squash team had a season record of 4-1. In a 4-3 victory over Penn Charter, Chuck Lewis, Toni Wolbarst, Stump Randolph, and Bill MacMillan gained easy victories. Haverford and Episcopal were handily beaten next by scores of 6-1 and 7-0. Penn Charter, however, ended hopes of an undefeated season by defeating the Hill, 4-3, as only Dana Lee, MacMillan, and Jon DeWitt could win. Episcopal was then easily trounced, 7-0. Tuck Amory was ranked first, followed by Bob Dryfoos, Toni Wolbarst, Randolph, McMillan, and DeWitt.

The J.V. Winter Track squad under Mr. Jackson had only one meet this winter which it won from Morristown High School, 50-18. The Hill runners and jumpers won all the events but one and tied for first in another. Baird Tipson

In the field events, Pete Lawler led another Hill sweep with a putt of 41′ 5½″; Steve Griffith and Thompson leaped 5′3″ in the high jump, and Griffith also tied for first place in the broad jump with an 18′6″ leap.

The Junior swimmers posted a 1-2 record this winter and were the only squad to have a losing season. The lone victory was over the Pottstown Y.M.C.A. Juniors, 33-14. One new Junior record was established as the 200 yard medley relay of Siim Hanja (backstroke), Walt Carr (breaststroke), Oliver Transue (butterfly), and Steve Rowles (freestyle) clocked at 2:06.4. In the individual events, Jim Oliver and Carr were number one in the 50 yard freestyle and breaststroke; John Ziegler and Tom Evans, in the 50 yard backstroke and butterfly Wilber Jones was first in the 100 yard freestyle, while the divers were Kozloff, Bob Krause, Vince Ferenbach, and Bill Acker.

The Senior Intramural Basketball League under Mr. Mercer was again a success this winter. When the season ended, the Celtics, captained by Chris Reuss and led in scoring by Bob Hinck, had compiled a 26-8 record, while Carl Guild's and Craig Ward's Warriors had placed second with a 16-18 slate. The Royals, under Captain Jack Koury and aided by Charlie Fels and Steve Manry finished in the third position, and the Lakers finished in the cellar with a 11-23 reading for the season. Intellectual Life

DOES a student's career at The Hill consist only of classroom and athletic activity? Or, can it be said that The Hill exists only to provide its students with fifteen credits and a college? If this is the feeling, we are losing perhaps the greatest benefit of preparatory school education.

At The Hill, one should discover a type of education above the purely academic side of life. Let us call it "intellectual life" and find out whether or not one may consider it tangible. Of course, one must admit that not every boy here will search for intellectual enrichment beyond the classroom.

What many students do not fully realize are the varied and intimate opportunities for mental stimulation and advancement. The small, select group undertaking high level and independent tutorials with individual masters may grasp for the first time the meaning of extra achievement in special interest areas.

An extra-curricular activity may perform the same function. Membership in the Science Club, for example, leads to the conception of advanced projects, individual or co-operative, that are undertaken purely for their own value to the experimenter, not as the more common laboratory drudgery. The English and Speaking Clubs are the same type of agent to those more interested in literature or controversial questions. It is in places such as these that the young, active minds begin to ferment—discussion, inquiry, and meditation; all may be experienced at a rewarding and meaningful level.

These, however, are still regular commitments. Certainly there are other opportunities for the student. For those who closely examine the exhibits displayed in the library, their true worth and impressive standard satisfies curiosity while generating a desire for more complete information. Especially, the Rosenbach displays do not merely consist of various groups of "canned" exhibits to be passed from school to school.

Then again, the Paideia Conferences held at The Hill are another source of intellectual stimulation. This year students and visiting professors were exposed to humanistic, scientific, and Marxist interpretations of history; controversies that could not be solved by listening to the speakers alone.

And, just what does go through the minds of interested students when they listen to the various concert groups that perform at The Hill? To discover the value and pleasure of these programs is certainly a part of this intellectual life. Of course, the Cleveland Playhouse's presentation of Doctor Faustus was entertaining for all, but it also demonstrated the living universality of outstanding Renaissance playwrights.

The above activities are only the beginning, basic tangibilities for everyone. To multiply the fruits gained here is left to initiative, on which true education must be founded. The point to all this, however, lies in the realization of the purpose of this institution. It stands for a wide scope of valid experiences in education that are intended for oneself in whatever way he takes them, not necessarily something begun and left for college to finish.

The Dial

"CAPTAIN, we're going down to the Dial room, until about one or two."

"Ok fellas, and lots-of-luck. Be sure to be on the quarterdeck by twelve bells."

"So let's get going, you guys. We're weeks behind on My DIAL. Silvie, where are all those articles?"

"Hey Gibbons, where are all those articles for His DIAL?"

"You don't get it; we need those articles. I want half of My DIAL by February."

"Yeh Gibbons, you big beauty, let's have those articles."

"Sure Cum Laude, when you learn how to paste up picture pages, I'll get the articles in."

This is how we stood on articles, but thanks to "Money Grubber" Cliff Shedd and the address-o-graph we received enough to pay for the DIAL stationery—yep, with our names on the letterheads, too. Even though our funds ran low, we found enough in Cliff's sock to pay for the year-end orgy. (You bet!!)—banquet.

But Freddie had other things on his mind. "Where are the full page sport candids, Harry?"

"Don't worry. I'll get them in tomorrow. I have a term paper to write tonight. You know I can't do everything at once."

Yeh, yeh; but lo! Who is this? Yes, John Olds was elected to the Board when "Preppy" Fred found out that no one had done his Sixth Form quotes over the summer. "John, how are those quotes coming?"

DIAL BOARD

" 'There is no big beauty that hath not some strangeness in its proportions.' —Bacon. How is that for Gibbons or Ripple?"

Great John, but there was more to worry about than that. Freddie found out (real quick) that E. T. didn't appreciate using a Blair cover for the '61 DIAL. So despite a vote of five to two in favor of the Blue and White, the order for a blue and silver (light silver) cover went through.

January 26, 1961, will never be forgotten by the DIAL Board. Mr. Hall dedicated the holiday to the proposition that we take pictures all day. The school thanked the DIAL for revealing the holiday, and the DIAL thanked Mr. Hall for the opportunity to work!

We all sank lower; everyone looked forward anxiously to February 15 and the first eight books. But instead of a lap full of articles, Freddie found a nice ulcer. Fred might even have had a better case if he had known that Sylvester was so freely practicing his autograph on the galley proofs.

While Ripple switched his "talents" to pasting up book pages, Harry continued to write his term paper. Even during his fourth spring, Cum Lousy hadn't learned what it meant to be four pages short in a publication. What's wrong, Harry? The rest of us have finished our second term paper.

You know, in about twenty years (if we're still alive), we will look back on this and have a good laugh, especially Roberts and Pore. It was a pain, a real pain, but in all seriousness, we are all proud of our DIAL.

For a trite ending, "You're lucky if you're reading it now!"

The News

WHEN the chalk dust had cleared and the spoils of the annual NEWS banquet were consumed, the most carefully kept secret in the history of the Hill NEWS was out. Above the riotous din of knives, forks, and champagne corks, the members of the 1960-61 board prepared to assume their dire responsibility.

As the first magnificent issue began to take shape, gaping holes appeared in the make-up. It was Mr. Revell, the tireless faculty advisor, who finally discovered the error. The clean-living board of old had neglected to elect a Feature Editor, an Art Editor, or a Photography Editor. With characteristic organization, Moffatt bulled his neck and sprang into action. The dust again cleared, and the masthead became: James V. Moffatt, Editor in Chief; David A. Brownell, Managing Editor; L. Baird Tipson, Jr., News Editor; C. William Finady, III, Sports Editor; George F. Hewitt, IV, and Karl B. Benkwith, Jr., Co-Feature Editors; Zigi Broel-Plater, Staff Editor; B. Eliot Wigginton, News Copy Editor; James J. Mitchell, Sports Copy Editor; Lawrence M. Mead, III, and Robert E. Whitehead, Proof Editors; George S. Mason, Business Manager; Ian C. S. MacGregor, Photography Editor; and John A. Koury, Jr., Advertising Manager. The two most important and influential positions, however, had been beyond the control of the board. Mr. Alexander H. Revell and Mr. George D. Senter continued as Faculty Advisor and Business Advisor, respectively.

It was soon apparent that this board had magnetic personality. Heelers flocked to the Newsroom, lured by the attractive advantages of working for the NEWS, the frequent summonses in the paper itself, and the proximity of the Co-op. The board rarely failed to provide a spectacle. The mysterious meetings in the dead of night lent an aura of power to the newsroom; Whitehead found he was getting out of shape from lack of sleep and retired to continue his strivings for Head of School. The epic contests of the chalk and eraser resounded throughout Upper School. The board won a final great victory as Moffatt, Finady, and Tipson melted the stone-cold heart of Mr. Senter for a final eight-page issue, sending accounts hopelessly into the red.

It was in the Fall Term that the true genius of the board emerged. Finady and Mitchell led the Sports Department in putting out a consistently excellent Sports page. But it was the craft of the News Department that kept the standard of the paper high. Springing into action a day early, the combined intellects of Mead, Wigginton, and Plater always managed to usurp page one from the deserving sportsmen, leaving them with only pages three and four. Moffatt and Brownell were usually able, by the dint of strength and intellect, to resolve the issues, yet somehow Finady and Mitchell ran a poor second in the struggle to avoid staying down for the printer. Tipson and Brownell never saw his face.

The election of Andy Rowles as Associate Editor surprised none; by the next day Rowles had figured out the intricacies of his position and was filling the gaps in Hewitt's page. Mr. Revell usually managed to keep Hewitt and Benkwith on the straight and narrow, but occasionally the symbolism of the "Rebel Rouser" escaped his uncanny pen. The combined efforts of Tipson, Wigginton, Mead, and Plater impressed upon the News heelers the fact that one writes one's article first. The battle of Wednesday cuts left Finady on top, with Tipson and Hewitt a distant tie for second.

The Winter Term saw the board return to its work in high spirits, as Moffatt flexed his arms and gleefully announced that only ten issues remained to be published. Both Finady and Tipson saw the genius in the statement that more pictures meant less writing; both continued to print as many as possible before Mr. Senter's red pencil struck. MacGregor and Mason were forced to take the brunt of the onslaught; Mason pacified the rages of Mr. Senter, while MacGregor kept a lonely Sunday night vigil in the darkroom.

Pressure mounted as heelers, finally realizing that elections lay just around the corner, tried to impress Tipson or Finady on one of the editors' rare appearances in the Newsroom. Only Moffatt could remain aloof. As Editor-in-Chief he had led the NEWS through another successful and productive year.

Credit must go to George Mason's business board for performing consistently under two-edged pressure from Mr. Senter and the board; to Jack Koury, who sold the advertisements that kept some black ink in the books; to Jerry Jenkins, whose debate articles spared none; to Moose Moffatt and the Sixth Form NEWS committee for assisting Plater in keeping heelers on their toes; to MacGregor and his photographers for keeping the NEWS illustrated; and to Martin Lee, whose cartoons lent a touch of humor to the feature page.

The Record

LAST April the 1960 Record board elected David A. Brownell, Fredric M. Roberts, D. S. Stevens Schaff, N. Phillips Wardwell, VI, and B. Eliot Wigginton to succeed them in 1960-61. Schaff was selected chairman of the new board; Fred Roberts was chosen as Exchange Editor; and Wigginton was elected to serve as Make-Up Editor.

The new board, with the assistance of the retiring group, put out its first issue in May, 1960. Dennis M. Oliver, honorary member of the old board, led the contribution list with five poems. Wayne Shadburne harkened back to the Aristophanic tradition with his comedy, "The Toads." Cast in a familiar prep-school setting, it tells of the revolt of two students against the iron rule of the gods on "High Hillympus," each of whom seems to remind us of someone we know. The students, Marmaladeus and Xerkwater by name, succeed in flooding Hillympus by blocking up the Schtyxhill. Subduing the gods is serious business, but between our intrepid friends and their accomplices the toads, they bring the immortals to terms. Dan Harris, chairman of the old board, presented "The Dynamic of Guidance—or Extracts from Heaven," a monologue by a spirit; and Andy Burrows wrote a poem dramatizing the crumbling of a civilization, ending with its total destruction and subsequent rebirth as a "people both naked and free." The title of the work was apparently omitted, and the printer helped out by calling it "Heading??" The contributions of the new board began with a story by Wigginton entitled "I Must Have Faith." It posed the question: "Why were we put on this earth if we are fated to die miserably, probably victims of an atomic war?" Schaff's poem, "Man and Outlook," followed, telling of the withering of a vision of beauty before the "contemptuous sneers" of sophisticated cynicism. Dave Brownell followed with "The Fair," which told the story of an old man who was a genius on the banjo.

Phil Wardwell's story "Dear Jon," tells what happened when a boy treated his girl as he knew that his own father, whom he admired very much, would treat her. Ironically, he then finds out that his mother has just left his father for good. A Fourth Former, John Groener, ended up the issue with the story of "The Polish Gentleman." The Polish Gentleman is a fat, rich amateur pool player in Las Vegas. He runs into a desperately broke professional from the East, who promptly wins from the fat one the three hundred dollars he needs. When he leaves the pool hall, the Pole follows him, knocks him out, and then takes back the money.

After the summer layoff, a new school year and a new Record volume began, this time by the new board alone. The new members introduced something original to their task: illustrations. Eliot Wigginton took pen in hand to graphically interpret four of the pieces in the first issue. Eliot might be called the star of this number, for along with his pictures it contains his nostalgic poem on the passing of the great romantic era of the railroads: "The Dying Train," which was reviewed as the best piece in the issue. The first story, "Alone," by Schaff, told of a condemned man who lost his mind while waiting for his sentence to be carried out. Rick Armentrout's "Cornfields" related the remorse of a youth after having killed an innocent groundhog. Next, a poem by Jerry Jenkins called "On a Beach at Night" showed a man's search for solitude, and his chagrin at learning that another had found his secret secluded refuge. It was followed by "Imagination," by Phil Wardwell, a story about twin brothers and the dreams of a girl. One of the twins, Frank, was more attractive than the other, and the girl had a crush on him. The less attractive twin, David, dreamed about this same girl, and one night he sneaked out to see her. We can sympathize with Dave when she whispered in the dark, "Oh, Frank, you can't imagine how long I've dreamed . . ." The emphasis then turned to the sea, namely Fred Ayer's "Here Endeth Eighteen," the story of the eighteen ill-fated barques of Jaques Slotnick, the descendant of Olaf Pilaf the Viking. Mr. Slotnick was a frustrated sailor from away back, a very frustrated sailor. He was so frustrated, as a matter of fact, that he managed to lose, wreck, sink or misplace eighteen sailboats in a row. A fanciful poem by Jerry Jenkins serves as a chaser for this salty draught. "Round and Regular" tells of a little man who lives in a very fine bottle, and requests that no one fill the bottle, because he would hate to die in there. "I Remember," by Peter Bassett, a Fifth Former, told of a deranged old man who refused to leave his slum tenement home until it was dismantled from under him. The Board is grateful for the kind assistance of Mr. Custer, faculty adviser to the Record, in making this another successful and productive year.

DANCE COMMITTEE

Dance

AFTER a good deal of planning and anticipation, the weekend of February 11th arrived, bringing with it approximately ninety beautiful young ladies who helped make the Winter Term Dance an enjoyable one for members of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Forms.

All of the girls had arrived by late in the afternoon, and after being introduced to Mrs. Merwin, the school's social secretary, they were treated to a Hill School dinner. Then the festivities began. From eight o'clock until midnight the couples danced to the pleasant music of Jimmy Bolton and his Band in gaily decorated Donner Hall. The girls then retired to their rooms, while the boys reluctantly returned to their respective dorms.

By eleven o'clock Sunday morning the campus was normal once again, with the exception of those members of the Dance Committee who escorted the girls to Philadelphia.

The Sixth Form Dance weekend began on April 28, with more than one hundred vivacious females invading the campus. Arlen Saylor and his orchestra provided the music for both Friday's formal dance, which ended at two A. M., and Saturday's informal dance until midnight. The weekend proved very successful from all standpoints.

Jim Snowden served as chairman of the Dance Committee. Also on the Committee were Bill McClave, Dick Sylvester, Charlie Lee, and John Hamilton. In addition to the two invitational dances, many small and equally successful dances were held throughout the year with some of the nearby girls' schools.

Glee Club and Choir

UNDER the skilled direction of Mr. Lloyd Tuttle, the Glee Club concluded another successful year and continued to bolster its reputation as an excellent singing group. The club not only appeared in its usual winter concerts and the year end Humanities presentation, but also took part for the first time in a vesper service in St. Thomas Church in New York City and a combined concert with the Episcopal Academy Glee Club and the Valley Forge Military Academy Glee Club and Band, at Valley Forge.

The Fall Term was spent largely in preparation. The club spent its rehearsals in work for the winter concert schedule, the choral service at St. Thomas, and the annual Candlelight Service in the chapel. Rehearsal was also begun on "King David."

Less than ten days after the beginning of the Winter Term, the Glee Club traveled to Bryn Mawr for its first winter concert with the Baldwin School. After the Baldwin chorus had performed, Mr. Tuttle led the boys in "Laudate Nomen Domini", "Brothers Sing On", and a medley from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial By Jury." The medley featured Jim Snowden as the plaintiff, Edwin; Art Booth as Angelina, Phil Wardwell as the Learned Judge, Harry Pore as the Usher, and Charlie Lee as the Foreman of the Jury. The remainder of the club served as jurymen. Following the concert was an informal dance during which the Hilltones performed.

February 18 the club again traveled to Bryn Mawr for its second concert, this time at The Shipley School. Although threatened by a thick fog, the buses missed only one turn, and after backing a mere hundred yards down the Expressway, the club arrived in time to give an abbreviated concert. After a short dance and a performance by Shipley's very excellent Hobohemians, the buses once more roared off into the fog down the long road to Pottstown.

After a concert at The Hill, at which the Glee Club joined with The Ellis School Glee Club in a medley from Carousel, the boys traveled to Princeton for their last winter concert with the Miss Fine's School Chorus. When both groups had completed their regular selections, they joined in a medley from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado". Jim Snowden, Burt Harbison, and Phil Wardwell sang the male leads.

The Spring Term was spent in preparation for the year's two large concerts. On April 16 the Glee Club boarded the buses for the Valley Forge Military Academy. There the group joined with the Valley Forge and Episcopal Glee Clubs and the Valley Forge Military Band in presenting a concert to over two thousand listeners. The program opened with the first movement of Randall Thompson's "The Testament of Freedom". After several selections by the band, the combined glee clubs sang Luther's "A Mighty Fortress", followed by "Aura Lee," "They Call the Wind Maria," "My Heart Stood Still," and "Marching to Praetoria." The performance ended as the band joined the glee clubs in Sibelius's "Finlandia."

On May 21 The Hill School Glee Club combined with The Shipley School Chorus, professional soloists, and members of the Philadelphia Orchestra to present Arthur Honneger's "King David" at the annual Humanities Concert. This concert proved to be the conclusion and high point of a very rewarding year.

Throughout the year the club derived leadership and administration from President Jim Snowden, Vice-president Phil Wardwell, and Treasurer Phil Grantham.

Most glee club members also belong to the choir, which occupies the chancel for all chapel services. Besides singing weekly anthems, the choir performed in St. Thomas Church and in the annual Candlelight Service in the chapel.

Following the Thanksgiving recess, the choir assembled in New York and rehearsed at St. Thomas'. Its part in the service was to sing four offertory anthems. After the first, "Sound the Trumpet," Headmaster Hall read one of the lessons. The choir then performed "Immortal Invisible," in which Snowden sang a solo, "Let All Men Hear," with a duet by Harbison and Snowden, and finally the "Credo" from Haydn's "Lord Nelson Mass."

The annual Candlelight Service was held on December 11. The choir began the service by processing to the carols "Adeste Fidelis" and "Veni Emmanuel." After forming a huge cross before the altar, they sang "Go Tell It on the Mountain," featuring an antiphonal quartet of Snowden, Grantham, Wardwell, and Bill Hazard. Following a tenor solo by Snowden, "Cantique de Noel," and a congregational hymn, the augmented choir concluded with two more carols, "Break Forth into Joy", and "Carol of the Bells." The choir then recessed with lighted candles to "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," beautifully ending the service.

Orchestra and Band

THE Hill School Marching Band this year again provided music for the Fall Term home football games. Throughout all these contests it bolstered moral support for the team as well as the spectators. At the Hill-Lawrenceville game it led the student body onto Dell Field and exhibited its ability in playing spirited fight songs.

Following the Christmas vacation the members of the orchestra and band changed their marching uniforms to tuxedos for a series of concerts at nearby girls' schools. Along with the Glee Club, the orchestra first went to The Baldwin School where they played "La Mascarada", "Saint Antone: Corral", and finally "Curtain Call". The orchestra also traveled to the Shipley School and Miss Fine's School in Princeton, New Jersey. Finally, it played host to both the Ellis School and the Agnes Irwin School here at The Hill. Following these and other performances, a dance was held with the visiting girls' school.

In the Spring Term the orchestra played its selections for the school at one of the Saturday Morning Exercise programs. Here, as at all previous performances, it was continued by Mr. Hans Nix. Mr. Nix showed the school what a remarkable job he did with the material at his disposal. It was particularly difficult for him to choose music which would sound good with the small number of instruments in the orchestra, and still appeal to its listeners.

ORCHESTRA

The officers this year, as in the past, were capable musicians as well as competent leaders. Jack Koury officiated as President of the organization, doing his job commendably. Bill Hauser in the office of Vice President carried out his duties well, and fortunately for the band and the orchestra he will be returning next year to continue as first trumpeter. Larry Jones as Treasurer kept track of the financial affairs throughout the year. Jon Stolz, holding the difficult position of manager, co-ordinated the functions of the Band and Orchestra.

The last meeting of the year was held at the Lakeside Inn, on the outskirts of Pottstown. Here all the members of both the Band and the Orchestra and Mr. Nix dined and discussed the past year's activities. The election of next year's officers was also held at this time.

This year the Band and Orchestra again provided opportunities to those members of The Hill's student body who were sufficiently talented and ambitious with a musical instrument to play in a musical organization. It is hoped by this year's officers that all students with any musical talent will next year come out for either of the organizations and help them complete another successful season. They will find, as did this year's members, that it is not only fun, but also a rewarding and creative experience which will not be forgotten for a long time. With a new variety of instruments the band and orchestra's quality will be improved. It will then be possible for it to take on more difficult and complicated pieces and become more of a symphony orchestra type than it now is.

Dramat

THE Dramat is one of the oldest and most rewarding activities of the School. It provides an outlet for all theatrical interests. A complementary group, The Little Theatre Workshop, sponsors acting classes and occasional one-act plays when active.

This year, the Dramat produced two plays. The first "Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane, was directed by Mr. Custer and performed the night before Thanksgiving Recess. The action takes place on a small ocean liner, bound for parts seemingly unknown. In reality, the boat sails for Hell, and the passengers are dead people en route to the Place of Judgment. A young couple (Jacques Vroom and Mrs. Webster) are the first to discover their destination; the amiable Tom Prior (Myles Denny-Brown), who drinks to forget, is the next to uncover the secret. It is he who convinces the other passengers. An assortment of unconventional reactions ensue. Duke, a young clergyman (Phil Wardwell), is bewildered but assumes a front of reckless gaiety to cover his real feelings. Mrs. Cliveden-Banks (Mrs. Tuttle), the professional military widow, worries over her position in the Infernal social register. Lingley (Richard Coughlin), the "honest British merchant," handles the affair as just another business transaction and tries to take command of the situation. Only Mrs. Midget (Mrs. O'Shaughnessy), an unpretentious cockney charwoman and Scrubby, the "half-way" steward (George Petersen) do not change. After a climactic council of war, the Examiner (Pres Layton) suddenly appears to dispense a highly unconventional brand of justice.

DRAMATICS CLUB

In the Spring Term, the club presented Joseph Kisselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace." Mr. McMahon directed this play which deals with a family by the name of Brewster, living in Brooklyn. The two old aunts (Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Tuttle) are well known for their philanthropic activities in the community. It soon develops however, that the two ladies are engaged in poisoning all old gentlemen who enter the house. The bodies are disposed of by the aunts' nephew, Teddy (Charlie Fels), who is also insane and believes himself to be Theodore Roosevelt. The only sane member of the family is Mortimer (David Brownell) who discovers his aunts' secret. He feels that, because of the inherit insanity of the family, he must break his engagement with Elaine Harper (Mrs. Custer), the daughter of the local minister, Dr. Harper (Phil Wardwell).

At this point, Mortimer and Teddy's other brother (Jacques Vroom) and his side-kick, Dr. Einstien (Frank Baker) come to the house with a body with the intention of continuing their plastic-surgery. Jonathan decides to kill Mortimer, but fails through the unconscious efforts of Officer O'Hara (Goef Hewitt) who wishes to have Mortimer write a play about his experiences in the police force. Eventually the police (George Petersen and Bill Vermilye) realize that Jonathan, who bears a resemblance to Boris Karloff due to Einstien's genius in plastic-surgery, is a wanted murderer of twelve people. The aunts, too, have killed twelve "gentlemen." In the last scene, Mortimer marries Elaine, and the aunts manage to poison Mr. Witherspoon (Ted Mundy) with a glass of home-made wine.

Christian Association

CURRENTLY in its sixty-first year, the 1961 Hill Christian Association was headed by chairman Dick Sylvester. Fred Roberts and Arch Mackenzie served as Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. The rest of the board consisted of Sam Gillespie, Tom Gale, Larry Tice, and John Clarke. Rev. Mark L. Brown was the acting faculty advisor, and Charlie Gibbs was the underform representative.

Included in the activities of H.C.A. are the decoration of the chapel for the Christmas service, a school fund drive, a handbook for new boys, and various clothing drives for the less fortunate children in the Pottstown area. The H.C.A. also grants a student scholarship to New Asia College, and supplies funds for a school in Virginia.

At various weekends each year, a group of members from the H.C.A. travels to the destitute sections of Philadelphia. The boys work on crews composed of teen-agers from other nearby schools and try to improve the living conditions of the people they find there. They are also usually asked to sit in on the day court sessions in Philadelphia to acquaint themselves with the problems of the people that they are helping.

During the summer, the H.C.A. sponsors a summer camp near Scranton. Sixth Formers serve as counselors for boys from the underprivileged areas of Pottstown, Scranton, and Wilkes-Barre.

In the Winter Term eight boys are chosen to go to the religious conference at Buck Hill Falls. This conference takes place during the weekend of February third to February fifth.

DEBATING CLUBS

Debating Clubs

AFTER a starting assist from Mr. Walsh, Mr. Bergquist took over as the new advisor to the Debating Clubs. The new leaders of the clubs were president Jerry Jenkins of the QED and Phil Wardwell of the Wranglers. Their respective vice-presidents were John Stolz and Geof Hewitt.

The season began with a victory for the QED, as Charlie Eldredge and Fred Miller successfully refuted the affirmative of Dave Doerr and Bill Rands on the topic Resolved: that intercollegiate football should be abolished. Three more debates in a row fell to the QED. John Townley and Baron Holmes out-argued Walt Pharr and Randy Howe on the question of the relative solidarity of the ideals of Russia and those of our country. The third debate of the year was between Ralph Angulo and Kent Titus of the Wranglers, who took the affirmative, against Ted Mundy and Alex Sidar of the QED. The QED was victorious here as they were in the next contest, which was on the subject of Federal farm price supports. The Wranglers finally rallied, with their officers Wardwell and Hewitt taking the affirmative on the explosive resolution: History is bunk, to defeat Jenkins and Stolz, the officers of the QED. The score at the present time is four victories for the QED and one for the Wranglers.

Outside debates are planned for this year with several neighboring schools, as well as participation in the Valley Forge Tournament.

CUM LAUDE

Cum Laude Society

THE Cum Laude Society was founded in 1903 by Dr. Abram W. Harris, Headmaster of The Tome School, who saw the need for a secondary school honorary society to recognize superior scholastic achievement. The aims of the Society are to encourage high standards of work and to reward the truly dedicated and competent scholar. Students are admitted to this select group on the basis of high scholastic standing and are awarded the traditional gold key and certificate, symbolic of their membership in the Society.

In 1921 The Hill received its charter of membership, the fifteenth in the nation. The late Alfred G. Rolfe first served as president of The Hill Chapter and was succeeded by Mr. Isaac Thomas. After the death of Mr. Thomas in 1952, Mr. Cowperthwaite, Director of Studies at The Hill, was elected President, the post in which he now serves. Mr. Armstrong is currently serving as Secretary of The Hill Chapter.

At ceremonies on Junior Prize Day, Mr. Cowperthwaite inducted seven members of the Sixth Form into the Cum Laude Society. They received the gold keys and certificates on the basis of their Fourth and Fifth Form work in the following order of election: L. Baird Tipson, Jr., Richard W. Ripple, Jr., William C. Rands, III, Kirtland C. Mead, Lawrence M. Mead, III, George S. Mason, and John R. Clarke. If any other Sixth Formers attain superior scholastic standing during the year, the Chapter officers may elect them into the Society at the Commencement Exercises.

ENGLISH CLUB

English Club

THE English Club consists of a group of Sixth Formers who have shown a superior aptitude in English composition and intellectual interest in literature in general. Under the auspices of Mr. Chancellor, this organization assembles every other Thursday night in Mr. Hall's living room for a two-hour meeting.

At each meeting one of the members delivers a report concerning the life and works of a particular author or poet of his choice. Selected readings from the author's work are usually given in conjunction with the speech to demonstrate the particular point that the student is covering, and after the report, a general discussion takes place in which the other members of the club contribute their interpretations of the author's works. Before adjournment, refreshments are served by the Headmaster.

Mr. Hall spoke on F. Scott Fitzgerald, Steve Schaff on the poet, Dylan Thomas; and Mr. Chancellor spoke on W. B. Yates, Phil Wardell spoke on Gerard Munley Hopkins, Wigginton on Frost, Brownell on Hemingway.

The members for this year were John Avlon, Rick Armentrout, Dave Brownell, Eliot Wigginton, Steve Schaff, Zigi Plater, John Clarke, Tom Godfrey, Jerry Jenkins, Bill Rands, Baird Tipson, and Phil Wardwell.

The English Club was founded in 1915 by the then acting headmaster, Alfred G. Rolfe, who advised the Club for twenty-five years. He was succeeded as advisor by Mr. Chancellor, who was joined by Mr. Hall as co-advisor in 1952.

SIXTH FORM SPEAKING CLUB

Sixth Form Speaking Club

THE members of the Sixth Form Speaking Club had a very active year, engaging in roundtable discussions and listening to visiting speakers. The club, ably led by Chairman John Avlon and Vice-Chairman Tom H. Gale, was composed of Dick Sylvester, John Thring, Walter Schurer, Dave McKown, Geoff Hewitt, Jim Snowden, Phil Wardwell, Jamie Moffatt, Steve Schaff, Bob Whitehead, Andy Rowles, and Pete Harkness. The Club's members were elected by the members of the preceding year, with the exception of Rowles and Harkness, who were elected in the Fall Term of this year. Each new member was required to give a three-minute extemporaneous speech before the old members.

For the first few meetings of the year the members discussed such subjects as the Puerto Rican problem in New York, prejudices, and the reasons for the rise and fall of the Third Reich in Germany. The two exchange students gave speeches on the differences between America and their countries in school and out of it. The club heard, among others, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia and Canon Francis Sayre, Dean of the Washington Cathedral.

The purpose of the Speaking Club is both to promote an interest in public speaking and to develop by open discussion each member's concepts and philosophies. This is done by preserving an informal atmosphere at all meetings.

Mr. Robert W. Herbert, assisted by Mr. Peter M. Webster, directed and moderated the Club during the year.

Science Club

SINCE its beginning, the primary purpose of the Science Club has been to provide for the presentation and discussion of lectures by its members. In accordance with this aim, the main part of the club's program this year was the weekly meetings at which one member presented a paper, either on some topic he had studied, or a report on his own research.

This year, however, under the guidance of Mr. Kenneth Jackman and President Jerry Jenkins, the club attempted to become active in actual scientific studies. The Science Dept. gave the club two unfinished rooms in the basement of the Science Building, and the club's work for this year was centered on modifying and finishing these rooms into laboratories for its members and other students doing individual work in the sciences. Plans were drawn up for equipping the rooms with bench and cabinet space, proper lighting, gas, water, and electricity. The labs may be used for work in almost any field.

Though not as integral a part of the club's program as the lectures by its members, talks by guest speakers are occasionally arranged, and plans were made for one or two field trips. These, however, are decidedly secondary to the club's main purpose.

Membership to the club is by election, and open to qualified students. Although the membership is selective, it is not restricted, and the club encourages all interested boys to apply, for they may attend club functions before acceptance.

CLASSICS CLUB

Classics Club

FOUNDED by Doctor Groten four years ago, the Classics Club has about fifteen members who meet once every two weeks. During Dr. Groten's leave of absence this year, Mr. Anderson advised the Club. In the meetings either a member of the Classics Department or a student gave a talk on a subject that interested him.

At the first meeting of the year Mr. Allen showed slides and directed a discussion of Greek architecture and statuary. Then, Phil Wardwell gave a lecture on the parallels between the land reforms of Fidel Castro and those of Tiberius Gracchus. In the next meeting George Mason gave an interesting talk on certain parallels between Pericles and Quintus Maximus. Mike Glynne then gave a lecture on the Development of Fifth-Century Anthenian Democracy.

The Club's basic purpose is to enable students of the Classics to gain a wider knowledge of and interest in the period they are studying. Aside from lectures by students or faculty, guest lecturers visit the Club from time to time to widen the students' scope of experience.

Under the leadership of President Phil Wardwell, and Vice-President George Mason, the club is considered one of the more worthwhile of the school's smaller organizations. It is hoped that enrollment in the Club will be increased over the next few years. With the gradual heightening of interest in advanced Greek and Latin at the Hill, and the appeal of outside speakers and movies, this should not prove difficult.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE

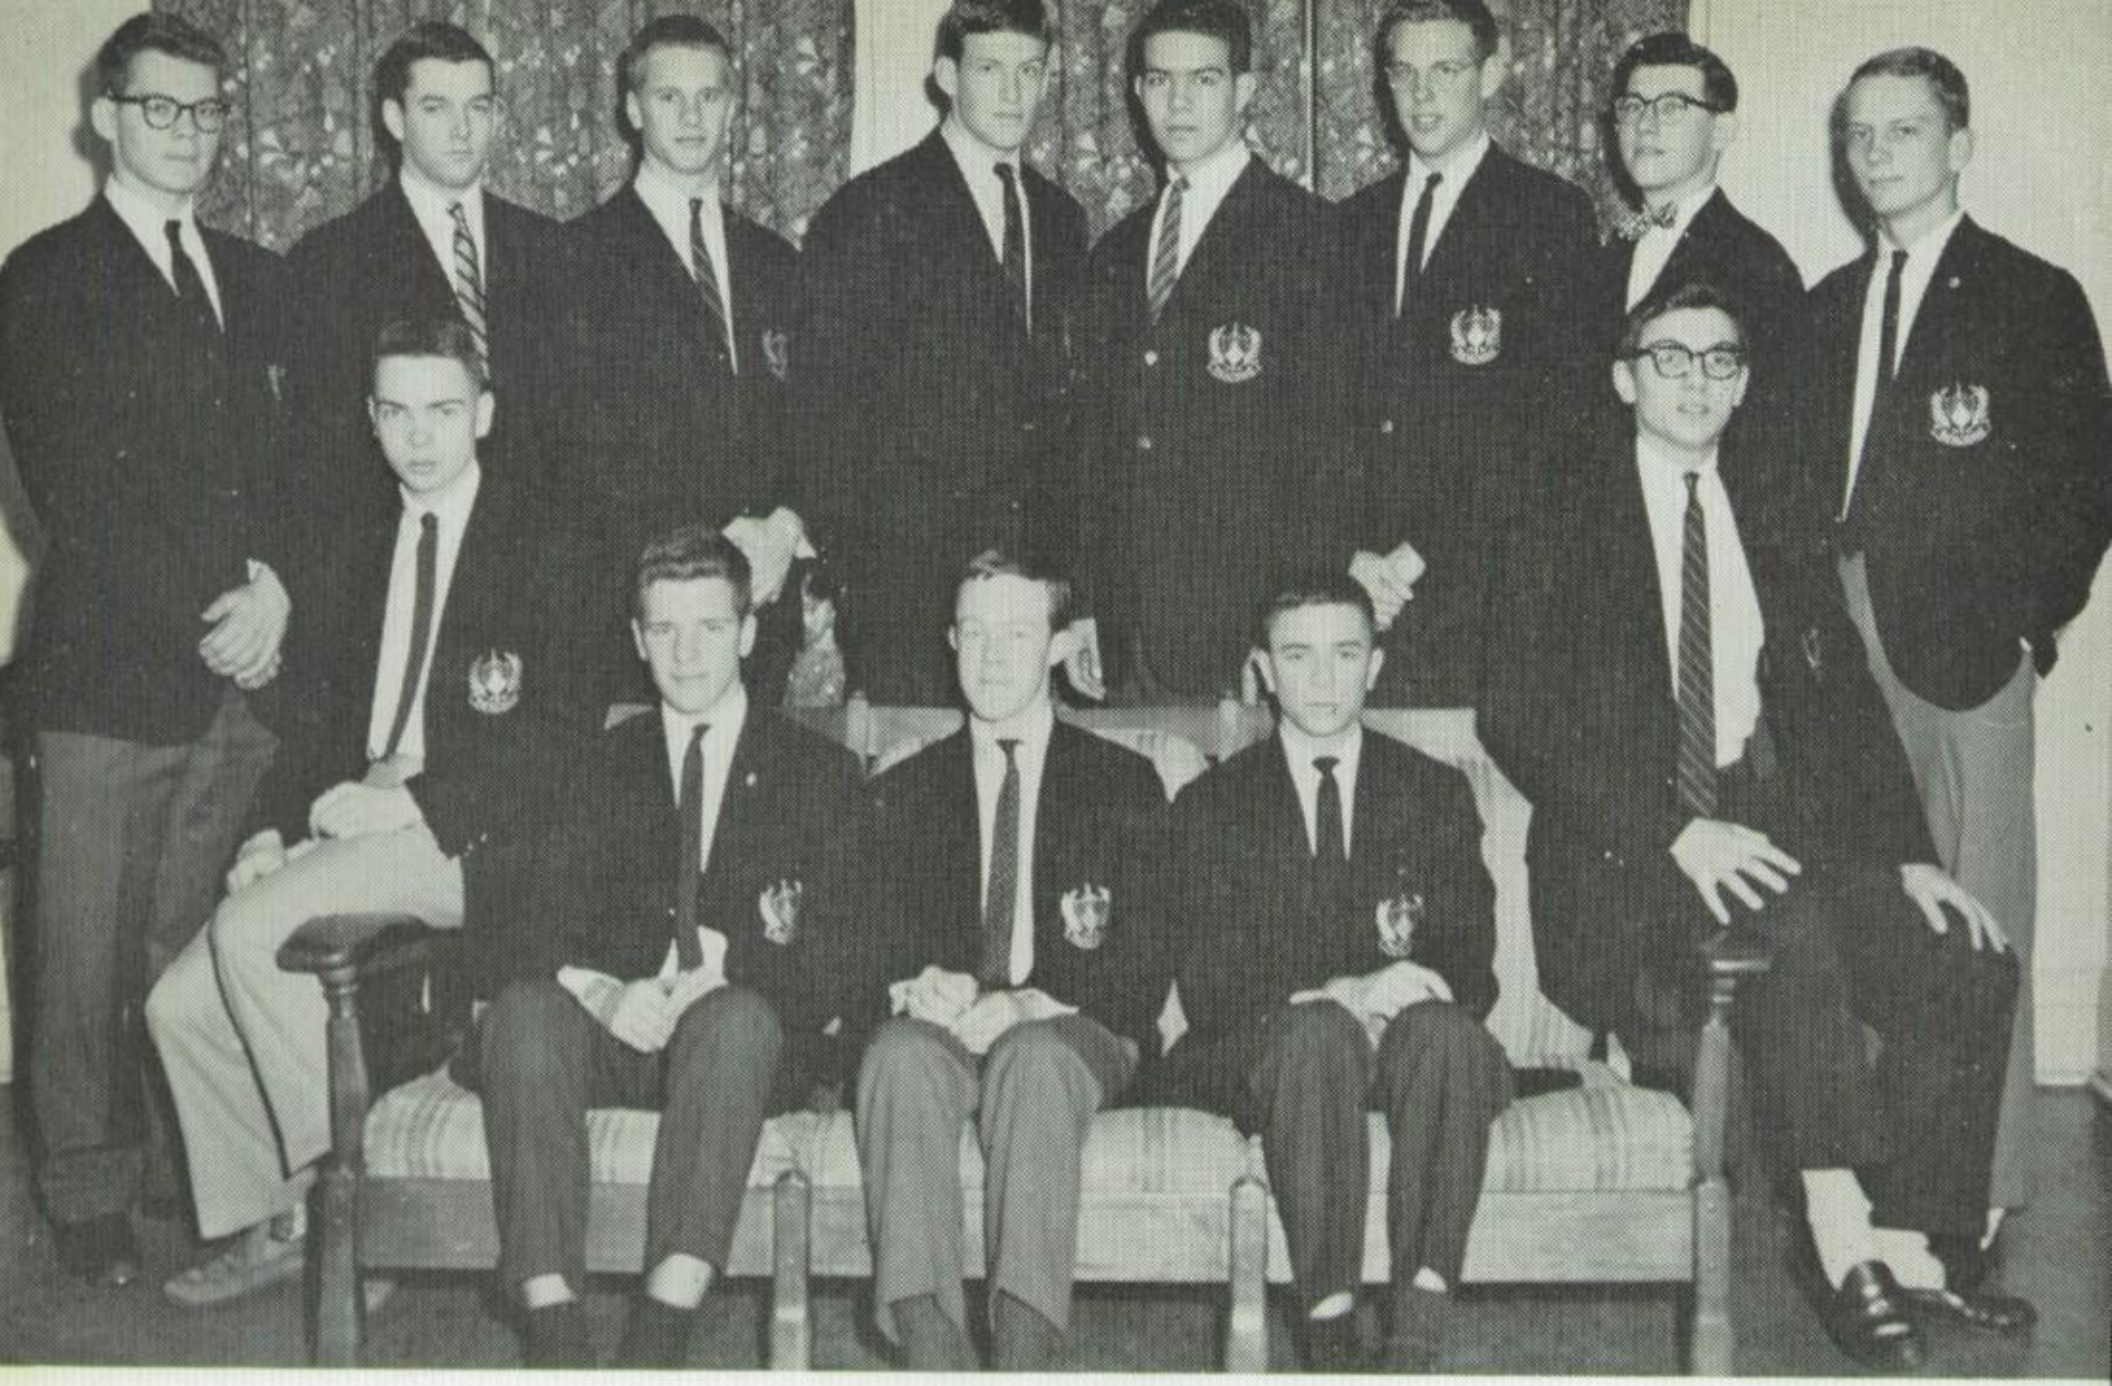
Reception Committee

WITH the great increase in admissions work at The Hill, the Reception Committee had its busiest year during the 1960-61 school session. A slight increase in membership and the full efforts of all the organization's members adequately provided the School's many visitors with help and information this year. The Reception Committee has the duty of receiving and entertaining all guests at The Hill, although its greatest function is to show the numerous applicants and their families the School, in order that the candidates may get as full a picture as possible of the campus and school life from the student's point of view as well as that of the faculty. The tours provide the applicant and his family with an opportunity to ask questions about the School as they see it; and, in turn, they offer the Admissions Committee a fuller picture of the candidates by learning the student's impression of the boy. The Reception Committee also helps to organize and execute such events as Alumni Weekend and the Parents' Conference, as well as other activities which bring guests to The Hill during the school year.

While Mr. Moffatt and Mr. Anderson were the Committee's advisors, the student officers were: Steve Dall as Chairman, Ralph Freidin as the Sixth Form Representative, Frank Orban the Fifth Form Officer and Mike Hazzard the Underform Representative.



CO-OP COMMITTEE

Co-op Committee

THIS year the sixth form Co-op Committee, under the direction of Mr. Jackson and Mr. Senter, devised a new method for operating the Co-op. Since 1948, the Co-op had been operated as a normal store, with Fifth and Sixth Formers serving behind the counter. This system had, however, been long judged ineffective. During the Winter Term of this year, therefore, vending machines were installed. Under the new system the members of the Sixth Form Co-op Committee, who had previously been servers and checkers, acted as change-makers. The committeemen are chosen for their ability in mathematics, and serving on the committee takes the place of their usual work jobs.

The Co-op is located in the basement of Upper School. It is open to every boy in school on Saturday and Sunday evenings and from four to four-thirty each Sunday afternoon. After Thanksgiving Fifth Formers are able to visit it any night of the week from nine to ten o'clock. Sixth Formers can also use the Co-op any evening of the week, and, in addition, during the recess between the third and fourth periods every morning. About seventy students attend the Co-op every time it is open to purchase ice cream, candy, and milk.

The money made from these goods is contributed to a number of organizations, so that the Co-op has always been a non-profit organization. Among the recipients of the money of the Co-op are the Dial and the Pottstown Community Chest. Some of the money is also used for the maintenance of the Sixth Form television room.

NEWS AGENCY

News Agency

THE News Agency plays an important part in the affairs of the school, because it supplies the faculty and students with outside, daily newspapers. It handles two national papers, the New York Times and Herald Tribune, as well as the Philadelphia Inquirer. On Sundays, besides having the three regular papers, it also carries the Philadelphia Bulletin, the Reading Eagle, and the New York Journal American. Every morning, the Agency distributes newspapers to the more than 180 masters and students who are subscribers.

The job of a News Agency member, which takes the place of a work job, is not as easy as most. Every morning before breakfast, one member of the Agency sacrifices some sleep to put the masters' papers in their mailboxes. Then, after breakfast, several members and Mr. Hopkins distribute the students' papers in Donner Hall.

On Sundays, however, the papers are given out from Room W. From there, it is easier to distribute the increased number of papers. An innovation this year, it has proven very successful, for it is quicker and smoother than the previous way of distribution.

The News Agency is beneficial to the school in two ways: first, it makes national papers available; and second, it gives all its profits to the Dial and News to help offset their heavy publishing costs.

Dave Castor, Pete Abbott, Dion Nittis, and Larry Peterson, under Mr. McMahon's direction in the Fall Term, and Mr. Hopkins's in the Winter and Spring Terms, have done a fine job in running the News Agency efficiently.

ARTS AND CRAFTS COMMITTEE

Arts and Crafts Committee

THE Arts and Crafts Committee was established in 1953 to aid the masters in the direction and upkeep of the Arts and Crafts Building. The committee members have enough knowledge of their respective departments to assist the younger boys in building their projects and using the various machines, and take charge of a shop if a master is sick or on leave. They also manage basic work jobs such as stacking wood, maintaining the power tools, and keeping a sufficient supply of necessary articles. Besides these jobs, they build projects on their own, and encourage extra-curricular work by the regular Arts and Crafts groups. Some of the finest examples of the crafts at The Hill have been built by members of the committee. At all times they strive to stir interest in any possible way.

The 1960-61 Arts and Crafts Committee consisted of Rick Ayer, Dave Doerr, Walt Pharr, and John Townley in the Arts Department; Fred Beard, Bill Gibbons, and Tim Patterson in the Wood Shop; and Sam Cottrell and Karl Davis in the Machine Shop.

In perhaps the most outstanding single action in the committee's history, it initiated a series of lecture sessions to stimulate interest in the fine arts. Mr. Morris prepared and gave talks, accompanied by films, on such subjects as architectural taste and elements of style. Any of these discussions could be understood by students with no previous experience in the arts. The committee also organized the annual Alumni Day Arts and Crafts Exhibit, for which all boys were encouraged to display their projects.

Press Club

THE Press Club's function is to cover all school activities at The Hill for the newspapers, both local and hometown. Articles concerning sports results, awarding of varsity letters, boys making the honor roll and special events are sent to newspapers such as the Pottstown Mercury, the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, and the Philadelphia Bulletin. The club also maintains a bulletin board in Donner Hall on which they post many of the articles that appear in the papers.

The club is self-sustaining with its earnings coming from the sale of the Pottstown Mercury and payment for sports articles. This money is utilized for the running of the club and, on occasion, for hall feeds.

Mr. C. A. Brown again served as faculty director. The board for 1961 was James P. Smith, chairman; James Moffatt, secretary-treasurer; Thomas H. Gale, literary editor; Charles Gibbs, sports editor; and W. Corbin Marr, feature editor. Besides the officers, there are several sixth formers and many underformers. It will be left to these underformers to run the club for next year and to continue the excellent record of coverage that this year's board has achieved.

The elections for next year's board take place at the end of the Winter Term, and the new officers assume the duties of the club at the beginning of the Spring Term.

GUN CLUB

Gun Club

THE Gun Club, under President Bill Rands and Faculty Advisor Mr. Vernon Ward, has had one of the most successful years in its history. An increased interest in riflery at The Hill is evident, as the membership grew to include about thirty-five boys. Many activities, both old and new, were available.

The most popular were the trips to Powderbourne Gun Club, made every other weekend. Here, the Club's members had an opportunity to shoot skeet and trap. An innovation this year was the Hunting Weekend, held in the Fall Term at the Weekend Camp, where skeet was shot on an informal basis. For the first time since its founding, the Gun Club entered the National Rifle Association Matches, a series of four matches, one held every month, beginning in November. Approximately 650 teams participate in both divisions: prone, and standing and prone.

The Gun Club is open to its members about twice a week, and during this time, matches are held for positions on the intra-school team. Since the team is composed of the marksmen with the best score over a certain period of time, it is never static. Mr. Ward is trying to get outside competition with Junior Rifle Clubs in the Pottstown area this year. He is assured of such matches for next year, and hopes to establish a team that could compete in outside matches, just as any other athletic team. The Club houses five indoor ranges, and for those members who do not have their own guns, three Winchester 52's and a new Remington 55 are available.

PIPE CLUB

Pipe Club

THE Pipe Club has had another eventful and productive year. The club officers, John Avlon, president; Larry Peterson, vice-president; and John Parlin, secretary-treasurer, carried on the fine work of Akins, Bell, and Harris. With the abolishment of the "beat-in," the initiation fee was raised; and a new system of initiation was instituted which afforded great pleasure for the old members.

The Concession Committee, under Gaines, Harris, Snowden, and Nesbitt, has expanded and now sells not only at the baseball games, but at the hockey and football games as well. The Scholastic Committee, under Ayer and Brownell, has helped to regulate the club's scholastic standing, which has risen steadily throughout the year. During the year the entire upper floor and porch of the club were painted. Other additional improvements have been: a permanent heater for the committee room; a 7-UP machine; a new ping pong table; and a moose head.

This year a new air of good will has formed between the faculty and the Pipe Club. The club held three open houses at which a record number of faculty and their wives attended. The Christmas Banquet and the banquet at the end of the year were also successful. During the Spring Term Dance, refreshments were served for the members and their guests.

Aviation

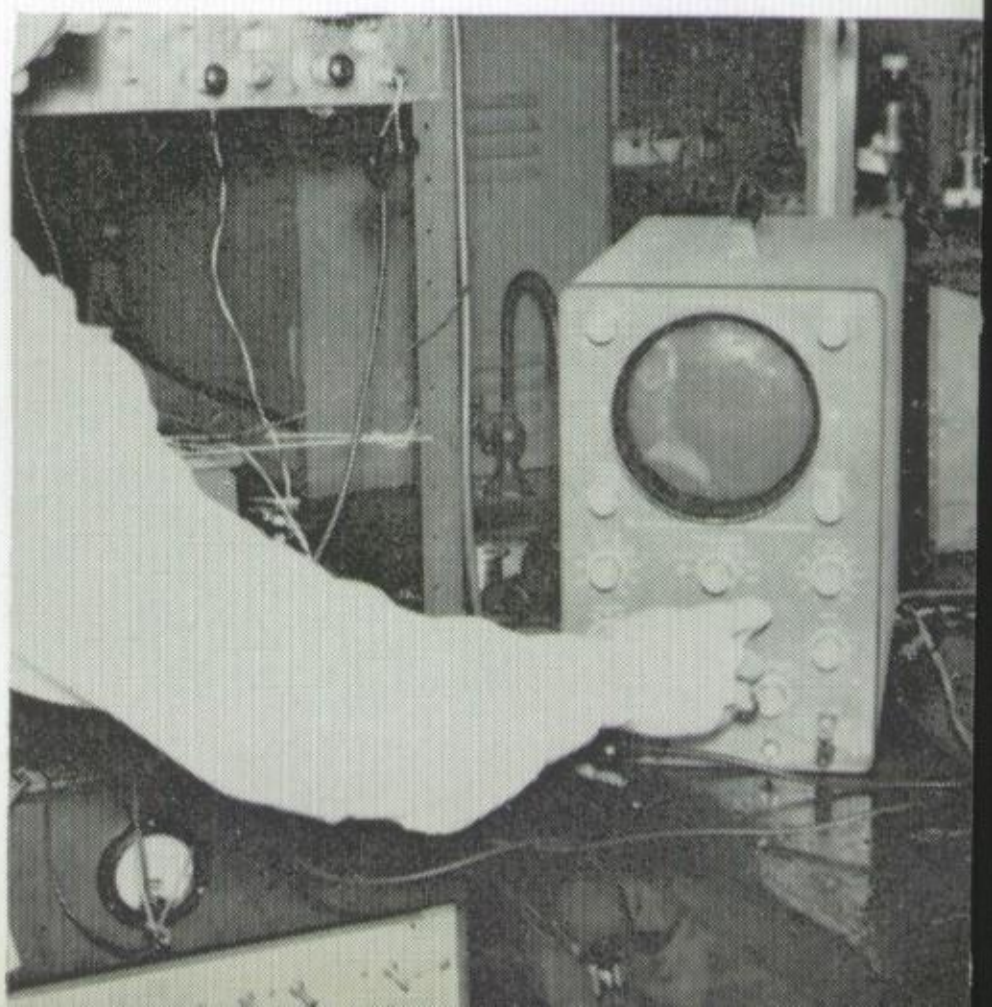
THE Aviation Club, which holds its meetings after the noon meals on Sundays, shows movies and slides in the Little Theatre. Although the Link trainer has been damaged, club members may still use it in the basement of Upper School whenever an officer is present. In addition, the club takes various outside trips to places of interest, such as Willow Grove Air Force Base and the Sikorsky Helicopter plant in West Chester. In the Spring Term, the club gives a steak feed at the Gordon Clement Weekend Camp. Members also have the opportunity to take flying lessons at a reduced rate at the Pottstown Airport from experienced instructors.

The club's small but enthusiastic membership selected the following members as officers: Rick Ayer, president; Bill Cavanagh, vice-president; Dick Howells, secretary; and Jim McIlvain, treasurer. The faculty advisor is Kenneth V. Jackman.

Electronics

THE Electronics Club has had a very productive year. It held its meetings each Sunday after the evening meal in the Colbath Lecture Room. In these meetings lectures were given, both by the club members and outside speakers. An additional room was open to any members who wished to work on projects or experiments. The club maintains a ham radio station, W3MWL, and helps its members get their amateur licenses. Occasional field trips were taken by the club. Among these trips was a visit to the laboratories of the Bell Telephone Company in New Jersey.

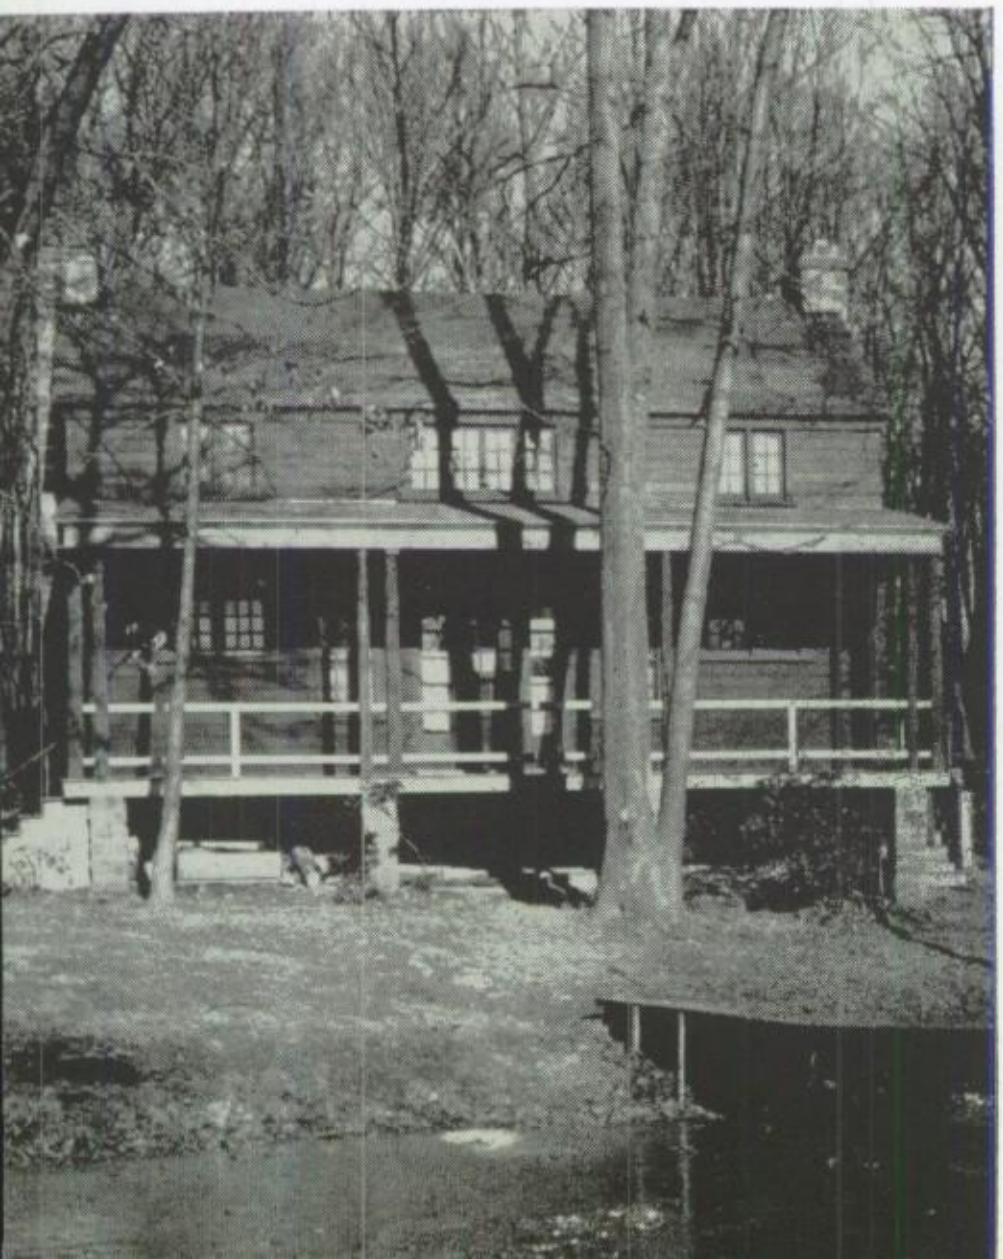
The Electronics Club is supervised by Mr. Clifford E. Little and Mr. Kenneth V. Jackman. The officers for this year were as follows: Karl Davis, president; Andy deLange, vice-president; William Rands, secretary; and Mike Pflaumer, treasurer. The club had a membership of about twenty boys.



Jazz

WITH a continually increasing membership the Jazz Club began this year under the supervision of Mr. Demaree, who was helped by Mr. Dunn, a new master interested in modern music. Meetings were held in the Levis Room every week after Sunday chapel. In their informal gatherings, both traditional and modern jazz recordings, supplied by members, were played and discussed. The "way-out" element of the club, led by Mr. Dunn, was in constant friction with the advocates of pure Dixieland, but neither group won a decisive victory. Even with these conflicts, several outings to concerts in Philadelphia were taken during the Winter and Spring Terms. This gave the real jazz fanatics an opportunity to hear jazz in person.

The club officers were Robin Cooke, president; John Hamilton, vice-president; and Dion Nittis, secretary-treasurer.



Outing

ALMOST every weekend eight or nine students and a master of their own choice ride in the H. C. A. truck to the Gordon Clement Weekend Camp, located eight miles from Pottstown. There, the boys enjoy thirty hours of freedom among one hundred acres of school property. The club members can fish, play cards, swim or skate on a nearby lake, depending on the weather, cook steaks, or study beside a roaring fire. The cabin has such facilities as a gas stove, running water, and electricity. This year for the first time the camp was open to the boys all year.

There are fifty-five members who use the camp. Among the club officers were: Robert McIlvain, president; Strother Randolph, vice-president; Michael Wade, secretary-treasurer; and Richard Beebe, advisor to the board of officers. Mr. Greene is the faculty advisor.

Spanish

A NEW club has emerged from the old Spanish Club with a name that implies its purpose: La Colonia Española. Its main aim this year was to study Latin American problems through background and culture. The enthusiastic support of members from Latin American countries and that of many boys who prepared lectures was basically responsible for this club's success. This year's president was Doug Cameron, aided by Mike Hazzard and Bob McIlvain; Mr. K. Brown was faculty advisor.

The club this year conducted a thorough investigation of the South American Indian civilization, concluded by a visit to a Philadelphia museum. Its members saw several Latin American movies and studied the music of those countries with lectures and demonstrations.

Now that La Colonia has established itself with a more specific purpose and outlook, it will surely provoke greater interest in its activities among the rest of the students.

Sports Car

THE Sports Car Club completed its fifth year of studying the sports car scene at home and abroad. Mr. Whatley again served as the club's advisor. The officers of the organization for the 1960-61 school year were Jim Bollman, Chairman of the club and its Senior Board, while Tim Wilson and Andy Rowles filled the other seats on the Senior Board. The Junior Board consisted of Frank Baker and Jack Vroom. At the club's weekly meetings, the members discussed the various current races as well as the technical and mechanical aspects of the different racing models. Upon the recommendation of Chairman Jim Bollman, the group saw monthly automotive movies and, on occasion, the personal race-movies of Mr. Briggs Cunningham, a frequent lecturer to the club. The practice of having the various members give individual reports was also instituted. As usual, the club's highlight was the New York Auto Show trip.

Scouting

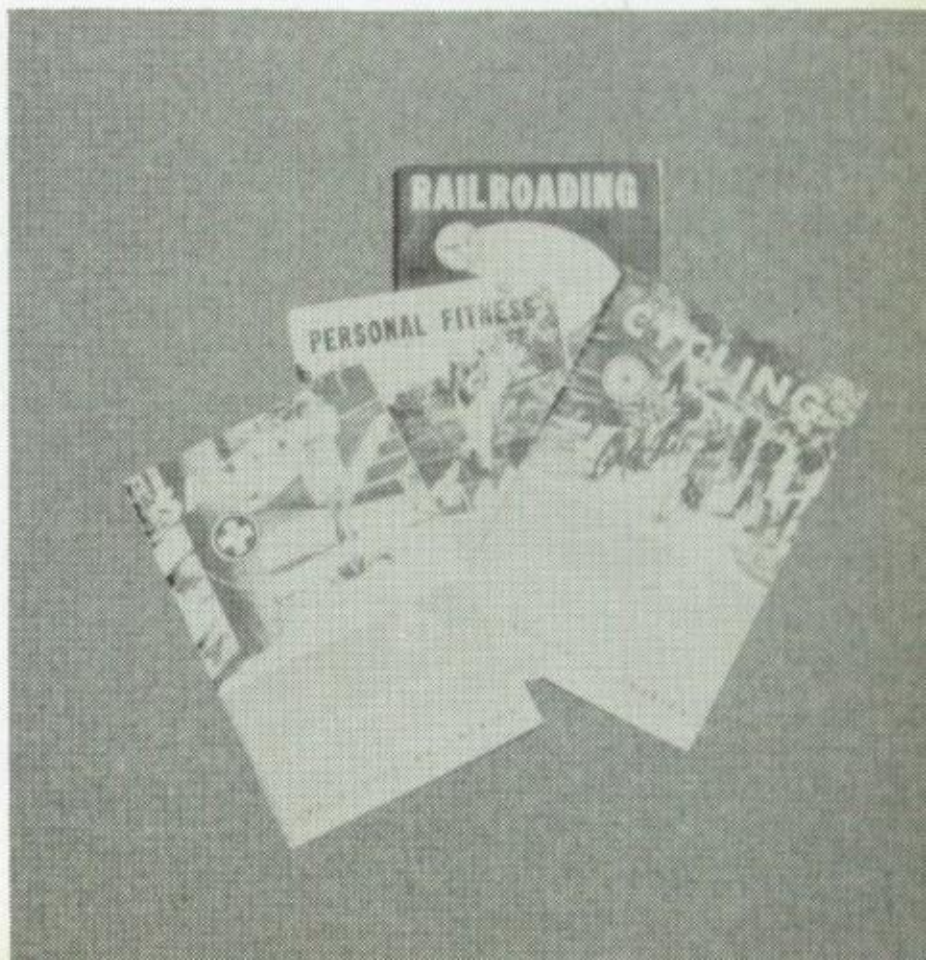
THE Scouting Club, under the direction of Mr. Richard and president John Clarke, and assisted by Phil Wardwell and Phil Miller, is becoming an organization of increased stature at The Hill.

The fifteen members this year, five of whom were Eagle Scouts, showed a desire to work on merit badges and to increase their scouting knowledge. The club was changed from a scouting unit to an explorer unit, accounting for the increased popularity of this club. The dues were one dollar for the Fall and Winter terms and none for the Spring term; the main expedition was an outing to the weekend camp in the Spring term. Also, the club's constitution has proven so efficient that there have been no amendments to it in the last three years.

This club is enjoying rapid growth and shows promise as being one of The Hill's best organized clubs.

Russian

THE Russian Club is the most recent addition to The Hill's extra-curricular list. Under the advisorship of Father Shutack, Russian Master, the club held its bi-weekly Sunday meetings in the Levis Room. Membership in the club was open to any student interested in increasing his knowledge about Russia. Training in the Russian language was, however, not a requirement. The members, along with Father Shutack, commenced a study of various aspects of the Russian civilization for a better understanding and interpret current events involving the Soviet Union. Usually a topic was introduced and developed by a member or Father Shutack, and then an open round-table discussion was held until the curiosity of the members was exhausted. Some of the topics advanced were: Soviet Internal Policies, the Russian Republics, Religion in Russia, and others concerning general current events.



Yacht Club

THE Yacht Club had a really interesting year. Under the able guidance of Mr. Whiteley and officers Greenlee, Wilson, and McKown (assisted by active member Kelly English), this nascent association held a unique number of meetings, in which its members discussed topics, like sailing at Princeton or Penn, so innumerable they cannot be listed herein. Its many members, a record number of which paid their dues, aided the club's provocative debates by their alert participation as well as by their voluntary attendance. Due to lack of sufficient funds, many hoped for projects, including a cruise to Bermuda for the Winter Weekend, had to be abandoned by the enthusiastic organization. As a sample of its versatile, less expensive functions, a picture accompanies this article. In conclusion, this is the only conclusion reached; the popularity of this club is due to the abundance of water to sail in nearby.

WZAP

"WZAP," the school radio station, was very successful in its second year of existence. The officers for 1960-1961 were Matt Hoffman, president; Mike Pflaumer, chief engineer; Jim Mitchell, program manager and secretary; and Karl Davis, treasurer. The faculty advisor was Mr. James H. Gosnell.

Every morning the Station conducts an Early Early Show and, in the afternoons, reproduces the broadcasts of the local stations, WIBG and WIFI. The programs' emphasis is primarily on rock 'n' roll and classical music, with some hits from Broadway shows. In the fall, the station broadcasted its own version of the Nixon-Kennedy debates.

Every weekend the station broadcasts the Classical Hour, the Jazz Show, and Dave Mann's Rocketship Show, on which special requests are played.

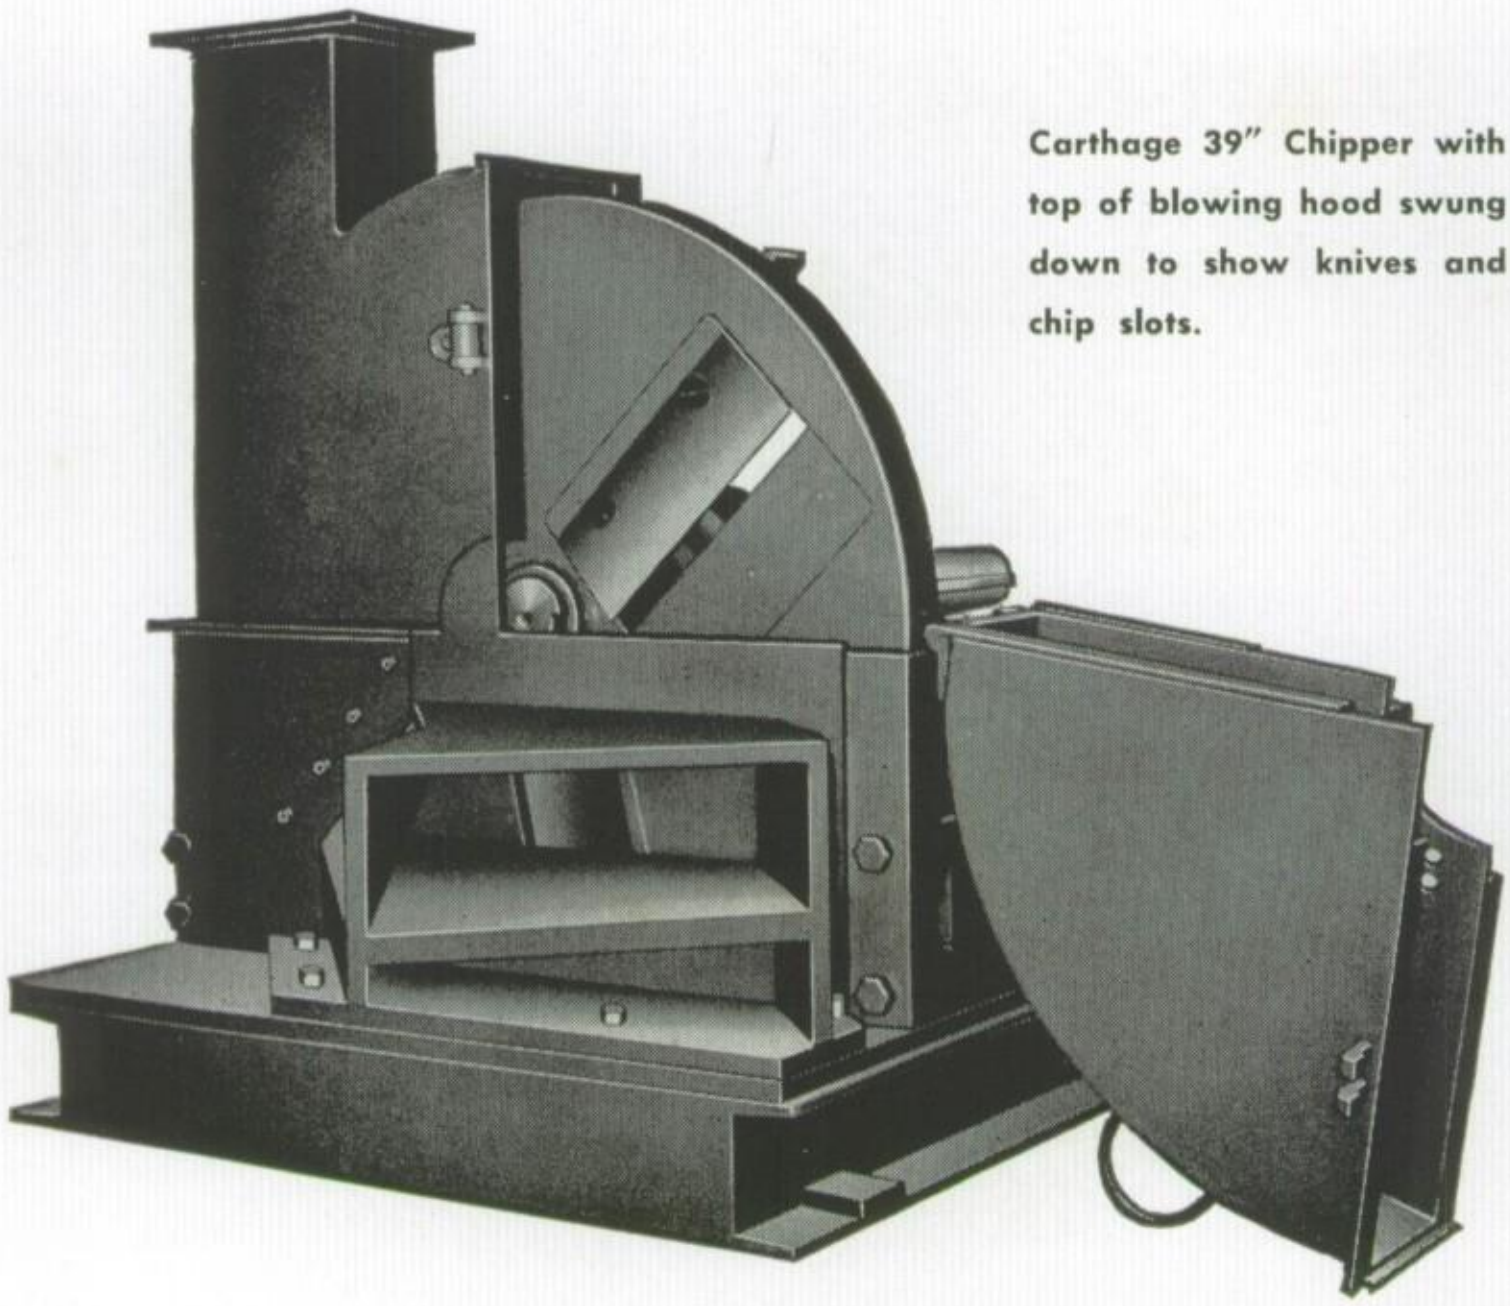
CARTHAGE 39″ CHIPPER

Converts WASTE into PROFIT



Carthage 39″ Chipper with top of blowing hood swung down to show knives and chip slots.

Through intelligent forest management, including utilization of waste wood, our American commercial timber has become a crop rather than a natural resource. In spite of the tremendous demand for lumber and pulp for paper making, our timber is now in perpetual supply.

One of the most important conservation measures is the utilization of wood which was formerly wasted—such as slabs and edgings—as marketable chips for paper making. The Carthage 39″ Chipper illustrated is one of a complete line of chippers which serve this important function.
